SPORTS BRIEFING

BASKETBALL

Blazers sign forward T.J. Leaf to 2-way contract — The Portland Trail Blazers have officially signed free agent forward T.J. Leaf to a two-way contract, the team announced Tuesday. The Blazers' plan to sign Leaf was revealed last week but he had to pass through the NBA's health and safety protocols before he could officially sign a contract and join the team. Leaf entered the NBA in 2017 as the 18th overall pick to Indiana. The former UCLA star was most recently under contract with the Oklahoma City Thunder, who released Leaf on Dec. 18.

OSU's 4-game losing streak drops Beavers out of multiple college polls — The Oregon State Beavers' April swoon has sent the college baseball juggernaut into a place it has not been since opening day: outside most of the national polls. The Beavers have dropped out of three of the six major national college baseball polls, a result of a four-game losing streak that included a three-game sweep against rival Oregon over the weekend.

Oregon's Robert Ahlstrom, Gabe Matthews named Pac-12 pitcher, player of the week — Oregon's Robert Ahlstrom and Gabe Matthews were each honored by the Pac-12 for their play in a series sweep against Oregon State. Ahlstrom was named Pac-12 pitcher of the week and Matthews was named Pac-12 player of the week in helping lead the Ducks to three wins over the Beavers last weekend. Matthews went 5 for 8 with a double, home run, three RBIs and two runs scored in the OSU series and 7 for 11 with four RBIs and three runs scored on the week. Ahlstrom allowed one run on five hits and a walk and struck out nine in Friday's series opening win.

COLLEGE SPORTS

Immediately eligible: NCAA on verge of transfer rule change — The NCAA is about to make a monumental change to its transfer rules. The Division I Council meets Wednesday and Thursday, and the agenda includes voting on a proposal that would grant all college athletes the ability to transfer one time as undergraduates without having to then sit out a season of competition. All indications are the proposal will pass. When it does, athletes in football, men's and women's basketball, baseball and men's ice hockey will for the first time be immediately eligible to play after switching schools without asking for special permission. In all other NCAA sports, athletes were allowed to switch schools once before graduating and play immediately. The exception will soon be available to everyone.
