Lodge cards running higher than in N.H.

PORTLAND (UPI) — Pledge cards received by Draft Lodge for President Committee headquarters here are running higher than they did in New Hampshire, David Goldberg, national field director of the committee said today.

Goldberg said 353,000 cards were mailed to Oregon Republicans on April 20. Of these, Goldberg said, 21,917 had been returned through Thursday morning's mail pledging support to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the state's May 15 primary.

Goldberg said this represented better than 6 per cent return, while the New Hampshire return on similar pledge cards was "something better than 5 per cent."

"We are very happy and gratified," Goldberg said.

Goldberg said the peak of the cards were received April 24-25, with something over 6,000. He said the pace had slowed but that this was expected.

Meanwhile, in Providence, R.I., Russell W. Joy, New England coordinator for the Lodge organization, predicted Lodge would get "upwards of 150,000 votes" in Oregon.

He refused to speculate as to whether Lodge would resign his diplomatic post in Saigon and return to this country if he wins in Oregon. "After the Oregon primary, the ambassador will have a statement," Joy said.

A Bend man, Harry J. Waldron, at the Klamath Falls meeting will be proposed for district governor, to serve in the year 1966. To back Waldron, a large delegation of Bend members, accompanied by Rotary Anns, will attend the Klamath conference.

Featured speaker at the Klamath meeting will be Dr. Roy E. Lieuallen, chancellor of the Oregon state system of higher education.

Speaker at Wednesday's meeting was Lyman C. (Chuck) Johnson, who touched on urban renewal. He reviewed urban renewal plans being considered for Bend, and displayed a large map showing the downtown areas that would be included.

Mrs. Van G. Burleigh visited the club, to distribute voters' information literature.

Advanced study set by Hansen

Orval Hansen, Central Oregon College librarian for the past eight years, has announced his intentions of taking a one year leave-of-absence from the local institution to do advanced study at the University of Washington, where he plans to complete his Master of Library Science Degree.

Accompanying Hansen to Seattle for his year of study will be his wife Ruth, and his five children Phil, Kristine, John, Becky, and Sara.

After 23 years in pen he wants a 'speedy trial'

A motion requesting a speedy trial — by a man who has been in the State Penitentiary nearly 23 years — was denied Wednesday by Circuit Judge Robert H. Foley, who was named by the State Supreme Court to hear the motion in Wasco county circuit court.

A trial was being sought by Irvin Russell Jones, who was given a life sentence for second degree murder in September, 1941.

In denying the motion, Judge Foley ruled that Jones' plea of guilty obviated the necessity of a trial, and that in his opinion, to grant a trial now would place Jones in double jeopardy.

Jones was indicted by the Wasco county grand jury on Sept. 4, 1941, on a charge of first degree murder. The indictment charged him with killing a man in the process of robbing him.

Jones' attorney succeeded in having the charge reduced to second degree murder, to which Jones pleaded guilty and was sentenced.

Judge Malcolm Wilkinson was disqualified to hear the motion, because he was district attorney at the time of Jones' indictment.

PIGEONS KILLED Mrs. Sol L. Fox, 1344 Jacksonville, reported to city police that a dog had killed five pigeons at her residence. The dog was picked up by police and taken to the city pound.
