

WINES FOR ALL PRICE POINTS

GIFT A BOTTLE FOR VALENTINE'S AND HOPE THEY'LL SHARE

Giving a bottle of wine to your very favorite person? How about a nice chianti. Need a last-minute side dish for your at-home Valentine's dinner? Chardonnay for the win. Looking for something a little more complex than the latest hop bomb? Hello, Cabernet Sauvignon.

With a little help – and several tastings – from Va Piano Vineyards, Naked Winery and Pastini, the Old Mill District offers several bottle recommendations for price points below $30, between $30-$60 and over $60.

UNDER $30: The classic “We’ve just met and I think I should buy you a Valentine’s gift” price point. Great suggestions include Va Piano’s 2016 French Creek Chardonnay.

NEW TRENDS EMERGE IN JEWELRY SHOPPING

CHANNELING MEMORIES AND SENTIMENTS WITH BEAUTY

With so much transformation taking place this past year, people are pausing to relish small moments, enjoy beauty, and blend new and old memories. These trends are emerging at Saxon's Fine Jewelers (Saxon's) in the Old Mill District. Shoppers are approaching their jewelry with extra care, more sentiment, and are increasingly interested in supporting socially conscious brands.

“Recently, the focus has really shifted to embracing family and memories,” Saxon's Kati Magana says. “The jewelry symbolizes emotions and the celebration of the beautiful things that have come from this past year.”
