

Instant of our troubles in the Philippines being over, they are apparently just beginning.

Boss Platt is too wise to boast of the ease with which he controls Gov. "Teddy"; he just lets things do his talking.

Nobody seriously believes that any intentional slight was put upon Gen. Joe Wheeler at the recent Confederate reunion.

Unless the news from Cuba is misleading, the McKinley-Alger ploy over there has brought the Cubans to the verge of revolt.

M. M. Kinley is willing that his name in Washington, except White House, shall be presented to Admiral Dewey for a home.

The attempt to jolly John Sherman into making an exhibition of his sore spots at the Ohio republican convention is still going on.

The newspapers demonstrated their liberality by paying telegraph bills and giving free space in their columns to matter advertising the Virginia Hot Springs.

The English editors who got "shifty" because Ambassador Choate put Sampson into the exclusive class as Dewey and Nelson had ample room to kick.

Mayhew will give Admiral Schley a testimonial silver service costing $500 but the Navy Department keeps Sampson in command of a fine squadron of warships.

The jerseyman who got himself into a German jail for speaking of the German Emperor, in a German beer garden, as a big "stiff" doesn't reflect any credit upon his German parentage, or his American raising.

The wobbling of the New York Stock Market, on account of the death of ex-Gov. Flower, carried a warning to all stock gamblers, but whoever knew a gambler to keep any warning short of the loss of his money.

As the result of his observation while in the east, Col. Bryan said: "The democratic party is in better shape now than it was a year before the last national campaign, and the platform is stronger than it was in 1896." Such an opinion is decidedly encouraging.

Rev. Dr. Burrell, of New York, said from his pulpit: "If President McKinley wants my vote again he will have to unload himself of Alger before he receives a second nomination." Thousands who voted for McKinley feel the same way.

Fresh, German and English subjects have put in claims for more than $20,000,000 for property destroyed in Cuba, which this country is asked to pay. These claims are not legally worth the paper they are written upon, but claim agents with necessary "pull" have secured the money for others equally as bad.

The democrats of the second congressional district of Maine, who have nominated John Scott as their candidate to succeed the late Nelson Dingley, declared for the Chicago platform and denounced McKinleyism for having "Given the country brutal political bossism, relentless and grasping trustism, unadulterated, unreconciling and detestable modern republicanism and bold and un-American imperialism."

The industrial colony of southern negroes, which is shortly to be established on Long Island near New York city, will be watched with much interest. Although no white people are to be allowed to live within the limits of the colony, the factories which are to furnish work for the colonists will be owned by the whites.

Flying Machines will surely come some day, but they will hardly come out of the $25,000 government appropriation which is being expended by Prof. Langley; a machine just finished by him has proven a failure.

Keeping the volunteers in the Philippines isn't half as objectionable as the deceptive methods by which it has been done.

Country is to be congratulated for giving his new paper.

People Indignant.

The death of Mrs. B. A. Dickenson which occurred last Saturday night has caused much talk and comment by the citizens of Burns, many of whom censure the Christian Scientists for the manner in which the case was treated.

We have made particular inquiry about the matter and in conversation with parties who know the facts find that the deceased was left without medical for some time when it is thought she was in need of such, in fact the case was almost hopeless when a doctor was summoned.

In the first place the lady gave birth to a child and the Christian Scientists took charge of the case. Three or four days after confinement Mr. Dickenson called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Bennett, the adopted parents of the deceased, and said they were going to have the invalid up and dressed the next day. The old people begged him not to allow it, but we do not know whether their instructions were carried out or not.

Fourteen days after the child was born a doctor was called and informed Mr. Dickenson that his wife was a very sick woman and that he should have called medical aid before. After treating the case for a short time and upon going there one day last week he was told that the Christian Scientists were there and were treating the patient and that his services were not needed.

After discharging the physician the patient was given sausage to eat and we are informed they tried to get sour kraut for her, against the wishes of her parents, who begged that she not be given such food. Several ladies of Burns called at different times and offered their services to help nurse the invalid but it seems all were refused except people who had the same faith of the Christian Scientists.

On Tuesday, May 16, Mr. Bennett called to see how she was getting along and was told that she had died and that they (the Christian Scientists) had restored her to life.

On Friday afternoon the doctor was again called, having been told that Mrs. Dickenson requested it. He did what he could but his case had gone too long and his efforts were unavailing.

The people of this place are very indignant and relatives talk of prosecuting those whom they consider are to blame for her death.

We know that we will be criticized by some for publishing this statement but everything can be vouched for by good reliable people and we think it right that the people know the truth. We could say a great deal more on the subject, but are satisfied in giving the above facts.

Bounty Grabbers

Coyote hunting for the bounty according to a despatch from Pendleton, is to be taken up by large numbers of persons this season as a productive industry. Even the Indians of the Eastern Oregon Reservation will forego their customary summer pleasuring for the profits of the coyote chase. When the returns come in this fall, there will probably be claims covering the whole appropriation and more.

This was the case in California, where several hundred thousand dollars were paid out without notably relieving the coyote supply. Indeed, the general impression was that the hunters, with an eye to future profit, were careful to leave a sufficient number of coyotes in each district to keep up the breed. One especially thrifty bounty grabber, it was found, went so far as to enclose a large area of waste land with a high barbed wire fence, wherein he bred some thousands of coyotes for their scalps. In the end it was found in California that the bounty was not large enough to go round, and the law was repealed, leaving unpaid claims to the amount of $100,000. And to this day the legislature has declined to arrange their payment.—Oregonian.
