The 4-H knitting group which meets at the home of Mrs. W. C. Edwards elected Karen Gunson as its president Wednesday afternoon. Twelve members who were present also welcomed Junior Leader Dee Morrisett and voted that the club should be called "The Chatty Knitters." Those present were Rita Bass, Jana Brandsma, Karen Gunson, Elizabeth Kammerer, Cheryl and Teresa Maki, Jacques McDermott, Patti McMeen, Janet Miller, Theresa Sesock, Marleen Stinson and Nora Wells. The girls worked on practice squares and pot holders.

Guild women plan annual Yule luncheon

Trinity Episcopal Guild will hold its Christmas potluck luncheon Tuesday, December 17, at 1 p.m. in the parish hall. A program is being arranged, and a baby sitter will be provided. All women of the church are invited.

Mrs. George Blinn is chairman for the event, and additional information may be obtained by calling her at 382-1629. Mrs. Gordon Atkinson is co-chairman. Mrs. Phil Brogan and Mrs. William Wheeler are in charge of table decorations, with Mrs. Louise Snodgrass in charge of the kitchen.

Advent, the beginning of the Christian year, was the program theme at a meeting last week. The Rev. John Bright touched on ancient Advent traditions. In Italy, he said, in the shepherd tradition, it was customary for men to play bagpipes before shrines commemorating Mary. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Eugene White. She reported that United Church Women of Bend had collected 1953 pounds of clothing for Church World Service.

Mishaps blamed on icy roads

Street pavements slickened by pressed ice and snow were attributed as causes of three auto mishaps Wednesday which caused no injuries.

One occurred at the E. Fourth-DeKalb intersection involving cars driven by Elmer Edward McGraw, 455 DeKalb, and Bedrick James Havlina, Box 41, Parrell Road.

Another accident at E. Sixth Street and Clay was reported to police, who found both cars gone when they arrived. According to officers the cars involved were driven by Phillip J. Hansen, 1435 W. Third, and Mrs. Fred Adkins, 1030 Newport.

Robert Wood, 437 Baltimore, told police that a boy on a sled ran into his car Wednesday at W. Tenth Street and Portland Avenue. The youth, unidentified, was not hurt, he said.

CAROLYN SUE GILLAND

Engagement news is announced

Special to The Bulletin
SISTERS — Mr. and Mrs. Burl Gilland announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Sue, to Wendell R. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Estle Cooper. All are Sisters residents.

Both young people are graduates of Sisters High School. The wedding is planned for February 14.

Flashing signal to be erected

Oregon State Highway Department officials have announced that a flashing signal will be erected at the intersection of the through route of U. S. Highway 97 and the business district route, at the north city limits of Bend.

This area has been the scene of a number of accidents in the past year, apparently the result of confusion in use of traffic lanes. One of the worst accidents occurred when a northbound motorist continued on against traffic in the one-way lane, hitting an oncoming car.

Highway officials said the signal will be installed just as soon as weather conditions permit. Also, reflecting markers will be placed in the highway surface, to mark the lanes.

Action was taken by the highway department following the receipt of a petition submitted through Rep. Kessler Cannon. Hending the petition move was Mrs. R. L. Lilienthal, of Glen Vista.

Citation faced by De Angelis

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — Anthony De Angelis, central figure in a multi-million dollar edible oil scandal which has had serious repercussions on Wall Street, has been threatened with a contempt of court citation.

Federal bankruptcy referee William Tally Wednesday ordered De Angelis, president of the bankrupt Allied Crude Vegetable Oil and Refining Corp. of Bayonne, N.J., to appear in court next Wednesday to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt of court for his refusal to answer questions.

Junior college conference opens on Friday

Representatives of Oregon's five community colleges and three vocational and technical schools will be in Bend Friday evening for the opening of the mid-winter conference of the Oregon State Association of Community Colleges.

First get together of the group will be at a Pine Tavern dinner Friday at 6 p.m. Following the dinner, the group will formally open its two-day conference at 8 p.m., in the Bend Senior High School library. Speakers will be Malcolm Bauer, of the editorial staff of The Oregonian; Rep. Ross Morgan from Gresham; Rep. Kessler R. Cannon, Bend, and Sen. Boyd R. Overhulse, Madras. They will discuss the subject, "The Community College Image and its Future Prospects." At the evening session, Ralph McEwen from Blue Mountain College, Pendleton, will serve as master of ceremonies and panel chairman.

Rep. Morgan is to take the place of Rep. Stafford Hansell on the program. Rep. Hansell will be unable to attend the Bend conference.

Grant H. Rinehart, of Treasure Valley College, Ontario, will serve as chairman of the Saturday morning session. A tour of the building site of Central Oregon College is planned.

The concluding session will be held Saturday afternoon, with Eugene Voris, president of Treasure Valley, presiding.

Among participants will be Robert O. Hutton, assistant superintendent of public instruction in charge of community colleges.

Action planned on application

PORTLAND (UPI) — State officials planned to move swiftly today to apply for federal funds for a graduate study center, which was authorized under a bill on which Congress completed action this week.

Sam Mallicoat, director of the State Department of Planning and Development, said his department would prepare a "letter of intent" to send to the U.S. commissioner of education.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., said the letter should be sent soon. Of the $1.2 billion in the higher education help authorized in the bill, about $145 million is intended for graduate centers. However, only $25 million will be available in the first year. The 1963 Oregon legislature passed a bill allowing the state to participate in the graduate center program.

Plans discussed for Pow Wow

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — Plans for the 1964 All Rockhounds Pow Wow to be held in Prineville during the week of the July 4 holiday were discussed at the recent annual conference of the organization in Seattle.

Keen interest was shown by the official rockhound group in plans for the 1964 get-together, according to Ivan Chappell, Prineville Chamber of Commerce manager, who attended the conference. A primary part of the Pow Wow program will be rock-hunting trips among public and private agate beds in the Prineville area.

At the 1963 Pow Wow, also held in Prineville, hundreds of rockhounds from all parts of the western United States assembled in a gigantic temporary encampment at the Crook county fairgrounds just south of the city.
