FROM BURGLAR TO LAWYER

Clarence White, who has been arrested, charged with numberless burglaries and who was acquitted recently in Chicago on the charge of murdering T. J. Marshall, is going to be come a criminal lawyer. After passing through the vicissitudes of a three months' stay in the county jail and a trial on a charge of murder, to say nothing of previous experiments with the police and the courts, he believes he can put his knowledge to a practical use by helping others out of scrapes. The only thing to interfere with the plan is a lack of money, and it may become necessary for him to become an actor before he becomes a lawyer.

He has also a big offer to go before the public as a dime museum attraction, but he thinks he already has had enough notoriety of that kind. His chief desire now, he says, is to get to work and avoid any more sensations. He will go into whatever is honest and will pay him best, and when he has earned money enough will begin the study of law. In this ambition he is encouraged by his mother and his attorney.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Against the Sultan.

London, Sept. 16.—The Standard publishes a dispatch from Constantinople that the young Turk party is covering the city with placards inciting the people to dethrone the sultan. Serious trouble, it is added is certain to occur within a week. Turkish troopships are nightly deporting Armenians to the Black sea, where it is believed they are drowned.

The British residents, at the instance of the British embassy, have telegraphed to Lord Salisbury, stating that their lives and property are in danger. The French residents have taken similar action. British and French fleets are now near the mouth of the Dardanelles. Faud Pasha, one of the sultan's aid-decamps, was questioned as to how long the forts along the Dardanelles could check the passage of the warship, and he replied that they could stop them for about half an hour.

FROM SALEM.

Salem, Sept. 16.—The preliminary statements by attorneys and hearing testimony of a long array of witnesses in the Parrish will contest case, occupied the time of the county court today. J. L. Parrish was an Oregon pioneer, widely known and respected. His estate involves about $50,000. His last will was executed February 1, 1889 After bequeathing nominal sums to each of his children, Samuel L. Parrish, Charles, Grace and Josie Parrish, the remainder was willed to his wife, Mattie L. Parrish. The heirs now seek to set aside the will alleged ground that undue influence was used in securing the making of the will.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 16.—The last stop before Asheville was at Hot Spring, the summer and winter resorts, where several hundred gazed at Bryan for two minutes, and as the train pulled out cheered him loudly.

The train whizzed by the little village of Marshall, and the 200 people on the depot platform shouted as they caught sight of Bryan who came to the back platform of the train. By the track alongside the mountains, barefooted men grouped themselves in knots and yelled excitedly when they saw the banners displayed on the sides of the cars, which read: "We carry the next president—William Jennings Bryan."

Deming, N. M., Sept. 14.—Fifty Tomochie Indians surrounded the custom-house at Palomas, Mexico, 30 miles south of this city, today. The officers repulsed them. Three of the Indians started for town, two of whom were wounded. One was caught just south of town, and is under arrest at this place. It is said there are 300 Tomochie Indians in the Florida mountains, 15 miles south of here. The town is greatly excited.
