

Reports lagging from charitable agencies here

By Ila Grant Hopper Bulletin Staff Writer

Charitable agencies which solicit or receive funds from the public are required to file annual reports, and the deadline is February 15, for the 1963 calendar year.

By law the reports are to be filed each year with the county clerk in each county in which the charity solicits funds. So far, the American Cancer Society is the only agency to file for last year with the Deschutes county clerk.

Last year, only nine agencies filed reports. Only two beneficiaries of the Deschutes United Fund, both among the 17 included in the Oregon United Appeal, were heard from. They are St. Mary's Home for Boys and the Children's Farm Home of the Oregon WCTU.

Reports were filed for both 1963 and 1962 by Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Mental Health Association of Oregon, Redmond United Fund, Salvation Army, Catholic Services for Children, Inc., and Waverly Baby Home. The latter three are beneficiaries of the Oregon United Appeal.

The only other agencies that have filed are the Oregon Heart Association and the Oregon Business Council, for 1962, and the American Cancer Society, St. Mary's Home for Boys and the Children's Farm Home for 1963. Of the reports filed in the past, many were received late.

About the only exemptions provided by the statute are for religious and fraternal organizations soliciting funds solely from their members.

County Clerk Helen Dacey said that she is required only to receive the reports and keep them on file. It is not her responsibility to seek out the agencies and remind them of the deadline, she said.

The 1963 state legislature, moving to correct a seemingly statewide disinterest in enforcing the filing requirement (it provides up to $250 fine for each director of a fund that fails to file its report), set up a new reporting system under the State Department of Justice.

Although there were no funds appropriated for its operation, Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton said recently in Salem that the work would begin "soon." The measure was passed by the last legislature after testimony that in other states such legislation had resulted in the uncovering of millions of dollars in dormant funds as well as mis-handling of trust funds and some operation of charities for personal profit.

Advisory board members named

Special to The Bulletin

REDMOND — Mrs. Howard Silver and Dr. Lee Pulley were named members of the Redmond advisory board of the Tri-County Mental Health Association at its regular meeting recently in the office of Mrs. Helen Marcy, psychiatric social worker.

Mrs. Carmen Pearce was elected chairman of the board, which also includes the Rev. James K. Egly, Mrs. Les Barclay and Maurice Roberts.

HELIK MAN FILES SALEM (UPI)—Raphael R. Raymond of Helix has filed as a Republican candidate for state senator from the 17th senatorial district, Union, Wallowa and Umatilla counties.

MISS CAROL BEAVER

Parents report of engagement

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fread, 831 Roosevelt Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Elaine Beaver, to Clyde Webb.

Miss Beaver is a bookkeeper at the Bend branch of First National Bank of Oregon. A 1962 Bend High School graduate, she is a student at Central Oregon College.

Webb is a forestry technician at the U.S. Forest Service Silviculture Laboratory in Bend. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther L. Webb, Kansas City, Mo. He is a graduate of Manual High School in Kansas City.

The wedding is planned for June 13, at First Lutheran Church in Bend.

Session planned by credit group

Special to The Bulletin

REDMOND — Thirtieth annual convention of the Central Oregon Production Credit Association will be held Thursday, February 6, in the Redmond National Guard Armory.

Free luncheon will be served at noon. Registration will begin at 11 a.m. Featured speaker will be Paul F. Matson, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane.

Original incorporators will be honored during the meeting. Members of the original board of directors were N. L. Weigand, Culver; Priday Holmes, Terrebonne; E. M. Eby, Redmond; A. R. Teater, Post; H. C. Winslow, Bend; Henry O. Lyle, Burns; David T. Jones, Suntext, and H. L. Priday, Gateway.

The meeting will be conducted by Board President N. L. Weigand. During the business session, two directors will be elected, terms of Sid Elliott, Culver, and Leo Fehrenbacher, Terrebonne, being due to expire. Fehrenbacher and Leslie Clausen of Prineville are nominees for the one post and Elliott and Bertel Nelson of Bend for the other. Aside from Weigand, other directors are M. D. Rodman, Culver, and Phillip D. Clowers, Madras.

COPCA has grown from 74 members at its start in 1934 to 550 at the end of 1963. A total of $162,000 was loaned that first year, compared to $10,715,397 in the year just past. Stock owned by members has grown from $6675 thirty years ago to $633,690 today. Reserves were a deficit of $3871 then, but now are at $444,409.

Total income for 1963 from interest on loans, loan service fees, income on bonds and other sources stands at $364,323. Net earnings after taxes, provision for bad debts and expenses totaled $44,420.

Water content of area snow shows increase

Special to The Bulletin

REDMOND — Water content of snow on six Central Oregon courses, though much higher than last year, still is only about average for the 15-year period 1934-1957, reports Ted Thorson, Soil Conservation Service technician.

Because the last big snowstorm produced a very loose blanket over the course, snowmelt was extremely difficult. At one point, the Sno-Cat broke down, necessitating a repair job by Oscar Mellon of the U.S. Forest Service. The State Game Commission Sno-Cat was used to haul men and repairs to the damaged vehicle.

At the Paulina Lake course, surveyors found 55 inches of snow, with 14 of water, compared to 14 snow and 5.4 water last year.

Paulina Fire Road and the Paulina "Y", both bare last year, totaled 27 snow with 5 water and 22 snow with 6 water, respectively.

At Three Creeks Meadows, they found 52.5 snow with 15.2 inches water, compared to 20 snow with 3.2 water last year. Three Creeks Butte has 33.4 snow and 11.4 water, compared to 18 with 1.8 last year. Black Pine Springs measured 17.4 snow with 5.4 water. Last year, 17 inches of snow were found, but they contained only 1.6 water.

Representatives of the North Unit and Squaw Creek Irrigation Districts, Warren Dickman, Jack Lidell, Charles Trachsel and Dick Dufur, assisted Darwin Gregg, SCS, Madras, with the survey this week. Measurement of other courses will be completed by January 31.

Sanitarians plan annual meeting in Bend

Health department sanitarians of counties east of the Cascades will hold their annual meeting Thursday and Friday, February 6 and 7, in Madras. Meetings will be held at Sonny's Motel and Steak House, according to A. W. Westfall, sanitarian of the Tri-County Health Department.

An attendance of about 25 persons, including guest speakers, is expected. Speakers have been drawn from state departments, the U.S. Forest Service and private business.

Taylor Sandvigen, Oregon State Board of Health, Portland, will discuss labor camps in eastern and central Oregon. Department of Agriculture employes on the program are Vergil N. Simmons, "Frozen Dessert Problems," and Joe Gray and Simmons, "Foods and Dairies."

A panel on sanitation problems in recreation areas will be composed of Richard Spray, U.S. Forest Service; Alva E. Zimmerman, State Parks Department; James H. Goggin, Portland General Electric Co., and Douglas H. Pike, Oregon State Board of Health.

Irville D. Reinson, registered sanitarian for Wasco county, will preside the first day; C. Evan Dillon, Umatilla county sanitarian, the second day.

MARY ALYCE MELLIN

Engagement news is announced

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mellin, 540 E. Revere Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Alyce, to James G. Monical, U.S. Coast Guard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Monical, 1825 E. Third Street.

Miss Mellin is a student nurse at Emanuel Hospital in Portland. She will be graduated in September.

Monical, a Coast Guard electrician's mate, is presently stationed in Portland, Maine.

Both young people are graduates of Bend High School. A December wedding is planned.

Timber sale schedule given

Special to The Bulletin

PRINEVILLE — The Ochocho National Forest Service has issued a schedule of timber sales for the current calendar year showing plans to sell 116 million board feet of ponderosa pine and 23.6 million board feet of other species during the year.

The greater part of the timber is scheduled for sale during the first six months of the year, according to C. L. Clark, forest supervisor. Of the total timber to be sold during the year, 109.4 million board feet will be sold from the Crooked River Working Circle of the forest.

Timber from the Crooked River Circle primarily feeds the four major sawmills of the Prineville area. Balance of the timber sales will be in the Snow Mountain region where timber customarily goes to mills in the Burns area.

Largest of the sales, on the Big Summit district, was scheduled to involve 36.5 million board feet. This sale was effected in recent days. Timber on more than 39,000 acres will be involved during sales for a total of 124 miles of road construction will be involved.

Adult education classes begin

Special to The Bulletin

FORT ROCK — Continuing Education courses offered to North Lake County residents by Central Oregon College got under way at the Christmas Valley Recreation hall Monday, January 27 with afternoon and evening sessions.

Three quarter hours of credit in the adult education program will be registered for those enrolled in bookkeeping and typing taught by Mrs. William Niskanen and in basic psychology, with Lynn McCall as instructor. The classes are held for three hours and will continue for ten weeks.

Mrs. Niskanen is also instructing a group in shorthand for an hour each week.

Robert Johnson, Central Oregon College coordinator of the continuing education program, attended the Monday evening session with the psychology class as it got under way. Registration for the other courses was held earlier.

Good skiing due at Hoodoo Bowl

Special to The Bulletin

HOODOO — Good skiing is in store for enthusiasts here at Hoodoo Ski Bowl this weekend. Four inches of powder snow lie on a packed surface, owned Ed Thurston has announced. The roads are clear and the parking lot has been plowed out.

No new snow fell during the night. There is now a total of 140 inches. The temperature at 8 o'clock this morning was 26. Hoodoo today returns to its four-days-a-week schedule. Sunday, however, will see the facility closed to all skiers except those competing in the Oregon State University intercollegiate meet.

A seminary from the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, Calif., will preach at Trinity Episcopal Church in Bend Sunday, February 2, the Rev. John A. Bright, rector, has announced.

The guest preacher will be Dirk T. Rinehard of Nyssa, who is a first year student at the seminary. He was invited by the local church so the Bend congregation can hear first hand of the work being done at the West Coast seminary.

The seminary is the brother-in-law of the Rev. Rustin Kimsey, formerly of Bend and now the Episcopal priest at St. Albans in Redmond.

The Rev. Mr. Bright said the Episcopal Church does not support its seminaries from a national budget, but each of the 11 schools is dependent on voluntary gifts to meet its budget.

COMMITTEE NAMED PORTLAND (UPI) — The Multnomah County School Boards Association Wednesday night named a committee to determine if there should be a separate community college here for eastern Multnomah County.

Johnson takes part in session

Robert Johnson, COC director of Continuing Education, participated in a recent two-day regional conference on the Development of the Career Teacher: Professional Responsibility for Continuing Education.

The annual conference sponsored by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, was held January 24 and 25 in Portland.

The conference, which brought together delegates from Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington, devoted itself to the study of problems and issues involved in continuing education as seen by educators, administrators, state department officials, and professional association staff members.

The five-year teacher education program was one of the areas which received special consideration at the conference, Johnson said.

Johnson believes "there is a trend toward adoption of professional development programs for teachers along the lines of that currently in effect at Central Oregon College."

THEFT REPORTED

Guy Claypool, 419 Congress, told police Wednesday that between five and eight gallons of fuel was stolen from his truck while it was parked either in front of his house or at the Cascade Bowling Alley.
