

2020: A YEAR IN PHOTOS

Photos by RYAN BRENNERKE
The Bulletin

Comet NEOWISE, officially named C/2020 F3, moves across the sky over Bend shortly after sunset on July 14.

Protesters raise their hands as U.S. Border Patrol officers stand in formation at Crane Shed Commons in Bend on Aug. 12. The 12-hour standoff was between armed federal agents and protesters attempting to block the deportation of two men.

A helicopter drops water on a leading edge of the Green Ridge Fire, located about 12 miles north of Sisters, on Aug. 20.

Co-workers Pam Buresh and Mike Goeman walk through Drake Park together on Oct. 21.

Redmond's Phil Backup, 98, shot the first hole-in-one of his life on Jan. 31 at The Greens of Redmond this year.

Evan McElowney takes a moment to write down some thoughts in his journal after taking in the sights of Paulina Lake and the surrounding mountains while visiting the Paulina Peak Overlook on June 27.

Three-year-old Noah Bazzell catches some air off a bump as his dad Kevin Bazzell looks on while spending the morning sledding with family at Wanoga Sno-park on Dec. 12.