

JULIAN BYRD

Mr. McKinley didn't tell anybody in New England that he was expecting Aguinaldo's surrender.

Georgetown University has conferred honorary degrees upon Gen Joe Wheeler and Admiral Schley.

Chicago-made money seems to be good enough for the English nobility. Miss Daisy Leiter is booked to marry the Earl of Suffolk.

Massachusetts is credited with producing a breed of ducks that cannot swim, which is a side swipe at all the old gag about swimming ducks.

Mr. McKinley is a strong believer in the efficacy of the personal exhibition style of advertisement so popular with circus and minstrel managers.

The New York Sun is so fond of truth that it insists upon forcing proven lies upon its readers as such. 'Twas not thus in the days of the elder Dana.

While Boss Hanna travels in luxury, the wives and children of the striking employes of his Cleveland street railway may want bread for all he cares.

Some good friend ought to whisper in the Kaiser Billy's ear when he blows too hard about the invincibility of Germany, that however high the rocket may go the stick has to fall.

Kentucky has fearless judges, but Judge Eversole, who was afraid to go into the territory in which the White Howard feud is raging to hold a regular session of his court, isn't one of them.

'Joe' Coate will need all the tact that he is credited with possessing when he gives that dinner on July 5th, at the American Embassy, in London, in the joint honor of Arch-bishop Ireland and Senator Hanna.

When members of the administration say that press reports from Manila are exaggerated they talk like children. Every line of matter cabled from Manila has to be approved by the Military censor appointed by Gen Otis.

The Mazet investigation committee has made such a fizzle that it is not surprising that it should have adjourned to August 1.

The men who started it would be glad to have it adjourn permanently, if they did not dread the ridicule that would be heaped upon them.

Regardless of their opinions as to permanent retention of the islands, the people are very decidedly against the maintenance of a permanent war in the Philippines which will result if the administration doesn't make its prosecution of the war much more vigorous than it has yet done.

Ben Harrison ought to have gone to Europe sooner. He has gained a reputation for being witty by telling the Venezuelan Arbitration Commission that four days work was enough for ordinary men a week and that himself and all the others connected with the arbitration were only ordinary men. Wonder would four days be enough if Ben was working by the day?

The Maryland Democratic Editorial Association started a ball to rolling that ought not to stop until it goes through every state when it insisted that the rural party press be given a hearing before party councils decide upon platforms and candidates, which the party press is expected to support regardless of thanks or any other sort of recognition. The country editor always does more for his party than his party does for him.

According to the president of the Commercial Travelers' National League, who is good authority, the formation of trusts in this country will result in throwing 35,000 drummers out of work and in reducing the pay of 35,000 more, the total loss of salaries alone aggregation $60,000,000 while the railroads will lose $21,000,000 and the hotels $28,000,000, not to mention what the consumers will lose by increased prices. Still men like Havemeyer the king of the sugar trust, have the effrontery to claim that trusts are a public benefit.

We notice a disposition among editorial paragraphers to sneer at positive assertion of Gen. Brooke that there are no brigands in Cuba. One of them said: "Gen Brooke is building up a great reputation for not seeing things."

Delaware now offers special bargains in the incorporations of trusts, under laws claimed to be still more favorable—to trickery—than those of New Jersey. Next.

Wm Jones a young man who has been breaking horses for Seth Bower met with quite a serious accident last Thursday. A horse which he was riding fell, rolled over him, kicked him first with one foot, then with both striking him on the chin and cheek. He was unconscious for sometime after, and Dr. Marsden was summoned to find Mr. Jones much bruised but no bones broken.

Several of Canyon City's fair sex are planning to accompany the base ball tossers on their trip to Burns for the 4th. That's right girls! There is nothing so inspiring to a base ball hero as to see the smiling face of his sweetheart when he muffs a pretty fly at a critical time in the game. We ought to adapt a team color and yell, and then organize a crowd of rooters to sit on the bleachers and make things exciting for the boys.—Canyon News.

Miss Ruth Test gave a party yesterday afternoon to her little friends in honor of her little cousin Miss Lela Jones from Burns. The afternoon was spent in various childish amusements and games, and their hilarious happiness made the older ones want to cast off the intervening years and join them. A lunch of ice cream and cake was served. Those present were; Susie, Mattie and Nannie Mosley, Ruth and Winnie Purcell, Rudy Allen Inez Weaver, Edith Husted, Ethel Ritch, Hope Graham, Birdie and Sylvia Fletcher, Frank and Clark Weaver, Owen Test.—Ontario Advocate.

John Gilcrest, of Malheur county was in Baker City on a short business trip last week, says the Republican. Mr. Gilcrest is manager of the Pacific Live Stock Company, one of the largest companies in the west, with ranges in Malheur, Grant and Harney counties. In reply to inquiries, Mr. Gilcrest said: "Our ranges are in excellent condition, prices of cattle are good and I look for a prosperous season. We probably have all told 40,000 head of cattle now on the ranges. We ship in the fall and our market is Omaha. We handle no stock cattle but raise only beef. M. K. Parsons of Salt Lake is the principal stock buyer of this section, and he is now shipping thousands of head which will be placed with Wyoming, Utah and Nebraska ranchmen."
