

OSU in NCAA semi-finals, top '63 Oregon story

PORTLAND (UPI) — Oregon State's advance to the semi-finals of the NCAA basketball playoffs was the state's top sports story in 1963, according to a poll of sports editors.

The Beaver bid, which fell short when Slais Gill's men were trounced twice, won by nearly a two to one margin over the runner-up story—Portland's bid for the Olympics and the proposed Delta Park complex.

Other balloting was close among a wide variety of stories with more than 30 getting votes.

Here's how the sports editors saw the top 10:

1. OSU reaches NCAA semi-finals.
2. Portland's Olympic bid and proposed Delta Park development.
3. Lewis and Clark's unbeaten football season.
4. Honors given Vern Burke, Oregon State end.
5. Steve Pauly of Oregon State wins NCAA decathlon.
6. Injuries to Mel Renfro and Bob Berry and Oregon's upset by San Jose State.
7. Oregon lands future major sports events.
8. Peter Ward's fine rookie year with the Chicago White Sox.
9. Oregon prep wrestlers tour Japan.
10. Terry Baker.

Counts Led Beavers

Mel Counts and Baker led Oregon State to a fine basketball season but the Beavers were no match for Cincinnati in the first game of the NCAA semifinals at Louisville, Ky. At year's end, another fine OSU team, led by Counts, was making itself heard among national powers.

Portland lost out to Detroit as the U.S. choice for the 1968 host Olympic city, but that city in turn lost the bid to Mexico City.

Portland now is pointing toward 1972 when it hopes facilities will be available in the Delta Park area of north Portland.

Lewis and Clark went unbeaten in eight football games and attracted more attention when it was passed over by the NAIA for a playoff berth.

Vern Burke made the UPI all-America football team as well as several others and was also given the Pop Warner trophy as the most valuable senior football player on the West Coast and the Volt award as the outstanding player on the coast.

Steve Pauly, who also was a key member of that Oregon State basketball team, won the national decathlon at Corvallis.

The great C. K. Yang of Nationalist China and UCLA did not compete.

Oregon was upset 13-7 by San Jose with Renfro and Berry riding the bench from injuries suffered in the great game with Washington a week before. The Ducks came back from that to win three straight and get a Sun Bowl bid. The bowl bid ranked just out of the top 10.

Events Coming

The state came in for more national attention when Eugene was picked for the 1964 NCAA track and field meet and Portland for the 1965 NCAA basketball championships. Portland also got the 1964 NCAA Western Indoor track championships and the 1965 Women's International Bowling Congress tournament and convention. The 1964 Western Regional hoop playoffs went to Corvallis.

Peter Ward, a onetime Lewis and Clark athlete, finished as runnerup for the outstanding rookie of the year in the American League as he held down third base and hit .295 for the White Sox.

A high school group of wrestlers toured Japan during the summer and scored a flock of victories giving more prestige to the state.

Baker signed a fat pro contract with the Los Angeles Rams after the basketball season, then rode the bench nearly all year. But he led the Rams to an exhibition victory in Portland...and won the Hayward award as the state's top athlete of the previous year.

Among the other stories which got prominent mention were: Oregon's Sun Bowl bid; Oregon and OSU near Big Six (Eight) membership; Jean Saubert's skiing successes; Portland Hockey team loses in Patrick Cup playoffs; Lewis and Clark's basketball record; Tom DeSylvia quits as Portland State football coach; Dr. Arthur Flemming, president of University of Oregon, comes out for home football games in Eugene; Roseburg's Legion Baseball success; North Eugene's prep basketball title; North Salem and Grant tieing for the A-1 prep football crown; Oregon's defeat in the NCAA track and field meet and George Knudson's victory in the Portland Open golf tournament.

A LOOK AT SPORTS

Beattie notes team's progress

by Web Ruble
Bulletin Sports Editor

From across the stormy Atlantic comes word concerning the controversial fortunes of Coach Bob Beattie's United States Alpine Olympic ski team.

In a "coach's report," Beattie paints a not-too-bad picture in spite of the setback the Americans took in the Olympic race seedings.

Concerning this Beattie from Val d'Isere, France, said:

"Much has been said about our points since they regulate our seeding position in the pre-Olympic races as well as during the Olympics themselves. Racers are put in groups of 15 and it is generally agreed that you have as many chances to win as you have racers in the first group. The problem we have with our points which are compiled on the basis of last season's results comes from the penalty points attached to our American racers.

for several days with the flu and Joan Hannah did not ski last weekend because of an infected toe.

PREP SKIERS READY

On the local ski scene, Bend Athletic Director Dick Geser pointed out today that the local prep skiers are organized as a ski club, not as a full member of the athletic program. The club, "SkiBenders," is under the co-advisory of Forbes Rogers and John Barton.

It was agreed at a recent meeting of ski mentors that teams would be composed of five members each. Schools may have more than one team, but only one may be of less than five members. Teams may be co-educational. A team's scoring will be based on the top three finishers of the five-member squad.

Geser and Barton explained today that two of the ski meets that the "SkiBenders" shall participate in this winter are scored on the assumption that teams will be co-educational. However, individual results (according to sex, age, etc.) will be kept in addition.

One of the meets, the Catlin Gable of Portland invitational, is not a co-educational affair. Scores here are according to a girls' squad and a boys' team.

Penalty Points

"Most of the European races did not receive penalty points and ones attached to ours are so severe that our people have no chance to be seeded even to the level they established during the 1962 season here in Europe. An example is that Werner is ranked 21st in slalom on the current list and last year we had three people seeded better than that.

Champion Liston was credited with participating in the "round of the year"—that 2:10 of the first round in which he knocked out ex-champion Patterson at Las Vegas, Nev., July 22. It proved that Sonny's title-winning first-round kayo over Patterson in 1962 was no fluke.

Denver goalie leads in stats

By United Press International
Denver's goalkeeper Al Miller chalked up two shutouts in four tries last week so that he today dominated official Western Hockey League statistics.

Miller now boasts a 2.41 average or more than a half goal per game better than Jim McLeod of Los Angeles who holds second place with a 3.00 mark.

Seattle Totem defenseman Larry Zeidel managed to pick up seven minor penalties, one major penalty and one five-minute match penalty and has now spent a league-leading 113 penalty minutes in 31 games.

Seattle's Guyle Fielder continues to top the scoring statistics with 52 points, based on 11 goals and a league-leading 41 assists.

Phil Maloney of Vancouver and Lou Jankowski of Denver are second with 45 each and Jankowski's 21 goals are tops in that department.

All teams were idle Monday night and also get Christmas Eve off.

L&C's Boggs gets NAIA honor

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Senior offensive guard Gary Boggs of Lewis and Clark College in Portland was named today to the NAIA All-America football team.

Guard Pete Dengenis of Linfield made the defense team.

Ring magazine likes Gaseous over big Liston

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unbeaten Cassius Marcellus Clay, boxing's golden gasser, defeated heavyweight champion Sonny Liston in their first head-to-head contest—for the Ring Magazine's title "fighter of the year" that publication announced today.

Despite Liston's remarkable repeat first-round knockout over ex-champion Floyd Patterson, Liston finished second to young Clay in the ring-staff's voting because of the lively lift that Cassius gave the fight game as he larrupped and laughed his way to the challenger's role.

Clay also was credited with participating in the "fight of the year" because of his victory over Doug Jones on March 13 before a turnaway crowd of 18,732 at Madison Square Garden as he "drove Doug out of his path to a heavyweight championship shot" in their thrilling and controversial bout.

Despite those accolades for the "Louisville Lip," the magazine admitted frankly "Clay is not considered likely to win the championship from Liston at Miami Beach on Feb. 25."

In Clay's other two fights this year, he stopped Charlie Powell (3) at Pittsburgh on Jan. 24 and climbed off the canvas on June 18 to knock out England's Henry Cooper (5).

Counts gets 48 as OSU, Rams get FWC wins

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon State has never lost a Far West Classic basketball game, and as long as Mel Counts is available the Beavers appear safe.

Counts scored 48 points Thursday night as he personally demolished Louisiana State 87-57 in a first-round game. It put the Beavers into the semifinals of this eight-team tournament Saturday night against Colorado State, which beat Iowa 61-56 in the first game Thursday night.

More action is scheduled in the opening round tonight with Seattle University playing Brigham Young and Oregon taking on Washington State.

and the all-time Beaver mark of 47 chalked by Nollie Reed back in 1907.

Colorado State had the night's first game in hand most of the way, but it almost got away in the closing five minutes. The Rams rolled to a 44-31 halftime lead, but Iowa closed the margin to 55-50 with three minutes to play.

Only two layins by Gary Anderson kept Colorado State out of trouble. Sonny Bustion led the Rams with 23 points and Anderson had 15. Dave Roach scored 16 and Jimmie Rodgers 15 for Iowa.

Oregon State, ranked seventh in the nation, has won 19 straight Far West Classic games and has taken every title since the tournament was started in 1956.

Counts, a seven-foot senior center, wiped out tournament, modern school, and all-time Oregon State scoring records with his outburst.

For the first 25 minutes, the only other players who scored for the Beavers were Jim Jarvis and Frank Peters, who finished with 13 and 17 points respectively.

The big boy from Coos Bay, Ore., hit 15 of 26 field goal attempts and 18 of 23 from the foul line and grabbed 21 rebounds. His 48 points broke the Classic record of 36 set by Dave Gunther of Iowa in 1958, as well as his own modern Oregon State record of 42 set last weekend against Indiana

Tropical fish plants on sked

PORTLAND—Something new in fish production is about to unfold for the first time on the Oregon scene, which should make the proverbial cane pole angler smile with delight.

This will be the initial step by the game commission to produce warm-water game fish in artificial rearing impoundments.

If all goes well, lakes, ponds and waterways suitable for bass, crappie, catfish and other species may soon be receiving plants of these fine game fish.

Completed in November was a series of rearing ponds, which will go into production early after the first of the year. Production of spiny ray game fish is expected to be well underway by summer.

Big names of track world get initial indoor winter test...

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The big names of track and field get their initial test of the winter indoor season tonight when they toe the mark in the Examiner Holiday Invitational Meet at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

At least 30 of the competitors are expected to make the U.S. Olympic team next summer for the games in Japan.

The top entries include:

440 — Ulls Williams, Arizona State; Adolph Plummer, New Mexico.

800 — Jim Dupree, Southern Illinois; Jim McGrath, Wisconsin; Sig Ohlman, Emerald Empire Athletic Association; Willie Atterberry, unattached.

1 mile — Keith Forman, Oregon; Ernie Culliffe, USAF.

1 mile Steeplechase — George Young, formerly of Arizona; Jeff Fishback, Santa Clara Valley Youth Village; Hylke van der Wal, Canada; Chris Miller, Lewis & Clark.

Two mile — Bruce Kidd, Canada; Charley Clark, Southern California Striders.

60-yard hurdles — Blaine Lindgren, formerly of Utah; Hayes Jones, Detroit; Ralph Boston, Tennessee.

High Jump — John Thomas, Boston; Joe Faust, ex-USC.

Pole Vault — C. K. Yang, UCLA; Ron Morris, Striders; John Rose, Arizona State; Don

SMU returns to grid practice

DALLAS (UPI)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs returned to practice Thursday after a short Christmas holiday minus six members of the team who were held up because of traffic difficulties.

The team worked out for 47 minutes in sweat clothes, practicing fundamentals for their encounter with Oregon in the Sun Bowl, Dec. 31.

Ducks arrive at El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Oregon's football team arrived here by plane Thursday to finish off drills for next Tuesday's Sun Bowl football game against Southern Methodist.

Coach Len Casanova sent his Webfoots through a workout in the new Sun Bowl stadium after arrival.

A crowd of about 1,000 persons was on hand to greet the Webfoots.
