The new Canadian roller boat with which some unsatisfactory experiments were made lately on Lake Erie, did what was possible to deserve its name, after all. Its own rollers of the lake rolled it ashore in very short order.

Three silly Illinois girls organized a suicide club, took poison and were only saved from death by the prompt use of a stomach pump. To complete their cure their respective mammas should now make an equally prompt application of the old-fashioned slipper.

The morning paper which heads its account of a movement in the interest of the negro race, "Plan for uplifting the colored people," should be more careful. The words were doubtless innocently used, but the first impression conveyed by reading them is that of a grim and ghastly joke.
