Scalehouse Voices presents artist Daniela Repas

Scalehouse Collaborative for the Arts will host “The Still Line of a Movement,” a virtual talk by artist Daniela Repas from 6 to 7 p.m. Thursday. Repas, a Bosnia-born visual artist who lives in Portland, is a storyteller who uses multiple mediums, including drawing, animation, installation and film.

The talk kicks off the fourth season of Scalehouse Voices, “a series of talks with local and visiting artists and scholars, exploring ideas and techniques, practice and process, creativity and culture,” according to Scalehouse. A $10 donation is suggested, and reservations are required. Contact: scalehouse.org/voices.

Cocktail Cabaret performances added

Due to Deschutes County’s return to the high risk level and the subsequent reduction in audience capacity, the Tower will adjust and add performances of Limelight Entertainment’s “And the Award Goes to . . .” Cocktail Cabaret at 7 and 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Each performance can accommodate 30 attendees, in accordance with protocols. The Tower box office will notify all ticketholders directly. Details at towertheatre.org or 541-317-0700.
