SPORTS BRIEFING

FOOTBALL

Ducks WR Redd returning for 5th season — Oregon Ducks wide receiver Jaylon Redd will return for a fifth season, according to a source. Redd, a senior in 2020, is taking advantage of the NCAA not counting last season against players' eligibility because of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic had on the college football season. Redd, signed as part of the 2017 recruiting class, has started three out of his four seasons with the Ducks. In 37 games, the slot receiver has caught 118 passes for 1,238 yards and 14 touchdowns. He's also carried the ball 21 times for 148 yards and five touchdowns. Redd has scored a touchdown every 5.3 times he has touched the football on offense. Redd's best season came in 2019 when he caught 50 passes for 465 yards and seven touchdowns, including the game-winning score at Washington from five yards out that gave the Ducks a 35-31 lead with 5:10 remaining. Last season in seven games, Redd caught 25 passes for 281 yards and one touchdown while rushing for 53 yards and a score.

This weekend offers the Cougars a shot at redemption and further validation in their quest to reach the NCAA Tournament for just the second time in program history.

"I didn't think we were going to be the 12th place team in the league, even though there's some awesome teams and it's hard to beat anybody in this league, but I knew on the outside world looking in I knew it was a good pick for us because no one understood," Washington State coach Kamie Ethridge said. "We lost four players and probably 90% of everything, so why wouldn't you be picked last in this league? I knew what we had. I knew we had a transfer player that was really at the level in Krystal Leger-Walker, a fifth-year player that was in the gym all year and I knew her sister Charlissee was the real deal. I'm shocked she was under the radar as much as she was."

The Leger-Walker sisters are the reason why WSU is a threat this season. Charlissee, a freshman, leads the Cougars with 19.7 points and Krystal, a senior, is averaging 12.2 and they both bring down 5.5 rebounds and dish out over four assists per game.

Oregon coach Kelly Graves referred to them as superstars.

"The two sisters are excellent," Graves said. "Their inside game is coming as well. They have a bunch of kids that know how to play. They don't

I've spoken many times to Lapchick, a trailblazer in race issues in sports, about the NFL's hiring practices. I've listened as he's become increasingly exasperated that the Rooney Rule instituted more than a decade ago continues to fail in its main purpose — which is actually getting Black coaches hired. "It's not like there are no
