

What's Available NOW On

“Critter Fixers: Country Vets, Season 2” (Available now)

A mule in need of a pedicure, an alpaca with parasites, a fainting goat and a sick puppy are among the cases brought before Drs. Terrence Ferguson and Vernard Hodges of rural Georgia's Critter Fixer Veterinary Hospital in the sophomore round of this unscripted National Geographic series.

“Garfield” (Available now)

Bill Murray supplies the voice of the computer-animated fat cat in this 2004 comedy. Annoyed at the arrival of Odie the dog, Garfield locks him outside. Odie wanders off and is picked up by a small-time entertainer (Stephen Tobolowsky) who wants to take him to the big city to use in his act. A now-repentant Garfield sets out to get him back.

“Sydney to the Max” (Available now)

This family sitcom stars Ruth Righi as middle-school student Sydney Reynolds, who lives with her single dad, Max (Ian Reed Kesler), in the home where he grew up, with his mother, Judy (Caroline Rhea). As Sydney's interests and activities begin to mature, Max turns to Judy for her perspective in scenes that shift back and forth between the present and the 1990s, when Max was Sydney's age.

“The Simpsons: The Good, the Bart and The Loki” (Available now)

The long-running Fox series meets the Marvel Cinematic Universe in this animated short that finds Loki (voice of Tom Hiddleston) banished to Springfield, where he joins forces with Bart (voice of Nancy Cartwright) to fight against his toughest adversaries. “Simpsons” regulars Dan Castellaneta and Yeardley Smith are also in the voice cast, as are Dawnn Lewis and Maurice La Marche. OF ‘MYSTERY 101: DEADLY HISTORY’
ON HALLMARK MOVIES & MYSTERIES

What do you think about the “Mystery 101” franchise now reaching its seventh installment with “Deadly History”?

We've been very lucky to have this many episodes ... and even as a fan of the show, I'm curious about what happens next, even after this one. It's left with such a big cliffhanger, even more of one than the last time, this can't be the last one. It had better not be!

While your “Mystery 101” character Amy Winslow is a college professor, she's also been credible as an amateur sleuth. Has it been a challenge to balance those aspects?

In doing one of these mystery shows, I really wanted it to be believable that she would be an asset to Travis (the police detective played in the films by Kristoffer Polaha). Anybody who teaches a class, and especially one known as Mystery 101, means she probably knows as much or more than Travis about detective work just through reading and studying. She wouldn't be someone who just tagged along.

You and your husband are awaiting the arrival of your second child together soon, and shortly after you welcomed your first one last year, you made the latest of your many Hallmark holiday movies (“The Angel Tree”). If the timing and the circumstances allow, are you game to film another one for the upcoming holiday season?

Last time, about a month later, I was ready to go – so, yeah, I'm here to work. I'll just have two babies with me! There have been definite conversations, so if someone wants me to do one and the script is great, I'm down for it. And if not, I'm also down for staying on the farm and putting my feet up.
