George Larimer is honored at party on Saturday night

Special to The Bulletin
CRESCENT - Harry Reising, REA area consultant, helped set the tone of the dinner held Saturday evening to honor George M. Larimer, retiring manager of Midstate Electric Cooperative, LaPine, and A. Cone Hunter, who takes over on January 16. He praised the work and ability of both men.

The dinner, planned by the board of directors, and sponsored by the cooperative, was held Saturday evening at the Crescent Community Clubhouse. Bruce Frojen, Gilchrist High School music instructor, headed overall dinner arrangements, with 18 members of the junior class as ushers and waiting on tables, serving 260 persons.

Roy Larson of LaPine, president of the cooperative, and Richard Jessup, director from Chemult, shared master of ceremonies responsibilities.

Ending 15 years with rural electric cooperatives Larimer addressed the group, giving a resume of what he has done in his 65 years and "what I hope to do in the next 65."

Those wishing to send campaign contributions should mail them to the 1964 treasurer, Gerald Raper, in care of U.S. National Bank, P.O. Box 199. Price was appointed to head this year's campaign by the National March of Dimes Foundation. His wife, Diane M. Price, will supervise the Mothers' March, slated to get underway toward the end of January at a date not yet designated.

Ron Marceau, Bend city attorney, is serving as campaign publicity chairman.

City planners to discuss request

Bend city planners tonight will discuss a request by Land Mart Realty to build an apartment facility north of Thurston Avenue near the east bank of the Deschutes River.

Land Mart is requesting a zone change from R-2 (single-family dwelling) zone to R-4 (multiple-family) zone. Meeting time is 7:30 in the city hall commission room.

Larimer, who was born in Missouri, and Ann were married in California in 1916. His background for work with REA came during World War II as he served with the Army Corps of Engineers and continued as a civilian employe for six years. "It seems like I have grown up with this coop," Larimer said of his nearly 12 years' experience with Midstate, in its infancy when he became manager in October, 1952.

Larson lauded Larimer for advances made through the years as the utility has expanded to a three and a quarter million dollar business.

As Larimer turns over the management to Hunter the membership totals 1574 compared to 264 at the time of energization. The office personnel numbers five, with 10 men comprising ground and line crew. This compares with one office girl and one outside man, Darrell Ferns, in February, 1953. Ferns is still a member of the crew.

Also cited for long years' of service was Glenn Anderson who joined the staff only a few months later and is presently assistant manager.

Hunter comes here from eight years as manager of the Sierra-Plumas Electric Cooperative at Portola, Calif. Formerly he served as line superintendent for Sandy Electric and as manager at North Bend, Wash.

The new manager has served three years as president of the California Cooperative Association and quit the post of association treasurer in moving here.

Visiting managers of Oregon cooperatives spoke briefly, recalling association with Larimer and Midstate through the years. These were Glen Sawyer, Eugene; John Norlin, Redmond, and Robert Cole, Burns. Robert Welte of The Dalles spoke of the fine working relationship he has had with both Larimer and Hunter as engineer.

Special family guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Larimer of Tulare, Calif., brother and sister-in-law of George, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Larimer and three children of Merced, son of the honored couple.

A men's sextette from the Crescent Baptist Church sang several sacred numbers during the evening and led the crowd in Auld Lang Syne to conclude the program. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ned Landers.

Our equipment is guaranteed for a lifetime. Now, are there any questions?" "Warm one," replied the little old lady. "Will it keep me warm in the winter?" (Pretty important question, isn't it?)

■ The cold FACTS are, many people who did not have Oil Heat last winter were cold. ■ The FACT is—Oil Heat has no "pressure" or "load" problems, no matter how cold it gets. ■ And the FACT is—safe, warm, dependable Oil Heat costs less than gas or electricity, no matter how cold it gets. ■ GET THE FACTS FOR THIS AREA...
