Cuba situation seen example of U.S. 'gap'

NASHUA, N.H. (UPI) — Communist Cuba is "a perfect example" of the "leadership gap" built throughout the world during the administration of President Johnson and the late President Kennedy, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller charged Friday night.

"Cuba is a symbol of failure: failure to anticipate events; failure to rally the forces of freedom for joint action in the cause of freedom; failure to follow through after the crisis of the moment has passed," Rockefeller said in a speech before the Nashua Chamber of Commerce.

It was part of a brisk eight hour tour of three communities in southern New Hampshire, scene of the first-in-the - nation presidential primary March 10.

"American prestige and influence abroad has suffered sharply in the past three years," he said.

"The position of the United States has seriously deteriorated in the four corners of the globe. In Cuba, the people are being brutally deprived of freedom and the right of self determination.

"Cuba itself is a base for subversion and sabotage against all of Latin America, but the impact of Cuba extends even beyond the Western Hemisphere.

"Cuban arms have been shipped to Algeria. It has been reported that they have been sent from there to foment revolutions in other parts of Africa," he said.

"However, one of the most serious consequences of Cuba may well be the impact it has had on our leadership. The failure at the Bay of Pigs, the vacillation following the missile crisis of 1962, the continued Soviet presence in Cuba have disheartened our friends."

He termed the Cuban situation "a grave challenge" which the United States failed to meet during the missile crisis.

Rockefeller called for:

—Removal of all Soviet troops and weapons from Cuba.

—Ending Cuban sponsored Communist subversion, sabotage and guerrilla warfare against other Latin American countries.

—Giving the people of Cuba the chance to freely choose their type of government.

Report issued on assistance

RICHLAND (UPI) — Pacific Northwest educational institutions and other organizations received $9 million in financial support of research projects from the Atomic Energy Commission during the last 14 years, the AEC said Friday.

The Richland office of the AEC said 57 research contracts with a total commitment of about $3 million now are in force in this region. Many projects have been completed. A few contracts have been in effect for 10 years or more.

Participating in the program are the universities of Washington, Washington State, British Columbia, Montana State, Oregon, Oregon State, Western Washington State College, Reed College, Montana State College, the Oregon Fish Commission, Linfield Research Institute at McMinnville, Ore., the Portland Continuation Center, and Pacific Northwest Research Foundation, Seattle.

DR. WILLIAM W. ORR

Dr. Orr to give lectures here

Dr. William W. Orr, radio speaker and Bible conference lecturer, will be in Bend for a series of meetings at the First Baptist Church beginning on Sunday night, February 2.

Dr. Orr will speak each night through the week at 7:30 p.m., and conduct a series of studies at 10 a.m. each morning on "Have a Happier Home."

For many years vice president of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, Dr. Orr is best known for network radio broadcasting and Bible conference work. He has just returned from a world tour.

Music will be supplied each night by First Baptist Church musical groups, and on certain nights by neighboring churches.

Prineville Elks set celebration

Special to The Bulletin

PRINEVILLE — A gala evening of celebration over the official beginning of construction at the Prineville Elks lodge 1814 will be held tonight at the lodge hall.

Although construction is well started on a large annex to the present building, official groundbreaking ceremonies were to be held this afternoon at 3 p.m., with J. H. Moore, former Prineville resident and past State Exalted Ruler, BPOE, leading the ceremonies.

Original plans called for the start of construction on February 3, but carpenters were able to begin early, according to Jim Garrett, district officer, and foundations are now in place.

After lengthy consideration of plans and future development, Prineville Elks recently approved the $49,600 remodeling and construction project designed to alter present facilities and give the lodge larger meeting and social rooms.

Following the outdoor ceremony, complete with band numbers and the presence of district dignitaries, a cocktail hour and a crab feed were planned. A hootenanny is scheduled for 7 p.m., with regular dancing to begin at 9 p.m.

The job is expected to be completed within three months.

Guest speaker set by church

Mrs. Delbert Troxell, a missionary to Japan, will be guest speaker at First Christian Church Sunday morning, February 2. She will speak to the Sunday School and at the church worship service.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Troxell began their work as missionaries to Japan in 1953. They have been engaged in evangelism near Osaka on the island of Honshu. Troxell serves as a rural evangelist; he preaches in Japanese on Sunday, and teaches English Bible classes.

Mrs. Troxell, besides helping her husband in evangelistic work, teaches English Bible, cooking and family life to high school students, and occasionally speaks to groups or sings in special musicals.

The Troxells are home on furlough, and are living in Eugene. All are welcome to hear the message Sunday.

Grapefruit juice in powdered form is tested

By Gaylord P. Godwin
UPI Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today powdered grapefruit juice—a potential new food product from research — is ready for market testing to determine whether people will buy it.

The new powder was developed by scientists of the Agricultural Research Service and the Florida Citrus Commission. The powder dissolves in cold water to make what the department calls "a nutritious grapefruit juice with a remarkably fresh flavor."

The department said the new grapefruit powder offers substantial savings in shipping and storage costs. Storage temperatures to preserve its quality have not yet been determined, but the scientists believe the product will need little or no refrigeration. Such qualities make the product particularly attractive for export.

To make the powder, specially prepared concentrated grapefruit juice was whipped into a stable foam. The foam was forced through a press in spaghetti-like strips onto a moving belt and dried in a stream of heated air. The dried strips then were ground into powder.

The department said about 200 pounds of the powder have been made in a small pilot plant at the ARS laboratory at Winter Haven, Fla. The powder will be shipped into the United Kingdom and West Germany for consumer evaluation. The tests determining consumer reaction will be conducted by the Florida Citrus Commission and the department's Statistical Reporting Service.

The department said the government's dairy price - support purchases during calendar year 1963 were smaller than for the 1962 calendar year. The reduced purchases reflected slightly larger consumption, about a 1 per cent cut in milk production partly because of drought, and increased commercial exports of non-fat dry milk under the payment-in-kind program.

Total purchases for 1963 amounted to 307.8 million pounds of butter, 119.8 million pounds of cheese, and 998.9 million pounds of non-fat dry milk.

The department said government - owned stocks of dairy products decreased substantially during 1963. This resulted from smaller purchases, larger commercial export sales of butter and non-fat dry milk, and increased use of government stocks in domestic school lunch and welfare programs, and under the Food For Peace program.

The Crop Reporting Board estimated the total capacity of off farm commercial grain storage establishments in the United States on Jan. 1 at 5.5 billion bushels. This represents a decline of 18 million bushels during 1963 and is a break in the uptrend in storage capacity which continued at a rapid rate until a leveling off period in 1962.

Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, told newsmen Monday there seems little doubt that new wheat legislation will follow the basic outline which he said the grange has been advocating for 25 years.

A House agriculture subcommittee Monday approved a bill which follows this policy. It splits farmers' wheat price supports into two segments — part in the form of price support loans underwritten by the government, and part in the form of marketing certificates to be paid for eventually by consumers.

The subcommittee bill would offer farmers who comply voluntarily with production controls over-all price support of $2 per bushel on wheat used for food in the United States and $1.55 on wheat for export. In each case, the support would include a $1.30 government support loan plus a marketing certificate worth 70 cents a bushel for domestic wheat and 25 cents a bushel on exports.

Work planned on roadway

Congressman Al Ullman, on behalf of Senators Wayne Morse and Maurine Neuberger, announced today grading and draining will be done on 2.33 miles of roadway on the Warm Springs Indian Reservation.

The Congressman stated that the proposed work is to be performed on Whitewater River Road, located approximately 16 miles west of Warm Springs, in order to improve the main road in the southwestern section of the reservation.

Ashland's T.A.R. Company has been awarded the contract for $154,196.50 in accelerated public works funds.

Churchwomen name speaker

Special to The Bulletin

PRINEVILLE — A recent missionary to Brazil, Mrs. John Bright, Bend, will tell of her experiences during a luncheon meeting February 3 of the churchwomen of St. Andrews' Episcopal parish.

More than a hundred members of the church's communicants attended the parish annual meeting this week and heard department and committee reports indicating a continued growth in size and vitality according to Rev. John Gretz.

In the annual vestry election, Earl Rosenbaum was elected junior warden. New vestrymen named for three-year terms are Tom Alexander, Roy Johnson and Elmer Lindquist. Rev. Gretz appointed Lawrence Claypool as senior warden.

A parish planning committee to set long-range goals was appointed. Members are Lawrence Claypool, Eldred Breese, Claude Williams, Stuart Shelk, Grant Wiggins, Mrs. Ed Dorn and Mrs. Thomas Carstensen.

New wardens, vestrymen and layreaders are to be installed in office at the 10 a.m. service in the church Sunday, February 2.

Hearing planned on water rate

Special to The Bulletin

PRINEVILLE — A public hearing on the proposed increase in water rates for Prineville is scheduled to be held in the Crook county courthouse Tuesday, February 4, beginning at 9 a.m.

Pacific Power & Light Co., which furnishes water to Prineville residents, has asked for a rate increase which would average about 85 cents a month in winter and $1.70 a month in summer. The present minimum rate is $1.50 a month for 800 cubic feet. The requested change is for $2.25 for 300 cubic feet.

The Prineville city council at its luncheon meeting this week directed Ralph Brown, city attorney, to file a protest to the increase. Councilmen went on record as feeling that the increase is too stiff.

Interested citizens are invited to attend the hearing.

Eastern U.S. blanketed by fog and clouds

By United Press International

Rain clouds and a shroud of fog blanketed the East while rain fell on the Carolinas, Pennsylvania and Michigan in timid wintery weather today.

Light rain reached westward into the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. Snow slicked the roads of Eastern Pennsylvania, New York and New England where hazardous driving warnings were posted.

Inclement weather also covered the Far Northwest where light rain dampened the Northern Pacific Coast from Washington to Northern California.

The Weather Bureau reported high temperatures and clear skies from the Far Southwest eastward into the Rocky Mountain plain states.

At Punxsutawney, Pa., members of the groundhog club prepared for their annual winter visit with Mr. Groundhog, proclaimed by some to be an expert weather forecaster.

As legend has it, if the famed woodchuck casts a shadow Sunday as he emerges from his underground den, the nation is in for six weeks harsh weather.

The Weather Bureau said February temperatures will be colder than usual, in contrast to January which bowed out as one of the mildest on record.

February temperatures were expected to be colder in the East, the western Gulf states, the California valleys and the Northern Great Basin.

New England and the Western Great Lakes regions should have near normal temperatures in the 30-day outlook, the Weather Bureau said.

Weekly health report issued

Twenty influenza cases in Deschutes County were high among communicable diseases reported this week to the Tri-County Health Department.

Forty-one per cent of the county's available reporting sources also listed one hepatitis and two pneumonia cases.

Crook County, with half its sources reporting, listed only one hepatitis case.

All of Jefferson County's sources had no communicables to report this week.

Saddle Club meeting called

Special to The Bulletin

SISTERS — A meeting of the Saddle Club will be held in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Sisters on Sunday, February 2, at 3 p.m. The club has been organized by Frank Matthews and will be sponsored by the VFW Auxiliary to Post 8138.

The club will be open to persons of all ages. Matthews said all interested will be welcome to attend the Sunday afternoon meeting.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED

A complaint against Benjamin C. Giller, Bend, was dismissed this week by Washington County District Judge Edwin J. Jenkins, in Hillsboro.

Giller had been cited on a warrant from Washington county, charging criminal non-support.

Group to back bond issue

PORTLAND (UPI)— Mobilization of support for the $12.5 million college building bond issue will be the first project of the reactivated Colleges for Oregon Future committee.

The group, headed by former governor Charles A. Sprague of Salem, held its first meeting Friday night. Sprague said the non-partisan volunteer organization would strive to interpret the problems of higher education to the public.

The bond issue will be on the May 15 ballot. The money from general obligation bonds would be used for college construction.
