SPORTS BRIEFING

SOFTBALL

Oregon stays in top 10 after splitting series with Stanford — Oregon dropped in the polls but remains in the top 10 after splitting four games with Stanford. The Ducks (30-10, 8-7 Pac-12) are No. 8 with 559 points in the NFCA coaches poll and No. 10 with 322 points in the USA Softball poll after taking two of four games against the Cardinal. That's down from No. 6 with 613 points and tied for No. 7 with 365 points last week, respectively. Oregon travels to No. 12/8 Arizona State (28-11, 9-6) starting Friday at 5 p.m.

FOOTBALL

Fans not allowed to attend Oregon spring game Saturday at Autzen — Anthony Brown and other Ducks were looking forward to the family reunion aspect of Saturday's spring game as much as the competitive intra-squad showcase. "Especially that my parents will be able to come here and see me play in the stadium that I always grew up wanting to play in," Brown said of looking forward to quarterbacking the first-team offense for the first time at Autzen Stadium. Oregon had planned to allow 15% capacity for the game at Autzen Stadium (2 p.m., Pac-12 Networks). But two hours after Brown's post-practice media interview, the athletic department announced that fans will not be permitted due to directives from the Governor's Office tied to Lane County's move to the designation of "extreme risk." Passes previously claimed for the spring game will not be valid for admittance.

Geno Hayes, former NFL, Florida State linebacker, dies at 33 — Geno Hayes, a former NFL linebacker who starred at Florida State, has died. He was 33. He had liver disease and had been in hospice care at his parents' home in Valdosta, Georgia. Hayes spent four seasons with the Bucs, who drafted him in the sixth round in 2008. He then played one year with Chicago and two with Jacksonville. In an interview with ESPN this year, Hayes said he was diagnosed with chronic liver disease two years ago and had been placed on a waiting list for a transplant at the Mayo Clinic and Northwestern Medicine.

SOCCER

Israeli referee comes out as transgender woman — An Israeli soccer referee has come out as transgender and is living — and enforcing the rules of the game — as the only woman in the country's top-shelf league. Sapir Berman announced Tuesday she has received the support of her family, the local referees' union and Israeli and international soccer officials. She said players and fans have begun to address her as a woman. On Sunday, Berman will be the head referee for a playoff match between heavyweight teams Hapoel Haifa and Beitar Jerusalem. It will be a marquee event on Berman's lifelong road to living, as she said Tuesday, as herself. "I always saw myself as a woman, from a young age," Berman, whose birth name was "Sagi," told reporters at Ramat Gan Stadium, headquarters of the Israel Football Association.
