Johnson firmly in the driver's seat, charts Kennedy's course

By Chet Di Mauro UPI Staff Writer President Johnson got firmly into the driver's seat and steered dead ahead of the course charted by the late President Kennedy.

Meeting with business, labor and civil rights leaders the lanky Texan plunged right into the fight for civil rights and tax relief legislation. Johnson's determination to do what he felt was right for the nation prodded a sluggish Congress into action.

Castro says his nation set for war

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro said Friday night he is ready for war with Venezuela or any other "lackey" nation in the Western Hemisphere.

Communist Cuba, he boasted, could smash any invasion force in 24 hours. In a two-hour, sabre-rattling speech before 10,000 school girls in Havana, Castro violently attacked Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.

Stung by Betancourt's call for an air and sea blockade of Cuba as well as his warning that Venezuela might take unilateral action against Cuba, Castro said: "Attacking Cuba and blockading Cuba would not be an easy thing because we have the arms to defend ourselves and so it doesn't matter who attacks our country."

Around the world around the clock: CARACAS — U.S. Army Col. James K. Chenault of Sherman, Texas, was released unharmed by pro-Castro terrorists. Chenault had been held eight days incommunicado in a futile attempt by the terrorists to disrupt Venezuelan presidential elections.

Oregon wheat growers back plan for acreage control

PORTLAND (UPI) — The Oregon Wheat Growers League committee on federal programs Friday endorsed a voluntary certificate plan for wheat acreage control.

BUDAPEST (UPI) — The Hungarian government said today that 70 per cent of the young doctors it sent out to country practices two years ago have returned to Budapest. The other 30 per cent come to the capital up to three times a week to visit, it complained.

The freighter was taken under tow Friday night by the Coast Guard cutter Mallow off Willapa Bay on the Pacific Coast about 100 miles southwest of here.

The State Welfare Commission proposal would authorize druggists and others to collect from needy persons and their relatives the difference between the highest fees allowed by the commission and the fees actually paid.

The plan is designed to return to farmers a parity of income for wheat marked for use in food. Farmers would be issued certificates covering their historical share of the market.

The 24-man crew and a harbor pilot from Raymond, Wash., were still aboard the flooded vessel. There were no injuries reported.

Henry Speckmann, executive secretary of the pharmacists' group, called the plan impractical.

The program would be voluntary, and all wheat farmers, whether eligible or not to receive marketing certificates, would be free to produce and compete for secondary use markets, primarily livestock feed.

The C. Trader, bound for Los Angeles from Raymond, began taking on water and lost her power late Friday afternoon. Flooding reached the main deck before she was taken under tow.

"Not only are pharmacists reluctant to collect money from persons already in need, but nobody can tell ahead of time how the state will pro rate the payments," he said.

Elimination of shipping restrictions such as the presidential order stating that 50 per cent of the wheat should be carried in U.S. ships, if available. Endorsement of grain freight rates which went into effect Sept. 30, 1960, but were subsequently canceled by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Johnson also prepared to receive a confidential FBI report on its investigation of President Kennedy's death. The report will be turned over to a blue-ribbon commission created by Johnson to conduct one of the most thorough investigations of all times.

Washington, D.C. The President also conferred the nation's highest peacetime civilian award on 31 men and women from all walks of life. In a dramatic and significant gesture Johnson included the names of President Kennedy and the late Pope John XXIII among the recipients.

Decision to recommend that the variance be allowed came by unanimous vote of the planning committee at a meeting this week.
