TERSE, TART AND TIMELY.

If the rumors that France was inclined to secretly assist Spain bring about boycotts of French goods in numerous places, it may be imagined what would be the result if France actually assisted Spain. The people of the U. S. are the best customers of France.

The men who want all the war taxes put upon the other fellows are very active at Washington, and the results of their activity will probably be visible to the naked eye when the war-revenue bill has been finally disposed of.

If it takes the United States — months to get a small army equipped to fight a fifth-rate nation like Spain, how long would it take to equip an army large enough to fight a first-class nation, on anything like equal terms.

The latest home bluff of the Spanish cabinet is the circulation of the report that Russia and France had become allied with Spain. If the Spanish people believe that they will believe most anything.

It is evident that the efforts of the democrats in Congress to prevent a big issue of bonds will be unsuccessful, but the people who are opposed to bonds, will not forget to give proper credit for those efforts.

The government censorship did not extend to the Pacific coast, or there would not have been so much newspaper space devoted to a description of the departure of reinforcements for the Philippine Islands.

Some of the newly made officers who are credited with a desire to see the invasion of Cuba postponed until fall may only be anxious to have the war last long enough for them to wear out their new uniforms.

The sudden expression of love and admiration for everything American on the part of France indicates that the press agent of the Paris Exposition is beginning to earn his money.

"Fighting Joe" Wheeler only weighs one hundred and fifteen pounds, but his opponents in a fight have never classed him with the light-weights.
