Beavers' Mulholland a semifinalist for Stopper of the Year — The Oregon State Beavers' "goofy grandpa" could also be college baseball's Stopper of the Year. Jake Mulholland, Oregon's State's record-setting closer, has been named one of 10 finalists for the Stopper of the Year award, the National Stopper of the Year award, the Year award, the Year award awar tional Collegiate Baseball Writers Association announced on Wednesday. Mulholland finished the season with a 3.03 ERA and 13 saves. He recorded 25 strikeouts in 32½ innings. In five seasons in Corvallis, the left-hander had 43 saves, the most in school history and ninth-most in Division I history. The Stopper of the Year will be announced on June 19 in Omaha at the College World Series. Beavers pitcher Will Frisch was also honored as one of college baseball's best freshmen. The righthander on Wednesday was named a Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball. Frisch went 3-0 with a 2.38 ERA in 20 games. In 56% innings, he recorded 54 strikeouts.

Djokovic, Nadal to clash in French Open semis; Gauff, Swiatek fall — Novak Djokovic overcame a 21½-minute delay while spectators left because of a COVID-19 curfew and a face-down tumble that drew blood from his left palm to pull out a quarterfinal victory against No. 9 Matteo Berrettini 6-3, 6-2, 6-7 (5), 7-5 Wednesday night. Now comes a semifinal Friday against Rafael Nadal, who is 105-2 in the clay-court tournament. Nadal's French Open set streak ended earlier Wednesday, but he had little trouble defeating 10th-seeded Diego Schwartzman 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0. On the women's side, 17th-seeded Maria Sakkari ended No. 8 Iga Swiatek's 11-match winning streak at Roland Garros by beating her 6-4, 6-4 Wednesday. On Thursday, Sakkari plays unseeded Barbora Krejcikova in the semifinals. Krejcikova advanced Wednesday by eliminating 17-year-old Coco Gauff 7-6 (6), 6-3.

"That is still in our minds and we are working to bring the trophy back to our room," said senior Anthony Hood. "The whole team wants it, especially us seniors."

Culver will go for its 13th 2A/1A state title on June 26 in Sweet Home.

Meanwhile, La Pine, the 2019 3A state champion, is working to make up for lost time as it approaches the final stretch of the season.

After just one practice, a COVID-19 outbreak at La Pine High School sent the school into quarantine after nearly half of the staff and student population tested positive for the virus in late May.

That forced La Pine to take a two-week break from all athletic activities — no practices and no competitions—during the already shortened season.

"That was the hardest part about the two weeks — I wasn't able to do anything with them," said La Pine wrestling coach and athletic director Aaron Flack. "But luckily we had good leaders that stepped up and got the team going every day doing workouts. They were sucking some wind tonight, so it definitely hurt to be off for two weeks, but it is good to be back."

"Are we in as good of shape? No. Are our fundamentals as good? No. It is what it is. But I wouldn't trade our team with any team, even the bigger ones, in the state."

While the team was on a break, Flack made his wrestlers promise that they would continue to train even while they could not practice at the school.

That led to early morning runs and meeting up at different houses, led by the senior wrestlers.

"I think that made our team a lot stronger and a lot more connected than other teams," senior Dylan Mann said. "Because we had to go through this together and work together outside of practice."

This weekend La Pine will host its regional tournament before competing in the 3A state meet, which will be held in Redmond on June 26. There is a lot to get done between now and then for the team that has just two practices and one meet under its belt this spring.

"I'm excited," Mann said. "Now we are still grinding. We have only wrestled for a week so we need to get that cardio up as much as we can in two weeks to perform at our highest ability at state."

McKinley

Continued from A5

"Verone came in as a corner and just worked and grinded in a room that was stacked with a lot of talent. All he did was work and kept pushing and all of a sudden it started clicking and he started making plays and people started noticing that and all he did after that was work harder. The respect of him by other players for him is extremely high. He is a leader on this football team."

Starter

McKinley had 41 tackles with two pass breakups, a forced fumble, recovered fumble and interception last season and if he hadn't missed time due to a targeting penalty, would've done even more.

His football IQ is invaluable at the position and with new starters coming in at boundary corner and boundary safety, vital to Oregon's defense. McKinley will make the calls in the backfield and cover the most ground.

"He's a coach on the field," safeties coach Marcel Yates said. "He's doing a good job with him being here and playing so much of not being - it's easy for a young man like him to say, 'OK I've been here I don't want to work hard.' For him he comes out every day and he works hard. He's learning the defense still but he knows it the best probably out of anybody in the room. That's always good to have somebody on the sideline helping us out."

Co-backup

Greenfield had three tackles in six games last season, mainly on special teams. Look for him to make a big jump in reps on defense, especially if Happle moves to nickel. Regardless, Greenfield is in a great long-term spot as Happle departs after 2021 and McKinley is draft eligible.

Co-backup Happle is likely going to be in the rotation at field safety and nickel. He's too valuable not to be on the field significantly — it's a matter of rotations and what the Ducks do at boundary safety.

Next wave

Daymon David enrolled early and spent most of the spring game on the boundary side of the secondary but was said to be spending time at both.
