Ex-Chiefs assistant Britt Reid charged with DWI after crash — Former Kansas City Chiefs assistant coach Britt Reid was charged Monday with driving while intoxicated resulting in serious physical injury after a crash that left a 5-year-old girl critically injured. The Jackson County prosecutor's office said Reid's blood alcohol content shortly after the Feb. 4 crash was 0.113, above the legal limit of .08. He also was driving about 84 mph in a 65 mph zone seconds before his truck crashed into two cars stopped on an entrance ramp to Interstate 435 near Arrowhead Stadium. A 5-year-old girl in the second car, Ariel Young, suffered a traumatic brain injury. She is unable to talk or walk and is being fed through a feeding tube. Reid, the son of Chiefs coach Andy Reid, could be sentenced to up to seven years in prison if he's convicted.

Seahawks unlikely to pick up fifth-year option for Penny — Seattle Seahawks' running back Rashaad Penny could be facing a make-or-break season in 2021. Penny appeared in just three games during the 2020 season after suffering a major knee injury and surgery in 2019. The Seahawks' first-round pick (No. 27) in the 2018 NFL draft has flashed big potential during games, including his career high 129 yards in Week 12 of the 2019 season. But he has struggled to stay healthy during his three seasons with the Seahawks. He has missed 21 regular season games. The running back's inability to remain consistently available could mean the Seahawks won't pick up his fifth-year option in 2022, according to a report. The Seahawks would have to pay Penny $4.5 million in salary if they exercised the option.

Patriots receiver Julian Edelman announces retirement — For more than a decade Julian Edelman lived the ultimate NFL underdog story, going from undersized college quarterback to a favorite option of Tom Brady on three Patriots' Super Bowl-winning teams. He says he'll leave the league after giving everything he had to the sport. Citing a knee injury that cut his 2020 season short after just six games, Edelman announced Monday that he is retiring from the NFL after 11 seasons. Earlier in the day, the Patriots terminated the contract of the Super Bowl 53 MVP after the receiver failed a physical. It brings an abrupt end to the 11-year New England tenure of the 34-year-old.

U.S. Women

'We are committed as ever to our work to achieve the equal pay that we legally deserve and our focus is on the future and ensuring we leave the game a better place for the next generation of women who will play for this team and our country."

The USSF said it expected an appeal and remains "hopeful" of a "resolution outside of the court system."

"U.S. Soccer is 100 percent committed to equal pay," the governing body said in a statement. "We have offered the USWNT the identical compensation provided to our men's players for all matches controlled by U.S. Soccer.

U.S. forward Alex Morgan (13) attempts a header on goal against Canada during a SheBelieves Cup match on Feb. 18 in Orlando, Florida.

"Unfortunately, the USWNT meet to try to find a resolution unless U.S. Soccer first agrees has not accepted our offer or our longstanding invitation to to make up the difference between the men's and Women's World Cup prize money, which is determined, controlled and paid for by FIFA."

FIFA awarded $400 million in prize money for the 32 teams at the 2018 men's World Cup, including $38 million to champion France. It awarded $30 million for the 24 teams at the 2019 Women's World Cup, including $4 million to the U.S. after the Americans won their second straight title.

FIFA has increased the total to $440 million for the 2022 men's World Cup, and FIFA President Gianni Infantino has proposed FIFA double the women's prize money to $60 million for the 2023 Women's World Cup, where FIFA has increased the teams to 32.
