

We have read of Maud on a summer day who, barefooted, raked the newmown hay; We have read of the maid in the early morn who milked the cow with the crumpled horn, and we have read the lay the poets sing of the rustling corn and the flowers of spring; but of all the lays of tongue or pen, there is naught like the lay of the Lakeview hen. Long, long before Maud rakes her hay, the Lakeview hen has begun to lay, and ere the milkmaid stirs the egg, the hen is up and has dropped her egg; the corn must hustle and the birds of spring, if they hold their own with the barnyard ring.—Lakeview Examiner.

Col. C. E. S. Wood, of Portland, arrived in Prineville last Monday evening, and left the next day for the Deschutes. It is rumored that Col. Wood and friends are back of the Oregon Irrigation Company, says the Prineville Review. Considerable interest is being taken in the Deschutes irrigation scheme which has already cost quite a sum. Should the company succeed, and it has every indication of doing so, much land that is now a desert will be farmed successfully. The W. V. & C. M. W. R. Co. has considerable land selected there and will be benefited, perhaps, more than anyone else.

We find that in some way the report is current at outside points that the O-B stage has been stopped on account of smallpox and that all mail matter is not allowed to come in from Ontario. This is not the case. The mail has been arriving regularly and will continue to do so. One can come and go over the line without the least bit of danger from the disease. Parties contemplating coming here for the big horse sale can do so with perfect safety.

It too often happens that the business men of small towns look upon their local paper as a charitable affair and do not give the patronage it deserves. Your local paper is doing more every week toward building up your town and community; it brings in home-seekers and gives every new enterprise of merit its support. Don't be a "knocker". Help your home paper.

The Paisley Post says the Nevada, California & Oregon Railway Co. will make Lakeview its temporary terminus and will reach there not later than next summer if not this fall. It is thought the road will be extended north finally and connect with the Columbia Southern. In that case Burns will not get much benefit from that line.

E. E. Lytle, president of the Columbia Southern Railway, writes the Shaniko Leader that the article appearing in a recent issue of the Oregonian in regard to the extension of that road was unauthorized. They have no intention of extending the road, and Shaniko will be the permanent terminus.

The people of Lakeview have arranged for a race meet and base ball tournament for Fourth of July week. The people of that lively town are never behind and get at such work with vim. Burns generally waits until the week before our national birthday before doing anything toward a celebration.

It is evident from Emperor William's wild speeches that he has gotten hold of some Eastern Oregon "loco" weed.

"Third Notice." Every editor has received them. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance, there is a man named Tim Short who sent us three notices to stop his paper; he did not want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigation of our subscription list we found that Tim was Short $2 50. He had never paid a cent, yet he had stopped his paper as a matter of economy—to us. A few evenings ago we stepped into a church and Tim's melodious tenor rang out clear in that soul stirring song, "Jesus Paid It All!" He might have been mistaken but his earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he had made an assignment of his liabilities.—Ex.

Those farm papers that have been telling their readers there is money in Angora goats may use this bit of information to prove the truth of their statement. A man in New York dropped his wallet in a stall where he kept a valuable full-blooded Angora, and the animal extracted $1,037 in bills therefrom and swallowed the same. Then the man had the goat killed and recovered his money, mutilated, but redeemable.

Messrs. McClain & Biggs are receiving letters from horsebuyers from all over the middle West and South in regard to the big horse sale to take place here on May 20-21-22. There will be no lack of buyers and the gentlemen inform us that in all likelihood there will be many more horses put on sale than was advertised.

We hear considerable complaint about stock being poisoned from larkspur, wild parsnip, etc. Stockmen should read the article appearing on our first page and apply the antidote given there. Bleeding has been generally the remedy for this poisoning, but it is not always successful.

Col. John S. Mosby predicts that the South will again become through its wealth, which is increasing every year, the dominant section of the Union, and that Richmond, Va., will be the commercial and financial center of the World.

Albany has raised $500 to advertise Linn county and is preparing pamphlets descriptive of resources of that county. With proper advertising and work Harney county's population could be doubled in two years.

The thing is altogether practicable to supply water to the arid lands of the West. They could be made to sustain a population that would add greatly to the wealth of the country.—Richmond (Va.) Times.

The equestrian statue of General John A. Logan was unveiled at Washington last week. General Dodge of New York presided at the ceremony. President McKinley made a brief eulogy of the deceased hero.

It is now claimed that the Morgan primary election law, enacted by the last legislature, is unconstitutional. It would be a good thing to find some more of them unconstitutional.

They are still digging up more scandal in Manila among the army officers. Such frauds being discovered at this time will give the Filipinos a good lesson.

L. B. Cox died at Portland last Thursday. In his death Oregon has lost a very useful citizen.

Did you ever notice that the most popular air with the average girl is the millionaire.

C. W. McClain returned last Wednesday evening from Tacoma, where he took a number of horses to market. Mr. McClain was sick for some time while absent. He did not do as well with his horses as he expected.

A. D. Stillman, of Pendleton, chairman of the board of head managers of the W. of W., accompanied by C. V. Cooper, head banker, whose headquarters are at Portland, came in via Canyon last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Stillman came in to represent the W. of W. lodge in the suit of Mrs. Miller against the lodge. Mr. Cooper is merely on an outing. Both are very pleasant gentlemen.

Teamsters are coming in from the interior almost every day and they are loud in their praises of the manner in which the people of Huntington have repaired the roads leading to an from the town. The roads have never been in better condition at this time of year than they are at present, say the Huntington Herald. What is worrying our business men is why these teams don't get back. Several have been gone from here for several weeks but as yet we have not heard of them loading and starting back.

Dr. Marsden accompanied by Geo. Byram made a trip to Crane Creek the first of the week. They visited Malheur cave while absent and the doctor brought back some very interesting specimens of Indian arrowheads, stone knives, etc., which he found in the cave. This cave was barricaded at one time, the earliest discoverers having found the mouth of the cave well barricaded, as well as another strong wall back about 75 yards from the mouth. A part of these walls still remain. People should not fail to visit this cave when in that neighborhood as they will find it very interesting.

The School Entertainment.

The entertainment given by the children of the public schools at Floral hall last night was simply immense in every particular. Great credit is due to the teachers for their untiring effort in training the little ones in the various drills and parts. The large hall was well filled and every rendition was heartily applauded and appreciated. Perhaps the most laughable number of the program was the cake walk by Leon Johnson and Dorcas Sweek which simply brought down the house. The little ones seemed experts at "Making Them Goo Goo Eyes." The Burns band helped to make the affair a success and the orchestra music furnished by Lee Caldwell and little daughter Dora with Ches Smith on the cornet, was well received.

Religious Services.

There will be preaching services at the Poison Creek school house every 4th Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. A. J. Irwin, pastor.
