

No shortage of nickels, dimes reported here

Despite shortages reported elsewhere in the nation and in Portland, there is no shortage of nickels and dimes in Bend, officials at the First National and U.S. National Banks assured Friday.

A Portland bank spokesman said earlier that the local reserve bank, the source of supply for Oregon, was completely out of dimes. It was out of nickels until a shipment arrived Wednesday.

"It's a situation that's new this year. Portland sources say it is the result of an increased number of coin collectors around the country. The Christmas shopping season brought the shortage to light."

"Locally we have no shortage," M. F. Shelton, president of Bend's First National Bank said. "We put them out and keep getting them back...but, of course, we get all the city money from parking meters, etc."

Alan Libby, assistant manager of Bend's U.S. National Bank, said, "we are feeling no shortage at the moment, and we really do not anticipate any."

Libby added, however, that last week the Bend bank ordered silver out of the U.S. National Bank in Portland, and got none. The Portland bank at that time informed Bend that there simply were not any nickels and dimes available.

"This week, however," Libby said, "we re-ordered and got our full amount."

Ski corporation re-elects five

Bend's Bachelor Butte ski corporation re-elected five incumbents to its board of directors in an annual parley of its stockholders Thursday night.

Re-named to the board were Healy, Phil Gould, Dr. Brad Pease, Felix Marcollier and Dennis Marvin. The board will elect its own officers within a week.

Another facility is on tap for Bachelor Butte. Last night saw the group investigating the possibility of a new chair lift. It would be a 1000 capacity lift, and would serve an area starting close to the base of the present T-bar and would terminate some 500 feet west of the top of the poma lift, but at a higher elevation.

Some allied facilities may be necessary. The corporation last night discussed the added parking that the new lift may require. The board will reach a decision on the time of installation by mid-January, a spokesman said today.

Decisions on the new lift, its development and future scheduling also depends on finances and Forest Service approval.

Busy schedule for Russian visitors noted

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (UPI)—A Russian family of four visited a supermarket and kept busy on other sightseeing junkets today on a week-long visit to this Ohio River city.

The Viktor Pozdneeve family from Moscow was here for a "typical American Christmas visit" as an international good-will gesture sponsored by the Portsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Pozdneeve, his wife, Nina, and their children, Anatoli, 17, and Olga, 6, appeared to be enjoying themselves, despite a busy schedule mapped for them during the holiday visit. They arrived here late Thursday night and spent the following day meeting local citizens and attending a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

However, a high school basketball game the family was supposed to attend Friday night was postponed until tonight.

Pozdneeve, who cannot speak English, was presented a key to the city at the luncheon attended by more than 200 chamber members and other guests.

"I hope this will be a key to the hearts of everyone in Portsmouth," the Moscow auto worker replied through an interpreter, Nadia May of Huntington, W. Va. "We are delighted to be in your great country and we felt lucky we were chosen to come here."

Mrs. Pozdneeve, a Moscow English teacher, was the only one of the family able to speak English. However, young Anatoli appeared to be getting past the language barrier with the son of the host, Portsmouth insurance man Jim McKenzie.

Anatoli and Philip McKenzie, 14, pointed with their fingers and managed to convey their ideas. They will attend a basketball game at Philip's school tonight, since the Russian boy is a sports fan.

PRINEVILLE — An unusual busy schedule for the holiday season has been scheduled at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, according to Rev. Jack Grez, rector, beginning with a Holy Communion service December 21, at 10 a.m. in honor of St. Thomas' Day.

On Sunday, December 22, the congregation will meet in the chapel while the children of the Sunday School will gather in the main church for a general pageant rehearsal at 10 o'clock service. The children's Christmas party and service will be held at 4:30 p.m. that day.

On the night before Christmas, the Christmas Eve service will begin with the singing of carols at 10:30, followed by a service of Holy Communion at 11 p.m. On Christmas Day, communion will be served at 10 a.m.

St. Stephen's Day falls on December 26 and will be marked with a Communion service in the Crook County Nursing Home, at 11 a.m. December 27 is St. John the Evangelist Day and Holy Communion service will be at 8 a.m.

A service of baptism will be held for children of the church on December 23, Holy Innocents' Day, at 4 p.m., followed by a confirmation service at 10 a.m. December 29 for which Bishop Lane Barton will be at the church.

Two Christmas services set

Special music, scripture relating to the coming of Christ, and the Christmas message, "Why Did He Come," will highlight the two Christmas Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church on December 22.

In addition to the singing of some of the familiar Christmas carols, the musical highlight of the 9 a.m. service will be the anthem, "Jesus Our Brother, Strong and Good" sung by the children's choir under the direction of Mrs. Lois West.

At 11 a.m., the chancel choir under the direction of Nick Norton, will sing two anthems, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and "Praise Ye the Lord" by Williams. The traditional Christmas instrumental organ solo, "March of the Magi Kings" rendered by Mrs. C. E. Bush, church organist, will be another feature of the 11 o'clock service.

The sermon at both services will be brought by the pastor, the Rev. James P. McGugin. The public is invited to attend.

Morse reports on property assets, income

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., reported to the Senate Friday his 1962 "net" income was $9,585 on a gross of $69,247. His estimated property assets, mostly in farm holdings, totaled between $389,000 and $438,000.

Morse made public his own income and assets in a Senate speech urging action on legislation to require such public disclosure by top federal officials and national political committee officers. He emphasized he has been introducing such measures since 1946.

After 17 years, he told the Senate, public and press alike would have no interest in the conflict of interest problem "were it not for the headline-making activities of one former Senate employee"—ex-Democratic Secretary Robert G. (Bobby) Baker.

"I am not interested in making a scapegoat of one man, of seeing him pilloried with the idea that all the conflicts of interest within the Congress will be forgotten when his case is finished," said Morse. The current Rules Committee inquiry into the Baker "outside interest" case must "not be the end of the matter," he said.

Detailing his own financial picture, Morse reported that in addition to his Senate salary of $22,500, he received in 1962 a total of $10,364.01 in lecture fees, $5,000 for his service as "impartial chairman" of the National Electrical Benefit fund of the National Employees Benefit Board, and $27,512.61 in gross farm income.

He said he also received $432 in interest and $3,439.28 in "other" amounts for official travel, office and communication allowances.

From his $69,247.00 of income he deducted $59,662.28 in expenses for farm operation, depreciation, Senate cost-of-living allowance, official travel, personally-paid office items and federal income tax withholding payment, for a net of $9,585.62.

He pointed out that he also has such "incorporeal" assets as his wife and family, and the trust of Oregonians who have elected him four times to the Senate.

The most valuable property asset listed was his 29-acre farm on the edge of Eugene, Ore., on which he estimated the market value at $200,000 to $250,000.

He said his investment in this farm, owned for 40 years, is between $60,000 and $70,000, and that its substantial increase in value results from its proximity to the growing city of Eugene, which now has "grown around three sides of the farm."

The Morse family's second farm at Poolesville, Md., outside Washington, has an estimated market value of about $75,000, he said. In this 74-acre property he said he has a total investment of about $50,000, not including taxes since 1957.

Morse listed these other assets:

- Mortgages held on farm property, $17,500; stocks and bonds, $50 (stock interest in the Portland Reporter newspaper at Portland); bank savings, $10,000 in the Riggs National Bank, Washington; accounts receivable, $5,700; livestock, $40,000; four horses, $800; two ponies, $200; eight sheep, $200; four hogs, $100; 100 chickens, $150; farm equipment, $15,000 to $20,000; two cars, $1,590; insurance cash value, $7500; government insurance value, $5,000.

Couple at home after honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ivan Williams are at home in Bend, after a wedding trip to Crescent City, Calif., and up the coast. They were married recently in Bend at the Church of the Nazarene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Earl Selby, Madras. A graduate of Sweet Home Union High School, she attended Central Oregon College and is a licensed practical nurse.

Williams is an announcer at radio station KGRL. He attended Northwest schools and was graduated from high school in Junction City. His parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Oran Williams, Junction City.

The bridegroom's father and the Rev. E. D. Wardlaw performed the ceremony, in which the couple exchanged rings. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Barbara Jean Selby was maid of honor, and Eileen Selby and Mrs. Alonzo Anderson were bridesmaids.

Alonzo Anderson was best man, and Roy Williams and Ron Malm were groomsmen. Robert Selby and Kenneth Selby acted as ushers.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the First Baptist Church.

Church to offer yule program

A Christmas program will be presented at the Bend Alliance Church, 530 Lava Road, Sunday, December 22, at 7:30 p.m. A program by the Sunday School and young people will be followed by the distribution of treats. All who are interested are invited.

The primary beginners' and junior departments will be featured in recitations, and the junior choir will present special music.

The youth department will present a play, "Let Us Adore Him." This is a story of the more familiar Christmas carols, with appropriate music.

Only action by Bend firemen — other than putting out occasional "spot fires" in the Allen School rubble — was a rural alarm at 3 p.m. Friday to a railroad crossing off Reed Market Road. They hosed down a pile of old railroad ties which had been left burning. There was no damage.
