

Lewis & Byrd,

REAL ESTATE AGENTS.

BURNS, OREGON.

We have for sale the following City property in Burns:

Eighteen Blocks in the Morrison Addition and the whole of the Brown Addition, containing the most desirable residence property in town. This property is offered very cheap for cash or in installments.

Lots 3 and 4 in Block 25. This is known as the J. S. Kanyon residence and is in a very desirable neighborhood and is offered very low for cash. This is undoubtedly the best bargain in town.

A good ranch containing 160 acres, on Pease Creek, 7 miles North East known as the A. Hembree place, for sale low for cash or on reasonable time. Expedited title.

In farm property we have 160 acres of good agricultural land 7 miles south of Burns. Thirty acres in cultivation, good house and barn. Title perfect and a bargain at $1100.

No trouble to show property or give prices.

We have a nice farm, containing 385 acres, two miles southwest of Eugene, Oregon, and on the gravel road. Good dwelling, good barn and outhouses; good orchard and well fenced, worth $7,000, to trade for a stock ranch in Eastern Oregon of equal value.

160 acres good hay land, 9 miles South of Burns. This property is in good condition and is the best bargain in the Valley.

Wise and Otherwise.

The latest song is a character duet, entitled, "Hug me to death Darling."

An exchange says that every time Hanna takes snuff McKinley sneezes.

Bathing suits are the best detectives we have now days, for they expose a great number of frauds.

A woman is judged by the way she talks about her neighbors, but a man is judged by the way he talks of himself.

The lecturer after giving the fat man a ticket was asked, "And may I know why this honor befalls me?" The answer was, "Oh! You'll help to fill up the hall."

The owl remarked to the parrot that people said he was a very wise bird, and asked, "what do you think?" The parrot replied "I don't think."

She never told her love, Her passion never chafed; She didn't get a chance, in fact, He took it all for granted.

Weyler may be a very brave man but in our opinion when it comes to war the American that "gets" him will have to go to Spain to find him.

A quarrel between Great Britain and France as to which is the rightful owner of some body else's property in Africa is not wholly devoid of a humorous aspect.—World.

"Out of work again, 'at? I thought that Old Skifflet gave you a job?" "He did, sor, but O'll be kilt afore O'll starve to death for the sake of kapin' alive, sor."

Those Klondikers may be a trifle short on cash, but they are long on capital. The Bonanza-Electro Company, of Aspinwall Dawson, has been formed and capitalized at $2,000,000. This is the first venture, a mere feeder, with Col. Sellers to hear from.

The Spanish ship, the Alphonse XIII, which was in the harbor of Havana at the time of the disaster, lay close to the M. I. on the day before the explosion. This she moved. It is stated that she might have been seriously damaged if she had not moved. Her former captain, who is now a work in my veins was a perfect Spaniard in that part of the world.—Statesman.
