

Five movies about keeping your eyes on the prize

Chris Evans in a scene from “Avengers: Endgame” (2019).

Marvel Studios/Walt Disney Pictures

BY MAKENZIE WHITTLE • The Bulletin

Who doesn't like to win at something? Whether it's the big game, a friendly competition, the lottery or going against cosmic baddies who want to eradicate half the universe's population, we love watching when people go for the gold. Here are five movies where characters kept their eyes on the prizes and triumphed in the end. Obviously, there are spoilers ahead.

Continued on next page