WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater meets with Arizona Republican leaders at his Phoenix home Friday to announce whether he will seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

The Arizona senator, who celebrates his 55th birthday Wednesday, will make known to his state's GOP chiefs whether he will run for the Republican presidential nomination or drop out of the race and seek re-election to the Senate in 1964.

Goldwater was a strong front-runner for the Republican nomination in the public opinion polls before President Kennedy's assassination, but since that time has slipped somewhat. Whether the slippage was enough to discourage him remained to be seen.

Resting At Home

The senator has been recuperating at his home from minor surgery for a bone spur on his right heel. Along with other Republicans, Goldwater had observed a moratorium on politics during the 30-day period of national mourning for Kennedy. That period ended a week ago Sunday.

Goldwater signaled his plan to make known his presidential answer in a telegram to a "representative group of friends and supporters throughout the country."

As of now, the only announced GOP presidential hopeful is New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Despite intensive drum-beating on his behalf by various "draft Goldwater" volunteer groups, the senator has played his politics like his principles—conservatively. He has refused to commit himself one way or the other on a presidential bid.

Announce Intention

The most he would promise supporters was that he would announce his intentions early in January.

Some observers believe Goldwater tipped off his presidential hopes when he attacked President Johnson last week for the Chief Executive's insistence on congressional foreign aid bill action this year. They theorized that this meant he had decided Johnson would not be too formidable an opponent in '64.

Others took an opposite view, citing Johnson's Southern and Western background. Goldwater adherents had pushed their man as the candidate who could pry the not-so-solid South from the Democratic column, but Kennedy's death changed all this, they said.

Scranton won't withdraw name

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Gov. William W. Scranton will not withdraw if his name is placed on the ballot in next May's Oregon Republican presidential primary, his office said Monday.

Jack Conmy, news secretary to the vacationing governor, said Scranton would not file a disclaimer which would not only take him out of the primary but could take him out of the entire presidential picture.

Under Oregon law, the secretary of state can place on the primary ballot names of those who have been "generally advocated" in news media.

Scranton has denied any presidential aspirations but has said he is open to an "honest and sincere draft." He also has expressed a willingness to be the "favorite son" of Pennsylvania's 74-vote convention bloc if the delegation so desires.

On Sunday, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced he would enter the Oregon primary and William Walsh, Coos Bay, president of the State Board of Higher Education, was named as his campaign chairman for the state.

Pullman car goes off track

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — One Pullman car of the Santa Fe Chief passenger train derailed Monday night, injuring five persons slightly.

The sleek No. 19 of the Santa Fe line was just starting to slow for a scheduled stop here when the tenth car left the tracks. It did not overturn.

Reviewer offers his choices of top shows for past year

By Rick Du Brow
UPI Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — As everyone knows, today is the absolute deadline for year-end roundups, and no one is going to deny us the privilege of year-end roundups.

Once again, we offer our choices of the "best 11" regularly scheduled network series, old or new, shown in or around prime time. As in the past, the reason our selections total 11 is that we think it is a swell number, no less reasonable than 10. And, as in the past, no one asked for this list either.

Here, then, for the first time since last Feb. 19, which was Chinese New Year's, are the "best 11" shows, in no special order:

— "CBS Reports." A file mignon amidst hamburgers.

— "The Twentieth Century." It has no acquaintance with incompetence.

— "Danny Kaye Show." Whether excellent or merely good from week to week, and even on an off night, the man is thoroughly organized, knows what he is doing, and does it with taste.

— "Espionage." Consistently fine series, filmed in Europe, with impeccable acting down to the most minute roles.

— "East Side-West Side." The star, George C. Scott, is an immense actor, and the stories, even when missing dead center, are gritty, immediate and often purposeful.

— "Jack Paar Show." As ever when he is not engaged in some silly feud, he is television's most provocative showman.

— "The Defenders." Produced by Herbert Brodtkin, who also turns out "Espionage," this joins "East Side-West Side" as one of the two guttiest drama series on the networks. Always mature.

— "Chronicle." This mixture of documentary and drama about the human condition, taking almost anything as its subject, has not reached its potential at all times, but it has the excitement of unknowing expectation and a purity of purpose.

— "Richard Boone Anthology." Good repertory dramas once a week are a virtual impossibility but sometimes this company succeeds admirably, and always it tries honestly.

— "Hootenanny." The college students in the audiences are as intriguing as the performers, and add great vivacity.

— "Jack Benny Show." He is just funny, that's all.

— "The Channel Swim: Friends of the late President Kennedy discuss him on "ABC News Reports" when the weekly program moves to a new day this Thursday. . . . Those on hand include historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr., and author-reporter Theodore H. White.

The Twentieth Century, normally a half-hour show, expands to 60 minutes Feb. 9 for a special profile of songwriter Harold Arlen, whose accomplishments include "Over the Rainbow," "That Old Black Magic" and "Stormy Weather" . . .

Among those seen are George and Ira Gershwin, Lena Horne, Judy Garland, Al Jolson, Irving Berlin, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley and Eddie Cantor.

WING IS INSTALLED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A wing of 18 Titan II intercontinental missiles has been installed at Little Rock, Ark., to bring the nation's total of operational ICBM's to 534.

The Pentagon said the Little Rock installation completed the Atlas and Titan programs, but an additional 650 Minutemen ICBM's are still scheduled for deployment.

The U.S. ICBM force, installed and ready to fire, includes 126 Atlas, 54 Titan I, 54 Titan II and 300 Minutemen missiles.

Demonstrators force closure of restaurants

ATLANTA (UPI) — Anti-segregation demonstrators, led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory, forced the closure of at least five Dobbs House restaurants Monday during a daylong sit-in campaign.

No one was arrested during the demonstrations by Gregory, of Chicago, and about 35 Negro and white persons.

John Furrow, manager of one of the restaurants, said he had orders from the firm's Memphis headquarters not to press charges against the demonstrators.

The campaign was directed at Toddle House and Dobbs House lunch counters, both of which are owned by the Dobbs firm. The group also forced temporary closure of the Tiki Bar and Polynesian Restaurant, which is operated by the Dobbs firm.

Julian Bond, a spokesman for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) which is directing the campaign, said a bus carrying volunteer demonstrators and Mrs. Gloria Richardson, a Negro leader from Cambridge, Md., was expected to arrive this afternoon to aid in the campaign.

Mrs. Richardson was a leader of the desegregation movement which sent tensions soaring in that Chesapeake Bay fishing village this summer.

The demonstrations Monday began at a Toddle House on Peachtree Street which has been the target of numerous demonstrations. Gregory's wife, Lillian, was arrested earlier at that lunch counter and is in jail awaiting trial on trespass charges.

Gregory and about 35 others walked in and occupied all the seats in the establishment. They were refused service and vowed to "stay until we can eat."

But they were forced out about three hours later when manager Furrow ordered the restaurant closed "for extermination" of insects.

RECIPE FOR LONGEVITY

ROLLA, Mo. (UPI) — Charles Mayer, 100, began his second century of life Monday with this recipe for longevity: "Women, wine and fried chicken are the ruin of any man. I eat the fried chicken but leave the blondes and wine alone."

Poor 'Cleo' may not get single major film award

By Vernon Scott
UPI Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — On this final day of 1963 all of the year's Academy Award nominee possibilities have been released for public—and Academy—recognition.

Looking back over the fading year it is difficult for moviegoers to pinpoint any single picture that might sweep the Oscar race as have many films in the past — "Ben-Hur," for instance.

The closest contender is "Tom Jones" which stands a good chance of winning best picture laurels and best actor Oscar (Albert Finney).

It was expected early in the year that the much heralded "Cleopatra" would romp off with almost every award in the Academy arsenal. But it was such a brutal disappointment "Cleo" may not capture a single major statuette.

Elizabeth Taylor is not even being mentioned for the best actress award, nor is Richard Burton a threat for the best actor. But Rex Harrison is a top possibility for best actor nominations.

In addition to Finney and Harrison, other nominees for best actor are quite likely to be Paul Newman for "Hud," Sidney Poitier for "Lilies of the Field" and Gregory Peck for "Capt. Newman, M. D." Peck was last year's winner for his performance in "To Kill a Mockingbird."

Best actress honors will be up for grabs as never before. There are no real favorites this year. Geraldine Page, often a nominee, never a winner, may come through by default for

Session too short for five men

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate session—longest in 22 years—was too short for five disappointed men.

Their nominations for federal office, including four judgeships, were still buried in the labyrinth of Senate process when Congress finally adjourned Monday.

Among the disappointed was A. Leon Higginbotham, Jr., named to be U.S. judge for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. Higginbotham was nominated by President Kennedy Sept. 25. He was given a hearing by the Senate Judiciary Committee Dec. 19, but there his nomination remained.

Still, Higginbotham's disappointment was tempered by his seat on the Federal Trade Commission which he declined to relinquish until he could assume the judgeship.

The Higginbotham delay led directly to a similar impasse for John R. Reilly of Iowa who was named by Kennedy to succeed Higginbotham on the Federal Trade Commission.

The Senate Commerce Committee could not approve Reilly for the FTC post until Higginbotham vacated the office. Three other judicial nominees also were left stranded.

They were John Morgan Davis, also named by Kennedy to the eastern district bench in Pennsylvania; David Rabinowitz, chosen for the western district of Wisconsin, and Spottswood W. Robinson III of Richmond, Va., who was nominated for a judgeship in the District of Columbia.

The fate of the five men is now in the hands of President Johnson.

GOOD COAL YEAR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department reports that 1963 was the best year for bituminous coal production since 1956. It said soft coal output had increased from 422 million tons to 452 million tons since 1957.

Dear Friends:

Our hearty best wishes for a Happy New Year to you and your family! Holiday time is driving time for the entire family. Time for visiting friends . . . for looking at neighborhood decorations . . . perhaps for taking a trip to share the holidays with loved ones. These are the warm, full days of cheer . . . enjoyment . . . relaxation.

May we suggest you discuss the six driving tips below with your family? Resolve to DRIVE FOR A SAFE HOLIDAY and make your motoring this season the safest and most enjoyable ever.

ALLOW ENOUGH TIME. Whether going downtown or on a trip, allow time to avoid feeling rushed. On long trips make frequent stops. Arrive relaxed.

HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED. Drive with good tires and properly adjusted brakes. Make sure lights, turn signals and windshield wipers function properly.

USE SEAT BELTS. They help save lives, prevent injuries. Seconds will buckle a belt; a flick of the wrist will release it. Use them whenever and wherever you drive or ride.

BE ALERT TO HAZARDS. Adjust your driving to road, traffic and weather conditions. Give yourself and others an extra margin of safety.

USE COURTESY ABUNDANTLY. Everywhere—at intersections, while passing or being passed, at night when your headlights are on high beam — "Make Courtesy Your Code Of The Road." It pays!

FOLLOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD. Signs, signals and road markings are your guides to a safe, enjoyable drive around town or on a long trip.

Our best wishes for safe and pleasant holiday motoring for you and your family this Holiday Season

Cordially yours,
