

Bears, 'Pokes vie in tourney finale tonight

REBOUND EFFORT — Bend's Jack Ward got position on Madras' Adrian Smith, 34, right, long enough to take a rebound in the first half of action between the two schools last night in the opening contest of the Central Oregon tip-off tournament. Bend swamped the Buffs 72-43. (Note Bull photos).

Rangy Lava Bears take apart scrappy Madras Buffs 72-43

PRINEVILLE — Jack Ward, Doug Williams and Mike Clark combined talents last night to dominate the scoring and pace the Bend High School Lava Bears to a swamping 72-43 rout over the Madras White Buffalos.

Bend thus gained a championship berth in the Central Oregon tip-off tournament finals tonight.

All three Bruins hit in the double figures, as the free-wheeling, taller Lava Bears turned the game into a blitzkrieg in the second half. Coach Chuck Hudson's Bears, though it was the first contest of the 1963-1964 season, appeared to be in mid-season form.

Bend lived up to even beyond some ballyhooed pre-season expectations and in machine-like fashion set down the scrappy Buffs after taking it nip and tuck with them in first period.

Ward, 17

quarter, scoring 20 in the former and 19 in the latter.

Bend's attack turned into a blitzkrieg. Madras, however, had a good third quarter, scoring 17 points against the Bears.

High-powered offensive contest, the night's opening tilt showed partisans on both sides that the Bruins and even the Buffs, who incidentally showed twice the finesse that either Redmond or Prineville did in the nightcap that followed, may give the rest of the conference a bad time before the season is over.

Short Squad

Madras, terribly short on height, plays a polished floor game for this early in the season. The Buffs' shooting eye wasn't on, however, and were they to find it tonight when they go against the Redmond Panthers in the tourney consolation round, they may zip the Cats silly.

Last night's second quarter after Clark's 2-point hooker went something like this. Doug Williams set, aimed and fired a long howitzer which added two more to the Bend meld. Substitute center Clyde Smith then slapped in a tip-in, and Ward followed with a lay-up. Rod Pitcher then banked in a crumple and the Deschutes County boys were out in front 31-10.

Madras was as bad in that stanza as Bend was good. Hudson's rangy defenders kept the Buffs outside and the Madrasmen couldn't hit. Coach Bob Allard's crew had to settle for four points on four gift tosses.

It was a set back from which the Buffs couldn't bounce back. Just after the intermission, however, the Buffs began bombing the hoop and before long had narrowed the count to 15 points at 40-25.

Win Going Away

It was 53-32 at the quarter, and Bend's bench-deep squad kept on the pressure to win going away. Reserves (from both teams for that matter) finished out the contest.

Tonight its Bend vs. Prineville at Bend for the tourney championship. The Crook County

Cowboys (Prineville) out-belted Redmond last night 51-30 for the right to face the Bruins in the finals.

Game time for the Redmond-Madras consolation prelim is 7. Bend battles Prineville 15 minutes following completion of the first contest.

Officials say
Hunter success up over last year...

Special to The Bulletin
PORTLAND — Big game hunters found deer and elk in abundance in most areas of the state and probably wound up the 1963 hunting seasons with as good or better average success than last year, according to the game commission.

Although final figures of hunter success and take will not be available until completion of the annual hunter questionnaire survey, the good results of the 1963 seasons are borne out by data collected by game biologists in all sections of the state as they checked hunters in the field through the seasons.

Complete reports from Central Oregon include those for Hood River, Sherman, Maupin, Grizzly and Wasco. Paul Ebert, District game agent at The Dalles, reports that in the Hood River area hunting pressure was light during most of the season. He pointed out that hunter success was also lighter than normal until toward the end of the season when "good results" were obtained.

Pressure was down in the Sherman unit, reported Ebert, but success of hunters was up. Local hunters working the wheat belt west of the Deschutes had exceptional luck.

In the Maupin unit, hunting pressure was below that of last year, but individual hunter success was the best realized in the past three years.

Ebert reported hunting pressure opening weekend was double that of last year in the Wasco unit and remained high through the season. Success on opening weekend was one per cent less than last year, then averaged about the same as last year through the season. Klamath County success was reported up at least 30 per cent over last year.

PACKER FOUNDER DIES
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Services were being planned today for George W. Calhoun, 73, co-founder of the Green Bay Packers as a sandlot team in 1919. Calhoun died Friday of cancer. He helped found the Packers with E. L. (Curley) Lambeau.

Army, Navy go at it in grid classic today

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Army and Navy tossed their season's football fortunes into Philadelphia Stadium today with the service clash an athletic tribute to their fallen commander-in-chief, John F. Kennedy.

The meeting, on this Pearl Harbor anniversary, was one week behind schedule and cancellation only through the intervention of the Kennedy family which asked that it be played.

And in respect to the memory of the late President, the normal holiday atmosphere, the floats, the barking cannons, the horse play and high jinks of the Middle and Cadet undergraduates, were muted.

Host Army said the pre-game parade of the brigade of midshipmen and the corps of cadets on the field would be marked by an "appropriate observance." Halftime will be devoted to a concert of military music.

And thoughts will be on the smiling hatless man who tossed a silver dollar for the team captains the past two games.

President Kennedy had planned to attend again this year. President Johnson won't be present.

Navy, ranked second nationally and riding on the wizardry of All-America quarterback Roger Staubach, the Heisman Trophy winner, was established an 11-point favorite odds that the corps and the long gray line poob-poohed.

The magician from Cincinnati, Ohio, a junior who wrecked West Point by personally accounting for four touchdowns in last year's rout, carried the midshipmen to eight victories and only one loss this year. The loss was to Southern Methodist.

And the Middies were out to make it five victories in a row over the Cadets, all under the coaching of Wayne Hardin. This would make Hardin the admiral of all of the fleet in all of the seven seas, and a 1,000 batter against the corps. West Point has never beaten him as head coach.

NBA normal:

By United Press International
All was normal in the National Basketball Association today. The Boston Celtics were winning and Wilt Chamberlain was scoring as though it were fashionable again.

Ignited by nine consecutive points by Tom Heinsohn, the Celtics pulled away in the last four minutes Friday for a 112-107 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Chamberlain, although still bothered by a heavy chest cold, dumped in 59 points for best single-game performance by any NBA player so far this season. But Wilt's teammates were able to put together only 44 points among them and the Warriors dropped a 110-103 decision to the Los Angeles Lakers.

In other games, Baltimore rampaged for 15 points in the final three minutes to defeat New York 116-102 and the Detroit Pistons snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 112-108 overtime victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

San Jose dupes Portland, 58-56

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The San Jose State Spartans dominated the University of Portland in the first half Friday night and then survived in a furious rally in the second half to down the Pilots 58-56 in an inter-sectional basketball contest.

The Spartans led by 18 points midway through the second half. But the Pilots, paced by forwards Mickey Toner and Cincy Powell, caught fire and moved to within two points of San Jose with 40 seconds remaining in the game.

At this point, Spartan guard Ron Labelich was fouled and made good on his two free throws to put San Jose State out of reach.

The Pilots got off to a shaky start and were able to take only 18 shots from the field, in the first half, while the Spartans made 3 attempts.

Powell led all scorers with 21 points, 14 of them coming in the second half. Gary Gresham was high for the winners with 15, followed by Harry Edwards with 14 and Al Jansci with 13.
