Moore and R. A. Miller. This new order, which is the seventh on the list of fraternal societies in Burns, starts out in a flattering condition. The names of the six other orders are: A. F. & A. M., O. E. S., I. O. O. F., D. of R., K. of P. and A. O. U. W.

The Exhibition.

The performance and dance given by the Burns Athletic Club on the evening of the 9th, was well attended. The boys, as usual, made the occasion profitable to the club as well as pleasing to the spectators.

This feature of our town is deserving of special mention, as it is something of a new departure in this place. The steady growth of the club since its organization, the fore part of last May, shows the interest taken by our people in this class of needed exercise. The membership which is now 46, is steadily growing.

The gymnasium is fairly well supplied with apparatus, and sufficiently large to accommodate all.

Another feature of this young organization is the lack of rivalry among its members. Slugging is not tolerated. While no regular teacher of physical training is employed, yet the showing made under the conditions was good.

It seems to us that the membership of the fire company ought to be largely made up of the boys belonging to the Athletic Club. The training they undergo fits them for the hard ordeals which firemen have to encounter. Another thing, if the fire company is to be of any benefit to the town, they should by all means get out and practice at least once each week for the next three or four months.

Tree Planting.

The people of Burns should pay more attention to the planting of shade trees. A few trees of suitable variety planted each year and cared for thereafter, would enhance the value of Burns real estate fifty per cent, say nothing of the more attractive and pleasing appearance it would give to the town.

Nothing helps to beautify a place more than an abundance of shade trees and shrubbery. More especially is this so in countries where timber is scarce. To those who remain unconverted to the fact that trees can be successfully cultivated, we would suggest a trip to the beautiful grounds of County Clerk H. Kelley.

After viewing these grounds, go to the attractive home of Henry E. Thompson, of the firm of Geer & Co. You will find Mr. Jacob Thompson there, ready and willing to give you all needed information in regard to the best methods to be followed in tree planting and gardening in general. And right here we wish to say that what "Uncle Jake" does not know about this line of work you are just as well off if you never know. To all who are acquainted with him he is authority on such matters. But do not get angry if he tells you that the secret of his success is hard work, and if you expect to be successful you will have to get up in the morning. We notice many who are making improvements in this line. This is a step in the right direction. As evidence of what can be done in a few months, we would call attention to the newly seeded lawn surrounding the cottage of Doctor Marsden. The Doctor is making his residence in point of beauty second to none in the county.

With only a small amount of pains we might all make our homes more attractive as well as more valuable. Burns is steadily growing and the impression sent abroad by those who visit us would be of great value in advertising our thrifty and growing city.

ESTRAY.

One high bred milk cow, branded R with a bar under it on the right hip; wattle on back of left ham; earmarks, round underbit in each ear close to the head. She is supposed to be on the hills west of Burns. J. R. Gould will give any one who brings the same, with calf, to his residence, $5.

A Difference of Opinion.

Two dogs, one black, the other red, Met upon the corner.

The black dog to the red dog said, I'll stand your works no longer.

I never shall apologize, Said the sandy canine, grinning.

The coon who thinks I will, he lies, And I'll send him a spinning.

Come sail right in, you lurid whelp, Don't think you'll make me run.

In no time I can make you yelp, For I'm a fighting son-of-a-gun.

As if to put a fitting climax upon the many contests participated in by the sporting element last week, the above conversation is supposed to have taken place.

THE TIMES-HERALD's devil, whose strong point lies in witnessing a dog fight, rather than giving it a good write up, a whole lot, was in evidence on the occasion, and vouches that the rules and regulations governing dog fights were carried out to the letter. It is the opinion of his devilishness that this encounter should not be allowed to pass unnoticed, notwithstanding the fact that the editorial apostle has informed us that the columns of his religious weekly will always be used in the suppression of such acts of violence, and woe to the man who otherwise appropriates them. But we have dog fights and fighting dogs just the same.
