SPORTS BRIEFING

FOOTBALL

Police investigating Texas QB Watson — Houston Texans quarterback Deshaun Watson, who is accused of sexual assault and harassment in lawsuits filed by 21 women, is being investigated by police after a report was filed regarding the NFL player, officials said Friday. Watson's attorney, Rusty Hardin, has called the allegations "meritless."

GOLF

Tavatanakit hangs on to ANA Inspiration lead; Wie West misses cut — Patty Tavatanakit, of Thailand, fired a 3-under 69 to hold on to a one-shot lead over Shanshan Feng (69) at the ANA Inspiration LPGA major in Rancho Mirage, California, on Friday. In her second tournament since a 21-month hiatus for the birth of her daughter Makenna, American Michelle Wie West made seven bogeys and no birdies to find herself below the cutline yet again after a promising first-round 70.

Tringale grabs 2-shot lead at Texas Open — Cameron Tringale made a move for his first PGA Tour victory with a 3-under-par 69 Friday and a two-shot lead after two rounds of the Texas Open. Tringale was at 9-under 135 after a round that included five-straight birdies and leads Jordan Spieth and Englishman Matt Wallace. First-round leader Camilo Villegas shot a 76 to fall five shots back.

Down 64-59 with 1:42 left, Henderson scored six straight points to give the Gamecocks (26-5) a 65-64 lead with 38.8 seconds left. She had a threepoint play and a 3-pointer.

Zia Cooke finished with 25 oints to lead South Carolina. Despite the wild finish, VanDerveer felt that the first quarter was important. Trailing 15-6 midway through the first quarter, Stanford scored the last nine points of the period to tie the game heading into the second. The Gamecocks missed their final six shots of the quarter and were scoreless for the final 4:48.

"We know basketball teams have runs, so we can't let that first quarter or the first five minutes dictate the whole game," said Hull, who had 18 points and 13 rebounds.

The drought continued in the second quarter as the Gamecocks missed their first five shots and didn't hit a field goal until Zia Cooke's 3-pointer in the quarter made it 22-20. She had hit the previous basket nearly 9½ minutes earlier.

The Cardinal had outscored the Gamecocks 16-2 since the early deficit.

Stanford led 31-25 at the half as Prechtel picked up where she left off from the win over Louisville in the Elite Eight. She had 16 points, all in the second half, to help the Cardinal rally to beat Louisville. She had seven in the opening 20 min utes against South Carolina.

Boston had a solid first half with seven points, nine rebounds and four blocks for the Gamecocks. She finished with 11 points, 16 rebounds and four blocks.

Record shooting

Jones hit the first 3-pointer of the second half for Stanford to break the record for most 3-pointers in the NCAA Tournament.

That was the Cardinal's 55th in the five games, giving them one more than UConn had in 2015.

Close games

This was the seventh Final Four game decided by one point, and first since 2015 when Notre Dame beat South Carolina with the same score, 66-65.

Gonzaga

Undefeated thoughts

Gonzaga is two wins away from becoming the first undefeated team since 1976, when Indiana did it en route to the national championship. If the pressure of making history is weighing down the Zags, coach Mark Few can't detect it.

"What you see is real," he said. "They don't seem the least bit burdened by it."

Going undefeated has not been a topic of conversation among the coaches or players.

"We just want to win this tournament, that's all," Few said. "And at this point in time, we know we have to finish undefeated to win this tournament. It's all about beating UCLA now."

Remind you of anyone?

Cronin said Suggs reminds him of a player he used to prepare for when he was an assistant at Louisville, and had to go up against Marquette.

"They had a guy named Dwyane Wade," the coach said. "His explosive nature, and with that size, I don't know that I'd ever seen that and I haven't seen it since."

Undefeateds

Though the '76 Hoosiers are the last team to complete an undefeated season, the UCLA program has plenty of history in that category. Four of the seven teams that have gone undefeated and won the national title came from the UCLA dynasty of the John Wooden era. His teams in 1964, '67, '72 and '73 all ran the table.

The last two teams in that batch were part of UCLA's still-record 88-game winning streak. Gonzaga's current streak stands at 34 straight wins, dating to the last four games before the 2019-20 season was halted by COVID-19.

BYU scouting

Cronin has watched the tape of the last meeting between BYU and Gonzaga twice now — first when the Bruins were preparing for BYU in the first weekend, and again now that they're getting ready for Gonzaga. BYU led that game, in the West Coast Conference final, by double-digits in the first half, but ended up falling 88-78.

Handlebar update

Gonzaga forward Drew Timme, whose handlebar mustache has become one of the biggest stars of March Madness, appeared at Friday's Zoom interview with his beard fully grown out. He offered no hint as to what will show up when the Zags hit the floor Saturday night.

"It's got a life of its own," he said. "It's just going to do whatever it wants."

Baylor

They also rely one of the nation's best defenses, brutally efficient offensive rebounding and the kind of grim determination borne of a coach whose father once went toe-to-toe with the Ku Klux Klan.

Sampson, who grew up among the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina, is returning to the Final Four after leading Oklahoma there in 2002.

The intervening years brought so much scandal — impermissible text messages and phone calls, a messy split with Indiana, a five-year "show cause" penalty from the NCAA — that it nearly torpedoed his career. Much like he rebuilt Houston, though, Sampson painstakingly rebuilt his reputation. Now, both are back on the national stage.

"We didn't try to cut any corners," Sampson said. "We did it brick by brick."

Family affairs

Drew's father, Homer Drew, was the longtime coach at Valpo — about two hours north of Indianapolis — where younger brother Bryce was a star.

Both kids began their coaching careers there, with Scott going to Baylor and Bryce detouring to Vanderbilt before leading Grand Canyon to the NCAA Tournament this sea-

On the other sideline, Kellen Sampson is one of three assistants on his dad's staff. Another one is Alvin Brooks, whose son Alvin Brooks III happens to have a similar job on Drew's staff at Baylor.

"I've received a lot of texts, a lot of calls, and I'm sure you have, too," Alvin Brooks IİI told his father Tuesday during a joint Zoom session with reporters. "We're going to have to figure out how we're going to make it work."

Styles make fights

Baylor has the fourth-best shooting team in school history, and the best from beyond more than four out of every 10 shots. They've scored at least 75 points in three of their four NCAA Tournament wins.

the arc, where the Bears make

Houston counters with the nation's best 3-point field-goal defense and second-best scoring defense.

The Cougars have yet to allow an opponent to score more than 61 points in their first four tourney games. "They have really good guards. Each one of them can create their own shot, make plays for each other," Jarreau said.

"They have bigs that can catch lobs, catch passes. All of them can finish in the paint. It's going to be a great matchup."
