

The Times-Herald.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1888.

JULIAN BIRD — Manager.

We would be pleased to have those of our readers who have cattle for sale to let us know, by letter or otherwise, the number they have and their ages. Several of our stock men have mentioned to us that they have beef cattle and no buyers, and as it is getting rather late in the season, we can perhaps help them to dispose of them in a short time.

The large amount of improvement going on at this time and the substantial business buildings and dwellings being erected, not only shows that the people of Burns are prosperous, but also that they are here to stay and have confidence in the future prosperity of the country. There is room for many more such people in Harney county, with thousands of acres of government land upon which to make a home.

More Cattle.

We have learned during the past few days that there are at least 1,000 head of beef cattle for sale in this vicinity ranging in age from one to three years old.

In some way it has been circulated on the outside that there were no more cattle to be had here this fall and some buyers who contemplated coming here thought it of no use. Those who did come have bought all they can handle this season and have driven them to the railroad.

The reports that there are no cattle for sale here are started by local buyers who do not wish outside buyers to come in and compete with them. Of course it is merely business with them and if they could handle all the cattle there would not be any objections to it, as they, as a general thing, pay as good prices as others. But when it works a hardship on our small stockmen that have from 30 to 100 head for sale and no buyers we have a "strike" coming.

At no time, that we remember of, has there been cattle buyers in this county who were willing to pay the prevailing prices, but that they could get all the cattle desired and we can at least insure 1000 head to those country at this time.

A WARMS THING ON A COLD DAY—

These days are getting shorter and we shiver and draw our garments closer around us, as we go from the house into the open air. All this suggests the proximity winter, warm SUITS and OVERCOATS, which La Epstein, the Merchant Tailor, can furnish at prices from $12.50 up for suits, and $10.50 up for over coats.

Miss Docia Warlow, a sister of John Warlow, one of the drivers on the O-B stage, committed suicide at her home near Medford, Jackson county, Oct. 10, by hanging. She was engaged to be married to James Wyland, whose suicide by shooting was reported about two weeks ago.

It is now known that they agreed to end their lives, and that they had an appointment to meet the evening on which Wyland killed himself for that purpose, having told her that he would be a noted character when he came.

The body of Miss Warlow was found in the barn where she committed the deed. The matter is shrouded in mystery, and no one seems to be able to assign any cause.

A petition was circulated some time ago here and at other post offices along the line of the Ontario

Burns stage line to have the schedule changed in order that the stage

would be on the road two days and one night instead of two nights and one day as the present schedule is.

Many of our citizens signed it under the impression that it would not make any difference in our mail service, but some have looked the matter up and find it will make our mail at least 12 hours later than

at present, as the mail trains arrive

at Ontario as follows: West bound at 12 o'clock noon and the East bound at 3:30 or 4 o'clock p. m.

The stage leaving at 5:30 o'clock p. m. brings the mail that arrives on these trains while if it left at 6 o'clock a. m. the mail would lay at Ontario 14 hours before leaving for Burns. A remonstrance will be sent out to the P. O. department.
