Nelly Korda makes up ground to beat sister Jessica in Ladies European Tour team event— American Nelly Korda shot a 5-under 67 Saturday to make up seven strokes on her sister Jessica Korda and win the Aramco Team Series on the Ladies European Tour. Nelly Korda had bogeys on her second and final holes but it was still enough for a three-shot victory over her older sister, Spaniard Ana Pelaez Trivino and France's Pauline Roussin. Nelly Korda finished with a 13-under total at the La Reserva Club de Sotogrande, in Spain. "I haven't won this year, so it feels nice to get a win under my belt but I'm also very sad as it wasn't the day Jess was expecting," Nelly Korda said. Jessica Korda shot a 5-over 77 to relinquish her six-shot lead over Roussin entering the final round. She had a 4-under 68 in the second round after opening with an 11-under 61 that broke the course record.

'Lucky' Larson wins Xfinity Series race at Watkins Glen — Kyle Larson zoomed past Ty Gibbs and William Byron when the two leaders made contact with under five laps to go, then held off A.J. Allmendinger to win the Xfinity Series race at Watkins Glen International in New York on Saturday. Byron and Gibbs dominated the 82-lap race around the 2.45-mile road course but came together after the final restart. Byron swung wide coming out of the first turn, and the two were side-by-side before they collided. Larson was in the perfect spot to take advantage and zoomed past into the lead for his first road course win in the series. "I got lucky," said Larson, one of a handful of Cup regulars in the field. Sammy Smith was third, followed by Noah Gragson and Kaz Grala. Byron finished 25th, two spots ahead of Gibbs.

Offseason work pays off for DB Kitan Oladapo

BY LES GEHRETT
Albany Democrat-Herald
Kitan Oladapo has been one of the standouts of fall camp for the Oregon State football team.

The 6-foot-1 defensive back from Happy Valley said having a full season under his belt has helped him better understand his role within defensive coordinator Trent Bray's system. Oladapo also had a productive offseason tightening up some areas of his game. "Taking coaching points, watching film from last year, working on the small mistakes I made, whether it's breaks, eyes, just watching film and seeing what I can improve on," Oladapo said.

Improving his coverage skills was a primary goal and his progress in that area has been evident throughout fall camp. The team has emphasized proper technique in pass coverage, using different drills which take away defenders' ability to hold and demand good positioning. On Thursday, defensive backs wore boxing gloves for part of practice. Oladapo said Bray's system, which reduces complexity in favor of freeing players to make quick decisions and play aggressively, has been a positive change. "We've shrunk down our play calls a little bit, but we're sticking to the fundamentals, really getting down those play calls that we have. I think that is good," Oladapo said. The defense has performed well throughout camp and Bray said after Thursday's practice at Prothro Field that he is pleased with the defensive players' focus and execution. "I feel great about where we're at, the techniques we've taught and then the players' buy-in and execution of those techniques," Bray said. "I feel very good about where we're at right now." Coaches will begin informing players about their roles
