

BASEMENT DAMAGED — The basement at the Robert Restor home, 35 Hood Place, was gutted by fire late Saturday night. Firemen were called back to the scene Sunday morning when the basement area began smoldering again. Firemen answered a general alarm to the Pentecostal Church of God Sunday, too, but damage was minor.

Blaze brings firemen twice

Fire in the basement of the Robert Restor residence, 35 Hood Place, caused considerable damage over the weekend. Firemen were summoned twice by general alarm to the home. The first call was answered late Saturday night and firemen returned at 3 a.m. Sunday and stayed on duty until 7 a.m. A Sunday morning roof fire at the Pentecostal Church of God, 1509 Galveston, was also checked. The fire was believed to have started near the flue. Open burning at the Ralph Maddox place, Parrell Road, was extinguished Sunday afternoon.

Weather slows job openings

Non-farm openings listed with the Bend office of the Oregon Employment Service in March lagged behind those of a year ago by 13 per cent, but spring farm job openings were on a par with a year ago. This is noted in the current report on employment released by Clark A. Price, manager of the state office in Bend, at 952 Bond. Cold weather, it is noted, put the brake on trade and service job openings which customarily are off to a fast start this time of the year. Logging employment continued under a slow bell because of surplus log decks, and will not be back in full swing until around May 1. On the construction front, the Round Butte Dam was 90 per cent complete.

At the end of March, there were an estimated 1,600 workers unemployed in the big Mid-Oregon district, compared with 1,711 a month ago and 1,500 a year ago. Warm weather for some four days near the end of the month triggered a decided increase in the diversity and number of job openings listed with the office. A total of 119 different non-farm employers placed job openings with the office in March. In economic development, it was noted that Tite Knot Pine Mill, Redmond, destroyed by fire last July 31, resumed operation of its new plant in March, with some 30 men recalled. An estimated 480 workers were employed on the Round Butte Dam at the end of the month.

Welding class still open

Registration for the Central Oregon College Continuation Education class in Electric Arc and Acetylene Gas Welding will continue through Thursday, April 16, Robert Johnson, continuing education director, reports. Ralph Maddox, who has been an instructor at Central Oregon College for a number of years, will teach the welding class, which will include oxy-acetylene cutting as well as brazing. The class, which meets from 7:30 to 9:30 each Tuesday and Thursday evening, is held in the COC Metal Technology labs at 129 Greenwood. Registration can be completed at the college office in the Bend Senior High School Building. Tuition and materials are $25.

Here's one about a musical stove

ABERDEEN, Wash. (UPI)—You've heard of musical chairs? Well, now, here's one about a musical stove. It's an electric range in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eby, South Aberdeen. Mrs. Eby said that three burners of her year-old stove reproduce a local radio station's broadcasts. But they do it on high heat only. The fourth burner is mute. "The only trouble," Mrs. Eby explained, "is that we all got pink cheeks from leaning over to listen."

Liberal arts education eyed

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore. (UPI)—Pacific Northwest alumni of Columbia University heard scholars from the New York institution discuss the merits and disadvantages of a liberal arts college here Saturday. A one-day conference of Oregon, Washington and Idaho alumni was held at the Mt. Hood lodge. Dr. I. I. Rabi, professor of physics and 1944 Nobel Laureate for physics, characterized liberal arts institutions as places for rich young men "who expect to spend the rest of their lives being an eligible dilettante." Dr. Rabi said, however, that he recognized the need for liberal arts. Disagreeing with him was Moses Hadas, John Jay professor of Greek who said the prime function of a liberal arts college should be the teaching of history, whether it be the history of philosophy or literature or art. Dr. George A. Perera, associate dean of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, agreed with Dr. Hadas. "The physician is able to perpetuate on borrowed time. Scientific knowledge has thrust him into many aspects of philosophy, sociology and even theology," he commented. Moderator of the discussion was Dean David B. Truman of Columbia College, the men's undergraduate division. A Saturday night speaker, Prof. Philip E. Mosely, said U.S. Foreign Policy must become more flexible. He said there was a danger that policies justified earlier might "turn into concrete and become ruts in the road."

Couple united in marriage

Special to The Bulletin REDMOND — Miss Ursula Mary Bates and Edwin B. Cripe were united in marriage recently at the First Presbyterian Church in Medford. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert C. Bates, Medford, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Cripe, former residents of Bend and Redmond now living in Medford. Mrs. Michael Kim Griffin, Medford, was matron of honor. Miss Patricia Rushton, Eugene, was bridesmaid. David Morris was best man and Roger Cooley and Lavern Granger, ushers. After a wedding trip to Carmel, Calif., the newlyweds are at home on Grant Street in Medford.

Three hearings on wildlife due

SALEM (UPI) — The entire range of Oregon's wildlife will be covered in a series of three evening hearings scheduled by the Legislative Interim Committee on Wildlife, Chairman Andrew Naterlin, D-Newport, announced today. The taking of antlerless deer will highlight a session April 15 at the Deschutes County courthouse in Bend. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Elk tags and land use will be among the subjects at an April 16 hearing at the Walla Walla County courthouse in Enterprise. This meeting also is set for 7:30 p.m. On April 17 a meeting at the Grant County courthouse at Canyon City will emphasize range analysis work, deer habitat trends and winter deer feed problems.

Morse, Ullman due on May 2 for dedication

National figures will be here on May 1 and 2 for a double event — formal dedication of the new Bend Silviculture Laboratory and a meeting of the Columbia River section of the Society of American Foresters. Dedication of the laboratory will be at 10 a.m. on Saturday, May 2, with Sen. Wayne L. Morse and Rep. Al Ullman to be among the speakers. The program will be at the Bend Senior High School. Also on the program will be Edward P. Cliff, chief, U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and Philip A. Briegleb, director of the Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station, Portland. Heading the sessions of the Columbia River Section, S.A.F., will be a Bend man, Gail Thomas, section chairman. The S.A.F. meeting will bring to Bend foresters from all parts of the region. The foresters' meeting will open on Friday, May 1, at 9 a.m., with an invocation by the Rev. William Coughlan, Bend. The welcome will be by Paul Reynolds, mayor of Bend, and Eldon Stroup, chairman of the Central Oregon S.A.F. chapter. Keynote address will be by Dr. George A. Selke, consultant to the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture. "The Nation's Stake in Forest Land Resources," will be Selke's topic. Oregon State University foresters will be participants in the two-day program.

Gems stolen from countess

MIAMI (UPI)—Detectives today sought the burglars who sneaked past vacationers in bright sunshine Sunday to steal about $100,000 in gems from the plush apartment of an Italian countess. Countess Godino Massimiliano said she was swimming in a pool at the time of the robbery. She told police and federal agents through an interpreter one of the items stolen was a set of earrings made of diamonds and emeralds valued at $30,000. Police said the estimates of the other items stolen were "rough" and guessed the total taken would be valued at $100,000.

Plane crash takes 2 lives

WAPATO, Wash. (UPI) — George Adams, 44, and Lee W. McCorkle, 40, both of Route 4, Wapato, were killed Sunday night when their 1937 Fairchild plane, piloted by Adams, crashed in a potato field four miles west of Wapato. The men had taken off from a private field about 7:10 p.m.

Hatfield rests following tour

SALEM (UPI) — Gov. Mark Hatfield was resting at home this morning after a five-day, four-state Midwest speaking tour. Hatfield returned to Oregon late Sunday after addressing two college mock Republican conventions, a GOP fund raising dinner, and the Chicago Executives' Club. His office said Hatfield had no appointments scheduled, but that they expected the governor would be at work in his office later today.

dominion over the atom

Man will never really conquer the atom until he conquers his fear of the atom — his fear of annihilation. He needs a spiritual understanding of himself, of the universe, and of God. You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Jules Cern of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. The title is "Christian Science: Dominion Over the Atom." Everyone is welcome.
