Bend's powerful Lava Bear track and field team got performances from all hands at new Bruin Field yesterday and overwhelmed visiting Redmond High School, 100½-30½.

BEND JV'S WIN
Bend's junior varsity track and field team duplicated varsity efforts yesterday and notched a 94½-35½ dual meet victory over the Redmond JV's.

It was held at New Bruin Field in conjunction with the varsity meet.

Lava Bears on their fourth season of consecutive dual meet victories.

Bend and Redmond, both finishing third at the Hayward Relays in their respective divisions, provided some unusual developments yesterday.

Usher Wins
Craig Usher, Bend sprinter and broad jumper, provided a surprise in the broad jump. He beat Redmond's favored jumping pair, Dennis Moore and Eric Lawson.

Moore several times has nipped 21 feet. Yesterday he hit 20' 9", but Usher won the event with a leap of 20' 10½".

Redmond, however, reversed things on Bend in the sprints. Eric Lawson out-ran a host of favored Bend sprinters to win both the 100 and 220. The times in the 100-yard dash were all poor 10.5. Lawson, Dennis Pacheco and Jerry Rich all finished in a blanket.

Bend's Bob Nosler provided a double win. He took both hurdle races, clearing the highs in 15.15. Clyde Smith got two victories in the shot put and the discus, as Bend swept the latter.

Mike Donley and Herb Hickman, Bend middle distance and distance men provided photo finishes in both the 880 and the mile. Donley and Hickman were credited with tying for first in both events.

Results, event by event:
100 — Lawson R, Pacheco B. Rich B. 10.5.

Long says minor defects stand in way of shot mark

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Shot putter Dallas Long figures only a few minor defects in his throwing stand in the way of his adding two feet to his world record performance.

The University of Southern California dentistry student told the Southern California Track and Field Writers and Coaches Association Monday he thought he could better his recent throw of 65 feet, 11½ inches which topped his previous world record toss by one inch.

"I thought I was extremely slow and did not get a good position with my right leg," he said. "If I can correct these faults I feel I can add a couple more feet to my best mark before the end of the year."

Long, asked who he considers his top challengers for the U.S. Olympic team, named Parry O'Brien, Texas A.M. freshman Randy Matson and Gary Gubner of New York if he recovers from some recent injuries.

"You can't discount O'Brien and I think he'll make the team for the fourth time," Long said. Miler Jim Grelle of the Los Angeles Track Club who, along with Long, will be competing in the Mt. San Antonio Relays on Saturday, said the field that was entered could very easily produce a sub-four-minute mile. His chief rival in the event will be Canada's Bill Crothers.

Coach Elvin (Ducky) Drake of UCLA reported that C. K.

Yang had been training hard for the decathlon at Mt. San Antonio in the past few weeks and the world record holder in the 10-event competition should be in shape for a good performance.

Meet director Hilmar Lodge of Mt. San Antonio said nearly 3,000 high school, junior college, college, university and club athletes will participate in the relays this weekend.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel is being stripped of another memento of his days as a Yankee.

Stengel sheepishly revealed Monday that his wife is annoyed by the fact he still wears underwear with a Yankee emblem embroidered on the right leg although he now manages the New York Mets.

"She is very disturbed about the writers seeing me in my Yankee underwear," Stengel said. "She is going to buy me some Met underwear."

Easy race—Vandy

Belgian wins marathon as US runners fall again

BOSTON (UPI)—The United States physical fitness program hasn't reached the extensive ranks of the nation's marathoners yet.

In fact, Uncle Sam's distance runners appear to be a mite slower than they used to be.

It was a Belgian champion, Aurele Vandendriessche, who whipped a group of foreign challengers in Monday's 68th Boston AA marathon.

"Vandy," who said he enjoyed his "easy race," thus became the 18th visa-carrier among the last 19 champions.

Vandendriessche staged a successful defense of his own 1963 record victory to become only the fifth man to win the Boston race in successive years. And he finished a matter of two minutes better than he predicted before the race that his winning time would be.

Though the foreign field was sharply curtailed in this Olympic year, visitors still managed to grab eight of the top ten places.

"Vandy's" official winning time was 2 hours, 19 minutes and 59 seconds, 62 seconds off his own record.

The next nine finishers were Finland's Tenho Salakka, second in 2:20:48 and several hundred yards behind Vandendriessche; third, Ron Wallingford of Hamilton, Ont.; fourth, Paavo Pystynen of Finland; fifth, Hal Higdon of Chicago; sixth, Toronto's Dave Ellis; seventh, Johnny Kelley of Groton, Conn., the only home-grown winner (1957) in nearly two decades; eighth, Argentina's Osvaldo Suarez; ninth, Paul Hoffman of Toronto; and tenth, Bill Allen of Ontario.

Army explains why Clay was not draftable

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army's explanation of why it declined to draft heavyweight champion Cassius Clay drew some dissents today from congressmen, who suggested he could at least do kitchen police work.

Army Secretary Stephen Alles said in a report Saturday that Clay, who was tested both before and after he defeated Sonny Liston for the heavyweight title on Feb. 25, passed Army physical tests but failed the mental exams.

Alles in a letter to the House Armed Services Committee said the growing complexity of weapons systems rules out induction of any but "fully trainable" manpower.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., accepted the Army's report and said he planned no further inquiry into the matter. But some other lawmakers were not so ready to drop the subject.

"The Army's refusal to accept the heavyweight champion of the world has triggered an anti-draft reaction among many people," Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio said.

"It is difficult to believe that Cassius Clay cannot pass the simple mental examinations. It is difficult to resist the thought he was rejected because the Army did not know what to do with him if they had him," Bow expanded.

Gals' golf play has 3 winners

Cold and windy weather didn't stop the women of the Bend Golf Club last week, as they hit the fairways in force again.

Wednesday's flag play was won by Mrs. Nel McClain. Mrs. Eunice Corryell won the Class A bracket, and Class B was won by Irene Bostelman and Class C by Dorothy Nelson.

Amazing how little it costs to put a roof over your head

Amazing! Most people are downright flabbergasted the first time they check out a new compact Dart convert. Pop goes the top. But the price just sits there low and easy to take.

It's even more amazing when you consider all that makes a Dart a Dart. Room, for instance. Size it up with knees, head, elbows, or luggage. You'll find large economy-size room—as much stretch-out and load space as in many standard-size cars. And there's large economy-size power to go with it... from a 170 cu. in. standard Six to an optional gung-ho 273 V8.

Amazing? You bet. It's what happens when a quality car maker builds a compact bizzer and quicker and then tops it off with such good looks.
