Funeral services will be held Friday at the Free Methodist Church in Redmond, with the Rev. Mark Shockey officiating. Mr. Hoffman, a farmer by occupation, was born Oct. 4, 1889, in Walla Walla, Wash. He was a member of the Free Methodist Church in Redmond.

Survivors: wife, Clara, Redmond; sons, Alfred W. Terrebonne, Martin J., Corvallis, Ernest H., Redmond; daughter, Miss Lillian Hoffman, Jackson, Ky.; sister, Mrs. Molly Brake, New Westminster, B.C.; five grandchildren.

Burial will be in the Redmond Memorial Cemetery.

Court overturns judge's ruling

SALEM (UPI)—The Oregon Supreme Court today, in a 6-1 ruling, reversed a decree in Crook County Circuit Court by Judge Robert H. Foley, and granted Donald Hargrove title to all the property owned by Virgil L. Osborn and Edna Osborn, husband and wife.

Virgil Osborn murdered his wife, then committed suicide, the court said.

Hargrove, as the sole heir of the slain woman, contended that he was entitled to the property.

Shirley Taylor, Juanita Osborn and Pauline Osborn, heirs of the husband, contended that they were entitled to all of the property on the theory that the entire estate vested in the husband at the moment of the wife's death.

The Supreme Court said it was not legislative intent to permit a spouse to profit by his own felonious conduct.

The Supreme Court observed that it is not inequitable to preclude the husband's heirs from sharing in the estate, as they are not deprived of any rights in the property because at most they had only an expectancy.

Chief Justice William McAllister dissented, saying that it would be more equitable to hold that the tenancy is converted into a tenancy in common with the heirs of victim and the constructive trust should be imposed on half of the property.

Music teachers

plan recital

The Mid-Oregon Music Teachers' Club will present a recital Saturday, February 15, at 3 p.m. in the Catholic parish hall in Redmond. The public is invited to attend.

Students will be presented by Mrs. Gene Pitts, Bend, and Mrs. Montelle G. Coe, Mrs. Fred Hodecker and Mrs. John Eberhard, all Redmond. Mrs. Eberhard is recital chairman.

Plans were completed at a meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Pershing Andrews, Redmond. The next meeting of the group will be March 5, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Bush in Bend.

TO SPEAK HERE—Joseph Erceg, Portland graphic designer, will present a slide essay on the August freedom march in Washington, D.C., Sunday evening at First Methodist Church. Program, first of two, is open to the public.

Freedom marchers to take part in program on Sunday

Two Oregonians who took part in the August freedom march in Washington, D.C., will take part in a program Sunday, February 16, at 7 p.m. at First Methodist Church. This is the first of two programs on the racial crisis, co-sponsored by the Methodist Commission on Social Concerns, the Unitarian Fellowship and the International Relations League of Bend High School.

This week's program, titled "Brotherhood Because It is Right," will feature Joseph Erceg, a professional graphic designer involved in visual communication, and Richard Celsi, president of the Portland Catholic Council on Human Relations. Both are from Portland.

The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge, but an offering will be received to apply toward expenses.

PRINEVILLE

PRINEVILLE — On Feb. 11, Janice Hendrix was admitted to Prineville Memorial Hospital with a neck injury received on the trampoline at school.

Other new patients admitted are Mrs. Jackie Middleton, Metolius; Larry Lewis, Mrs. Joseph Clay Shoun Jr., Mrs. Agnes Moeller, Prineville; Mrs. Barbara Wood, Central Point.

Released were Mrs. Pierre Gamio and new daughter Angela, Mrs. Fred Sneedecker, Mrs. Bobby Smalling, Madras; Jerrold Bernard, Donald Yancey, Prineville; Mrs. Barbara Wood, Central Point; William Hawkins, Prineville.

Erceg presents highlights of the march in a slide essay which has been described by persons who have seen it as "a profound religious experience." Celsi assists him in presentation. He was one of the bus captains on the trip to Washington and back.

Both men were born, brought up and educated in Portland, and spent two years in the Army, mostly in Europe, before returning to their respective fields. Celsi, a school teacher, is married and has three children. Erceg is single.

"It should be made known that I am not a professional speaker and only take on such engagements when and where I feel that I have something worthwhile to tell," Erceg said after accepting the local invitation. "It was this kind of thinking which convinced me to go to Washington for the march, resulting in the slide essay."

Following the program, coffee will be served in the Fireside Room. A baby sitter will be provided for pre-school children.

The second program on race relations will be February 23, with Robert W. Chandler and Miss Vicki Welle as speakers. The topic will be, "Crashing Racial Barriers."

Rail shipments at high peak

PRINEVILLE — Shipments over the City of Prineville railroad continued at a high peak during January according to the month's report issued this week by C. C. McGlenn, railroad manager.

Although lumber shipments continued to be the largest item, accounting for 446 cars, lumber by-products continued high with 87 cars and spuds accounted for 33 cars.

Including fertilizer, feed and other products, shipments over the railroad totaled 612, considerably higher than the average monthly shipments.

College visited by supervisory state committee

A supervisory body called the Community College Committee visited Central Oregon College today.

It was the first time the body had ever been to COC. The committee was in session this morning with local college administrators. It left early this afternoon after visiting the site and buildings at COC's new campus.

Comprised of officials from degree-granting institutions within the State System of Higher Education, the committee has within its jurisdiction the approval of lower division courses for transfer to four-year colleges.

A six-member committee, it also approves instructors to teach these courses. The committee tours the community colleges periodically, reviewing colleges' efficiency and practices.

Visiting committeemen included the following educators: Chairman Dr. Miles Romney, University of Oregon; Daniel Ordeman, Oregon State University; Ernest Moll, University of Oregon; Dr. Erwin Lang, Portland State College; Dr. Howard Akers, Continuing Education Center, Salem, and Dr. Floyd Alban, registrar at Oregon College (Monmouth).

Lodge official visits auxiliary

Special to The Bulletin

SISTERS — Department President Edna Face of Prineville made an official visit to the Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 8138 Tuesday evening, with past president Lois Eldridge, also of Prineville. Mrs. Gary Grivas of Sisters attended to assist with the program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Milton Hammack and Mrs. George Sproat.

The Valentine box was prepared for Ward 3B in the Roseburg Veterans Hospital. Mrs. Face was presented with a juniper wood bowl as a gift from the Sisters Auxiliary.

HIS WIFE TOO — ETON WICK, England (UPI) — Eric Hughes, an ex-burglar who stole more than $640 cash from Ernest Lynch, apparently was not content with the loot only.

He was cited Wednesday as co-respondent in the divorce case brought by Lynch, who also accused Hughes of making love to his wife after robbing him.

Two Burgderfer paintings bought for new bank

Two watercolors by Ruth Burgderfer, Bend, will be among nine original paintings to hang in the new Beaverton branch of the United States National Bank of Portland, to be completed this spring.

Mrs. Burgderfer's paintings were purchased by Lila G. Colwell, interior decorator who handles the decorating in all the bank's branches, at the 12th Street Gallery in Eugene, where the Bend artist had an exhibit. The two purchased were later shown with other art acquired by U.S. National, in a show at the University of Oregon Art Museum, titled "A Bank as Art Patron."

Mrs. Burgderfer is assistant professor of art at Central Oregon College. A native of New York, she received a bachelor of fine arts degree from Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga., and a master of arts degree in art education at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Her work has been exhibited in galleries in New York, Tacoma, Indiana, Arizona and Oregon. She now has two watercolors on consignment at the Image Gallery, Portland.

One of the watercolors purchased by the bank is a large abstract. The other is a smaller semi-impresionistic painting suggesting Oregon scenery, and including small plant forms.

Lease checks go in mails

PORTLAND (UPI)

Russell E. Getty, Oregon Bureau of Land Management Director, said today checks for state shares of money for mineral leasing on federal lands were mailed this week to 23 states.

Oregon's share was $970. Washington got $201.

Getty said the payments were for the last half of 1963 and represented 3 1/2 per cent of the rentals, royalties and bonuses from mineral leasing on federal lands within each state's boundary. Oregon counties for which federal lands were leased for minerals include Baker, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Deschutes, Jefferson, Josephine, Malheur and Wheeler.

Smallest amount paid was $48 to Florida. Largest was $6.7 million to Wyoming.

Chicago girl, 10, gives birth to five-pound, 15-ounce baby

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 10-year-old girl who gave birth to a 5-pound-15-ounce baby by Caesarean section was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Attendees at St. Bernard's Hospital, said the baby, a full term girl, was in "fair condition." The child was born Wednesday.

The mother was believed to be the youngest in Chicago medical records. Medical sources said a 9-year-old Arkansas girl was believed to have been the youngest mother on record in the United States.

A 10-year-old newspaper vendor named Maria Gonzalez Garcia gave birth by Caesarean section to a 5-pound 10-ounce son at Women's Hospital in Mexico City one week ago. Both are doing fine.

Secrecy protected the young mother in St. Bernard's Hospital in Chicago. She was identified only as a Negro fourth grade student. Her name was not made known.

Authorities said the girl named a 16-year-old boy as the father. The youth is the son of foster parents with whom the girl had been living. He has been turned over to juvenile authorities and has been undergoing psychiatric tests.

The hospital said the baby would be sent to St. Vincent's Orphanage as soon as possible. The hospital said whether the mother would see her daughter was up to the family court and social agencies.

A teacher at a parochial school first noticed the girl was pregnant.

"When I told her she was going to have a baby," a doctor said, "she asked, 'a real one?'"

The 10-year-4-month-old girl, suffering from anemia, iron deficiency and an infection, was admitted to the hospital Jan. 18 and underwent a series of blood transfusions.

The attending physician during the birth Wednesday, Dr. Carlo A. Fioretti, said the baby was "of unusually large size considering the circumstances."

Doctors said she had spent her time in her hospital room playing with cut-out dolls and crying with worry about what would happen to the baby.

Esthetics seen safety factor

CORVALLIS (UPI) — Esthetic qualities have a definite relationship to traffic safety, George F. Kachlein Jr., Seattle, president of the American Automobile Association, said Wednesday.

Kachlein told the 1964 Northwest Roads and Street Conference that of four national highways with the lowest death rate, two were rated as having excellent esthetic qualities. One of the four was called good and the other was classified as monotonous, he said.
