

The federal appointments agreed upon by Oregon's congressional delegation have caused a great deal of dissatisfaction and many a knife will be unsheathed by the disappointed ones on the eve of the next campaign. T. T. Geer's political career has been turned down by the federal appointments and he will not be able to secure the position of register of the Oregon City mail office. It is thought that Senator Patterson of Marion county will get the coveted position, although there is much opposition to him. The Times-Herald was formerly feeling for Mr. Geer, but advises him to accept the position tendered him. A salary of $3,000 a year and perquisites is not to be regarded as a bad thing. Besides, we think he will be offered nothing else. Mr. Geer is too honest and ambitious to make such a sacrifice of customs as his party's manager's desire. That is the whole thing in a nutshell.—Jacksonville Times.

The published opinion of the commissioner of pensions concerning the marrying of one's pensioner indicates that wives can be held although the pensioner is a convict. The commission says that the death of a convict pensioner is as good as a death sentence.

It was stated in Washington, Consul General Fitz Lee, who is now on a vacation, is to return to Cuba next month, what is to become of ex-Congressman Albrecht, of P., who has been regarded as General Lee's successor?

Senator Gorham was confident before the republicans of the state to be in a position to support the measure and would be a great asset to the administration in the coming year.

Mr. John G. Woods, of the Lewisville, Ky., post office, is here to check the state accounts with the federal government.

Senator Chandler still insists that the Frye was either a thief or a liar, but he is not willing to discuss the matter further.

Some persons appear to forget that the price of bar silver has not the slightest effect upon the purchasing power of the United States dollar, which purchases anything that a gold dollar will buy.

Boss Hanna is resorting to the same old scheme of trying to influence voters in Ohio. Perhaps he thinks they will be cheaper than the money he has to spend to buy the votes.

The imperial cross for gall belonging to the late William W. Carr, of Mass., who says Carr Reed reappointed him chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee because he couldn't get along without him.

The men who did any real fighting regard that newly discovered record of Mack Linn's life as a most interesting story.

The engagement of the young girl, New York, on a yearly campaign seems to be much better than that of the other girls.

It is just as well to remember that there are two sides to every story.

Mr. McKinley worked harder in Ohio than most men do when taking a vacation. It wasn't for the good of the country, however that he worked, but for the good and under the order of Boss Hanna.

What Dan Lamont doesn't know about running a big railroad he will proceed to learn, while he looks wise and keeps quiet.

Gov. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, seems determined to play the role of the lone fisherman in the politics of the state.

No court has yet issued an injunction to prevent a man marrying the woman of his choice, but there is no telling how soon the injunction craze may reach that stage.

According to the New York newspaper, fraudulent persons to the extent of thousands of dollars are being paid in all kinds of ways and through the hands of some in that city and vicinity.

If Boss Quay's advice is followed, the state will wear a house and carry a dinner basket during the remainder of the campaign.

Assistant Secretary Day is back in Washington and Mr. John Brown is in control of the state department.

Matrimonial.

E. B. London of the well known firm of Messrs. London & London of this city was married to Miss Katherine Gill of Portland last Wednesday. The following is taken from the Sunday Oregonian of Sept. 12th:

London Gill—Miss Kate Josephine Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Gill was quietly married last Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock to Mr. Edwin Brown Smith London. The wedding was celebrated in Grace M. E. church, Rev. Dr. Ramsay officiating. Under the skillful touch of Mrs. W. E. Thomas, the organ pealed out in mighty tones the "Wedding March" from T. Schauer, as the bridal party moved to church. At the hour appointed the minister entered at the east or vestry door, followed by the groom, accompanied by his best man Mr. Robert Catlin. Miss Frances Gill, maid of honor, preceded the bride, who followed escorted by her father, J. K. Gill. At the altar the full marriage service of the Methodist Episcopal church was read by the minister, the contracting parties responding. The bride was beautifully dressed in white organdie, and wore a snow-white tulle veil, and in her youthful beauty was as calm and fair as the sunshine that streamed upon her. The maid of honor wore a simple dress of rose colored, figured organdie, and presented a charming contrast to her brown haired sister, the bride. After the ceremony the young couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, amid the showers of blessings and harmless missiles. The happy pair departed for a short sojourn at the seashore. Mr. and Mrs. London will be at home at the residence of the bride's mother, 18 North Twenty-third street, next Wednesday and Thursday. They will leave soon after for their future home at Burns, Or.
