

Rebellious miners still hold nine foreigners, issue 24 hour ultimatum

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—Rebellious tin miners holding nine foreigners, including four Americans, as hostages for the release of three Communist labor leaders today gave the government 24 hours to submit to their demands "or face the consequences."

The "consequences" appeared to be continued retention of the hostages and the start of a series of nationwide general strikes in the key tin mining industry aimed at bringing down the government.

The government attitude toward the ultimatum was indicated in a flat rejection of the miners' original demands. At the same time, the government sent 3,000 troops into Oruro, 44 miles northwest of Catavi where the hostages were being held.

The government had no immediate comment on an offer by U. S. President Lyndon B. Johnson of "full assistance" to Bolivia in the emergency. President Victor Paz Estenssoro convoked an emergency session of his cabinet and it was believed the offer would be considered at that time.

The foreigners being held as hostages and in their third day of captivity indicated they were unharmed and receiving good treatment and food. They included the four Americans, three Canadians, a West German and a Dutchman.

Although government troops had military control of Oruro, 100 miles from La Paz, militant leftist miners announced plans for an anti-government demonstration there raising the possibility of disorders. Many of the 6,000 miners engaged in the showdown with the government were believed to be armed.

Government rejection of the miners' "swap" demand was made by the attorney general of the republic. He said to accept it would be to surrender authority. He warned the government would do all in its power to release the hostages and punish the culprits.

Bolivian Vice President Juan Lechin, leftist mine union leader, was reported at Catavi with the miners but his role was not clear.

A miners' union communique said to have been signed by Lechin was read over Catavi's "Voice of the Miners" radio station Sunday night. It said the hostages were in good health.

Government troops started moving out of the capital Sunday night in the direction of Catavi, 150 miles south of La Paz in the Western Andes. Defense Ministry sources said the troops would concentrate in Oruro, about 44 miles northwest of Catavi to guard against any attack by the miners.

(In Washington, the White House announced Sunday night that President Johnson had offered full assistance to the Bolivian government at the request of Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro.)

The kidnapped Americans are Thomas M. Martin of New York, N.Y., and Michael A. Kristula of Cadillac, Mich., both U.S. Information Service officers; Bernard Rifkin, New York, N.Y., labor adviser to the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID); and Robert Pergerstrom of Honolulu, a Peace Corps volunteer.

They were seized Friday night along with about 16 other persons, including at least two Europeans and a number of technicians of the Bolivian ministry of mines.

Norblad seeks to block tieup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Walter Norblad, R-Ore., said today he has asked Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz to use all his powers to avert a threatened strike against United Air Lines Dec. 18.

Norblad said the strike would have a particularly strong impact on Oregon and the Northwest because United is the primary airline in the region.

"I sincerely hope that through your efforts if this threatened strike cannot be averted, at the very least it should be postponed until after the holiday season," Norblad said in a letter to Wirtz.

Action delayed by Democrats

Deschutes county Democrats Sunday night delayed action on approval of one of three names submitted by Congressman Al Uhlman's office for the filling of a rural route vacancy at the Bend post office.

The party organization said they wanted to determine exactly how the civil service committee, who conducted the written examination for the post earlier this year, arrived at the three names submitted.

It was pointed out that some of the 37 candidates for the job received a higher rating in the examination than some of those included in the three men selected for consideration by the Democratic committee here.

The party workers thought it would be well to find out what other factors played a part in determining the three names selected by the civil service commission.

Plea is made for open minds

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon Saturday called on labor and management to work together with open minds rather than be torn apart by the "virus of hate."

"We cannot afford this virus of hate whether it's a political extremism of the right or left or in labor-management relations," he said.

The governor spoke to more than 500 building contractors at the weekend convention of the Associated General Contractors. He said the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., was a manifestation of a "heart filled with hate."

Hatfield urged the contractors as representatives of management to deal with labor representatives with an open mind and not as "antagonists."

"There is a receptivity to the free enterprise system in the labor movement if it is presented to them so they can see themselves as a great force in that system," he said, "if we but take the time to make an effort."
