Busy governor speaks here, in Prineville during visit

Busy Governor Mark O. Hatfield, who spoke here Wednesday noon and in Prineville last night before heading for the Boardman Industrial Park, was to pass through Central Oregon again today.

This time, the Governor will have Klamath as his destination, and will appear in a program there tonight.

Highlight of the Governor's visit to Central Oregon was his appearance at the distinguished service awards banquet in Prineville last night, with Dick Hoppes serving as master of ceremonies at a dinner attended by a capacity group.

Honored as senior citizen of the year in Prineville was Dick McRae, retiring president of the Prineville Crook County Chamber of Commerce, former mayor and a leader through the years in many fields of activity.

Acclaimed as junior citizen of the year was affable, hard working Sid Harper — "always willing to assist with community enterprises or charitable projects."

In Bend Wednesday, Governor Hatfield spoke to a group of more than 200 and stressed the need for further diversification to improve the industrial picture. Freeman Schultz presided at the luncheon meeting.

Wednesday afternoon, Governor Hatfield, with Don Pence as his guide, toured the Central Oregon College campus. After a stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pat Metke, the Governor visited the Round Butte dam, before speaking in Prineville.

The Governor stopped in The Dalles last night.

Comedy enjoyed at Sisters High

Special to The Bulletin

SISTERS — The Sisters high school Thespians presented "The Boarding House Reach" to an appreciative audience Saturday night. Due to conflicting events the audience was not as large as it should have been.

The Thespians put their hearts into their jobs, and seemed to enjoy themselves as much as the audience did. Fine applause rewarded their weeks of preparation.

The play was a tongue-in-cheek comedy about a boy making a boarding house out of the family home during his parents absence in order to earn a bicycle.

It was a night of fun for everyone.
