

DEAR ABBY

Write to Dear Abby online at dearabby.com or by mail at P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069

Dear Abby: I am a 30-year-old married woman. My job requires a lot of domestic travel, which I love. My parents continue to ask that I “check in” whenever I fly, and often text or call asking me where I am, even though I provide them my schedule.

would be forced to handle it myself, regardless.

I have tried reasoning with them, but it hasn't worked. Can you help me explain to them what a normal adult-child relationship looks like, so we can stop arguing?

—Capable Adult in Pennsylvania

Dear Capable Adult: Your parents appear to be having trouble letting go of their parental role.

If you are providing them with your schedule and itinerary, you are doing enough. One way to win an “argument” is simply not to argue. If you do not wish to check in, don't do it.

Hitachi

Continued from A5

It's not clear that anyone is planning to build new factories in Oregon during the current building boom, but the state could benefit anyway from a revival in domestic chip production because of its concentration of operations like Hitachi's, which play a support role in the industry.

Hitachi said its existing Hillsboro facility has been collaborating with the company's U.S. customers on chip manufacturing technology. The company said the new facility will “consolidate and expand its technology development capabilities” in expectation of further semiconductor technology development in the U.S.

Electronics manufacturing is among Oregon's largest industries. The sector exported nearly $11 billion in products last year, nearly half the state's total exports.

Chipmaker Intel is Oregon's largest corporate employer, with 21,000 working in its factories and offices in Washington County.

Hitachi is an Intel supplier, and its new facility is just a little northwest of Intel's Ronler Acres campus, the chipmaker's main research site.

Business Oregon, the state's economic development agency, said Hitachi won't receive any state incentives.

Hitachi's new facility is in a Hillsboro enterprise zone, though, which could exempt it from local property taxes. The value of the company's savings will depend on how much it spends on the building and equipment inside.

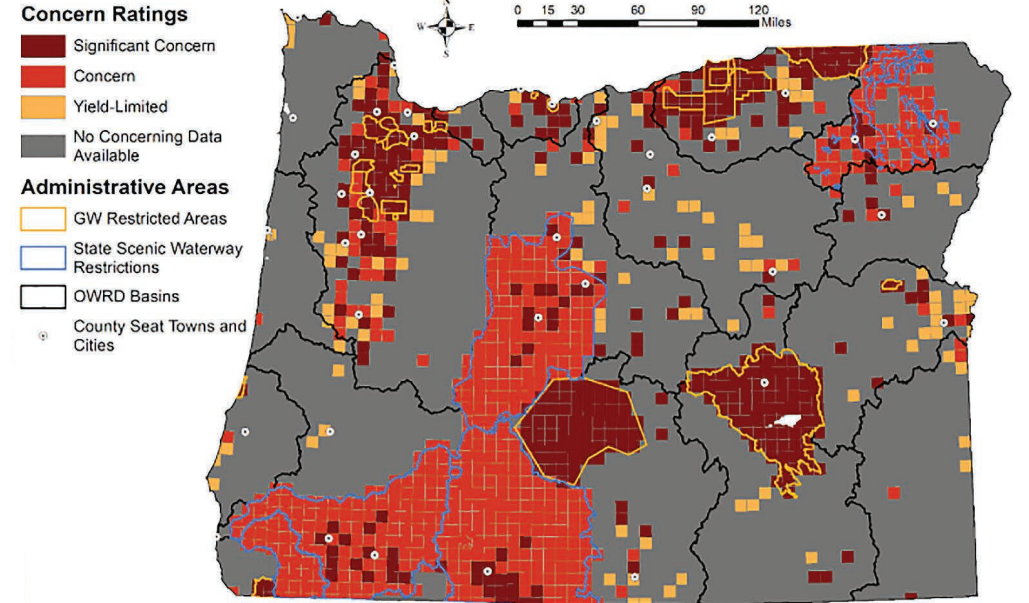

Groundwater

Continued from A5

“This is an example of how this tool can help us see areas where the existing boundaries of groundwater restricted areas may have been appropriate when they were created but don't necessarily reflect the current conditions,” he said.

The agency's study does have a “data availability bias,” in that it focuses on areas where irrigation is the most prevalent, Iverson said.

The map will be incrementally improved as OWRD incorporates more data in the future, Iverson said.

Oregon Water Resources Department

YOUR HOROSCOPE By Georgia Nicols

Stars show the kind of day you'll have

★★★★★ DYNAMIC | ★★★★★ POSITIVE | ★★★ AVERAGE | ★★ SO-SO | ★ DIFFICULT

MOON ALERT: There are no restrictions to shopping or important decisions today. The Moon is in Cancer.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 2021: You are optimistic, friendly, sociable and free-spirited! Nevertheless, you are also realistic, reliable and hardworking, but you do need variety in your life. At this time, you want to be free from the constraints you've been living with, because you want to explore your own wants and ideas. You might face a major change this year. You want more freedom.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★ You might impulsively buy something beautiful for where you live today. Or you might spontaneously entertain people at home. One thing is certain: Something pleasant and unexpected will impact your home and family life. (This could include great real-estate news!) Tonight: Entertain!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★★ Expect a lovely surprise today. For example, you might meet someone new who is delightful, or you might hear wonderful news. You also might be pleased with your surroundings for some reason. Another possibility is that someone will tell you how much they care for you. Tonight: Stay flexible.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★★ Keep your pockets open, because you can make money today ... out of the blue! Trust your moneymaking ideas. Look for ways to boost your income. Admittedly, you also will spontaneously buy something unusual and exciting, perhaps high-tech stuff or modern art. Tonight: Keep your receipts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ This is a lovely day! Fair Venus is in your sign dancing with unpredictable Uranus, which means anything can happen. You will attract new friends and want to party or have an exciting time. Freedom, adventure and a chance to push the boundaries of your daily routine are where it's at. Tonight: Enjoy!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ This is a restless day for you. But it's a happy restless! You feel a sense of eagerness today because you know that something exciting is waiting for you in the future. And, of course, you're right. Next year promises wonderful travel opportunities! Tonight: Take a rest.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★★ Expect to meet new friends today or to unexpectedly run into old friends. If you are involved in a club, group or organization, something unexpected might happen in this group. It could be exciting news, or it might be change of direction for the group. Tonight: Be friendly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ Something unexpected will make you look really good in the eyes of bosses, parents, teachers and VIPs today. It could be a promotion, some kudos or accolades, or a special announcement. Tonight: Take a bow.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ A sudden opportunity to travel might drop in your lap today. (Exciting!) Others might hear unexpected news that is favorable regarding publishing, the media or something to do with medicine or the law. Good news about a course or higher studies could be a bonus. Tonight: Make plans!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★★ Keep your pockets open today, because gifts, goodies and favors will come your way! We're talking cold hard cash! Ka-ching! Or you might increase your wealth indirectly through your partner or a third party. Meanwhile, romance might be unexpectedly promising! Tonight: Anything can happen.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

★★★★ This is a fabulous day to socialize! Enjoy schmoozing with partners, close friends and members of the general public. In fact, something unexpected might happen. Count on hearing something surprising that you did not know. Tonight: Stay tuned in.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★★ Expect a pleasant surprise related to your work today. A new co-worker in your midst might be an interesting change. Some of you might hear surprising, pleasant news about your health. Yet others will be surprised about something related to a pet. Tonight: Fun times!

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★★ Love at first sight will occur for some of you today. Unexpected news about a social outing, possibly even a vacation, will delight you. Parents should be vigilant about their kids, because things are unpredictable related to children. Tonight: Party!

DEATH NOTICES

Bruce Ashback
October 14, 1951 - June 04, 2021

Arrangements:
Evergreen Memorial Gardens, 360-892-6060, evergreenmemorialgardens.com
Services:
TBD in Portland, contact Sara Ashback for details: sara.ashback@gmail.com
Contributions may be made to:
A local food bank or veterans' organization

OBITUARY DEADLINE

Call to ask about our deadlines
541-385-5809
Monday - Friday, 10am - 3pm
No death notices or obituaries are published Mondays.
Email:
obits@bendbulletin.com

OBITUARY

Susan Asla

November 16, 1959 - April 15, 2020

Time to Celebrate the Amazing Life of Susan (Quinn) Asla

When: Sunday, June 27th

Where: Bend Golf and Country Club
61045 Country Club Dr, Bend Oregon 97702

Time: 12 noon - 2pm (lunch will be provided)

Please join our family as we celebrate all the different way's Susan had such an impact/influence on our lives. This will be a celebration of all those times.

Please share and reach out to all so that we do not miss inviting anyone.

We have plenty of space inside and outside to accommodate social distancing guidelines. Please come and share your experiences and interactions with our wonderful Susan.

Health care

Continued from A5

Until now, employers were required to report a hospitalization only if it came within 24 hours of a workplace exposure. Now all work-related COVID-19 hospitalizations must be reported.

The day after he took office, President Joe Biden issued an executive order calling on OSHA to “take swift action to reduce the risk that workers may contract COVID-19 in the workplace.”

The rule has been criticized for coming late — about which Labor Department officials said on a press call that such standards typically take years, not months, to formulate. It has also been derided for failing to enact requirements on employers outside of health care.

“OSHA's failure to issue a COVID-specific standard in other high-risk industries, like meat and poultry processing, corrections, homeless shelters and retail establishments is disappointing,” according to a statement from David Michaels, a former OSHA administrator and professor with the George Washington University School of Public Health.

The new rule also cites 67,000 worker complaints during the pandemic, with “more complaints about healthcare settings than any other industry.” The rule would protect workers from retaliation for staying home when sick with COVID-19, alerting their employer about a COVID-19 hazard or exercising their rights under the emergency rule.

Through March 7, about half of health care workers said they had received at least their first dose of a COVID-19 vaccine, according to a KFF-Washington Post poll. About one-third of those polled said they were unsure if they would get a vaccine. The issue has been controversial, especially in Houston, where workers at one hospital staged a protest over their employer's vaccine mandate.

The new rules exempt some office-based health care workplaces where all staff members are vaccinated and measures are taken to screen people with potential illness. The rule summary estimates the measures will prevent 776 deaths and 295,000 infections.

The new rule also says it will “enable OSHA to issue more meaningful penalties for willful or egregious violations, thus facilitating better enforcement and more effective deterrence against employers who intentionally disregard ... employee safety.”

Kristin Carbone said the measure came too late for her mother, Barbara Birchenough, 65, a New Jersey hospital nurse who'd asked family members to gather gardening gloves and trash bags to serve as makeshift personal protective equipment before she fell ill and later died on April 15, 2020. Still, she said, it's a necessary step.

“If there is a silver lining,” she said, “I'm glad that out of this tragedy come positives for the people that are left behind.”

WE'RE ALL PART of Central Oregon
HISTORY

The Bulletin is proud to announce its partnership with Deschutes Historical Museum and our readers on a new pictorial history book, “Hello Bend! Central Oregon Reinvented — 1950-2000: A Pictorial History.”

YOU'RE INVITED TO SHARE YOUR PHOTOS!

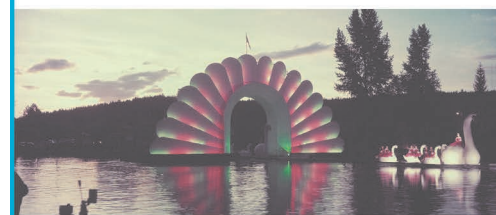

We are excited to invite you, our readers, to participate in this unique project. Please bring your photos to one of our scanning sessions listed here — and be sure to check our submission guidelines. Photos will be scanned on-site and given right back to you. In order to keep things speedy, please fill out our simple photo submission form prior to the session. Forms can be downloaded at HelloBend.PictorialBook.com. Please plan to fill out one form for each photo you'd like to submit.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

- » General interest photos, such as: commerce, industry, transportation, rural life, public service, etc.
- » Photos taken between 1950 and 2000.
- » Photos taken in Central Oregon.
- » If you're a private collector, call 360-723-5800 to set up an appointment.
- » Photos will become part of the Deschutes Historical Museum's archived collection.

SCANNING SESSIONS

- Thursday, June 10 5:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.
 - Friday, June 11 5:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.
 - Saturday, June 12 9 a.m. – 11 a.m.
 - Saturday, June 12 1 p.m. – 3 p.m.
- The Bulletin
320 SW Upper Terrace Dr., Ste. #200, Bend

Photos already scanned? Upload your photos and learn more at

HelloBend.PictorialBook.com

Not all photos submitted or used in ads will appear in the final book.

The Bulletin
EMPOWERING OUR COMMUNITY