PRESIDENT BOUND FOR HOME

CHINESE GIVE HIM PRESENTS VALUED AT TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Immense Crowd Assembled at the Depot to See the Chief Executive and Party off—Enthusiasm Suppressed.

San Francisco, May 25.—Among the many notable incidents of President McKinley's stay in this city was a visit last night by the Chinese consul general, Ho Yow, and the presidents of the six companies. They presented the president with an address and presents valued at $2000. The address is a testimonial of the appreciation of President McKinley's policy toward China.

SAN FRANCISCO GIVES FAREWELL.

San Francisco, May 25.—The presidential party, after a sojourn of nearly two weeks in this city, left for Washington a few moments after 10 o'clock this morning.

The physicians in attendance on Mrs. McKinley held their last consultation yesterday. Mrs. McKinley enjoyed a refreshing night's rest and this morning seemed elated at the prospects of soon being home. She was conveyed from the Scott residence to the Oakland ferry in a closed carriage over a circuitous route.

An immense crowd had assembled at the ferry depot of the Southern Pacific, and the police with difficulty kept a passageway open for the president and his party.

Heads were uncovered as the carriage in which Mrs. McKinley rode approached and there was a visible effort to restrain outbursts of applause as the vehicle drove slowly through the throng. All respected the condition of the sufferer and enthusiasm was suppressed.

As the steamer drew out of the slip, hats and handkerchiefs were waved and ships in the harbor dipped their colors in salute.

Tumultuous cheers then broke forth on shore and were borne across the waters as San Francisco's final farewell to President McKinley and his party.

At the Oakland depot, where the train was in readiness, precautions had been taken against the crowds. Mrs. McKinley was tenderly helped out of the carriage by the president and when she had been made comfortable in the car he appeared upon the platform and waved adieu to the throngs beyond the ropes.

WISE POINTERS TO MR. SCHWAB.

Our enterprising fellow countryman, Charles M. Schwab, has had his salary raised. He has gone to work for the United States Steel Corporation in the capacity of president, and will receive about $15,380.54 every Saturday night, provided, of course, that his employers pay their help weekly. Mr. Schwab is about 39 years old, and Commerce, Accounts and Finance, with its customary interest in ambitious young men, takes this opportunity to offer him a few words of advice.

In the first place Mr. Schwab should realize that he has now a good, steady job at fair wages, and he must do his best to keep it. He should avoid being late at the works in the morning, and should never run the risk of being docked. To be docked a day's pay would mean a loss of over $2,500, and that would go a good way toward paying the grocery bill. He should not take more than an hour's nooning and should be respectful to the directors when they speak to him. If he feels that his salary is low, for the amount of work to be done, he should remember that it is customary to begin rather low and work up, and when he knows more about the business he can ask for a "raise." Besides salary isn't the only thing.

Be economical, Mr. Schwab. So many young men nowadays live beyond their means. Don't pay too much house rent. The rule which says that a man's rent should never exceed one-fourth of his salary is a good one. You should be able to hire a nice comfortable home for $200,000 a year and the water rate. Perhaps you can do even better than that in your town. Where rents are in all probability low.

The Building and Loan Association are helps to young men who wish to own their own houses. Don't build to expensive a house however.

Live well but not luxuriously. Have plenty of good plain, wholesome food, and not many expensive puddings and deserts. A soup or stew, followed by an Indian baked pudding or corn meal mush makes a good dinner. Don't have too much company, and use lamps instead of gas for lighting purposes. Pay your bills every week, and don't buy goods on the installment plan. It would not look well in case the directors of the steel company were calling at your house to have the furniture people come in and carry off the plush parlor set for non-payment.

Your new position will naturally call for increased social obligations, and you should meet them cheerfully. Mrs. Schwab should keep a servant. For a few hundred dollars a week one of the Pittsburgh girls would doubtless be willing to come in and do housework. Buy a good black suit for best, and see that Mrs. Schwab has at least one calling dress and a Sunday gown and bonnet.

But above all, save money. Russell Sage recently said that a young man should save a quarter of each dollar he earned. If you did this you would have at the end of the year $200,000 put by for a rainy day. In a few years you would be able to stand quite a spell of wet weather.

So, Mr. Schwab, Commerce, Accounts and Finance bids you go on and prosper. Do not let anything we may have said lead you to believe that we consider your salary a meager one. You are getting good wages. You are getting good wages. In fact, we know editors, great leaders of thought, who get no more for their services than you do for yours.—Commerce, Accounts and Finance.

EX-GOVERNOR PENNOYER SAYS NO.

The first step of the state authorities towards recovering the $31,000 shortage in the accounts of George W. Davis, as clerk of the State school board, have been taken by Attorney-General Blackburn, who has written a letter to ex-Governor Sylvester Penoyer, asking the traditional question: "What are you going to do about it?" The answer of the ex-governor is in similar vein, and suggests that the state authorities apply to the Republican National or State Committee, or some other reputable body for the restitution of the deficit instead of to individual democrats. The interesting correspondence follows:

Salem, May 23.—Hon. Sylvester Penoyer, Portland, Or.—Dear Sir: There appears to be a shortage in the accounts of George W. Davis, as clerk of the School Board, of nearly $31,000 I believe. I have been instructed to take such steps as may enable the state to recover the money; and I therefore respectfully request that you let me know at your earliest convenience what you, in connection with the other members of the School Board, are willing to do in the way of making good the loss to the state. I write this by direction of State Land Board. Will you be so kind as to answer this week? Yours truly,
D. R. N. BLACKBURN.

Mr. Penoyer answered: Portland, May 24.—D. R. N. Blackburn, Salem, Or.—My Dear Sir: In reply to your note on the 23rd inst. I will say that I am not willing to do anything whatever in the way of making good to the state the loss it incurred from an embezzling republican official. Permit me to suggest to the State Board and yourself that you first proceed to punish such embezzler, and then, if you desire to reimburse the state treasury, apply either to the Republican National or State Committee, rather than to individual democrats, who are in no manner whatever responsible for such loss.

BOTH U. S. SENATORS RESIGN

ROW BETWEEN TILLMAN AND McLAURIN OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

They Are to go Before the People on a Joint Canvass, the Primaries to be held in November—Outcome of Debate.

Columbia, S. C., May 25.—As the outcome of a spirited debate between United States Senators B. F. Tillman and John L. McLaurin at Gaffney today, both of them have put their resignations in the hands of Governor McSweeney to take effect November 15. They have resigned with the understanding that they are to go before the people of the state in a joint canvass and that the sentiment of the people is to be voiced in a democratic primary to be held in November.

Tillman was last summer elected to the United States Senate for six years and McLaurin has yet two years to serve. Should Tillman be sustained, McLaurin's seat will be vacant. If McLaurin is successful he will succeed to Tillman's long term.

Gaffney, S. C., May 25.—Senator McLaurin, when asked about the resignation said:

"Tillman made a bluff and I called him. All I desire is a free, fair and open fight on the issues upon which we differ. I earnestly hope that all others will keep out of our race and run for the other Senatorship, so that Tillman and I may meet as man to man and fight it out."

Business Pointers.

Over 300 men are now employed in the East Helena smelters.

A colony of 1000 silk worms has been received at The Dalles, where they will commence spinning in a few days.

Shelton, Wash., has organized a board of trade with Thomas O'Neil as president, W. H. Kneeland vice president, Al J. Munson, secretary, and J. F. Riley, treasurer.

R. G. Stewart of Indian Valley, Idaho, has about consummated the sale of his 480 acres of land in that vicinity to a colony of Mormons, says the Council correspondent of the Boise News. The price paid was $10,000. It is the intention to divide the farm into about 20 acre tracts.

There are 79 fire insurance and 19 life insurance companies doing business in Montana. Risks written in fire insurance in 1900 were $45,001,910; gross premiums received, $925,339; losses paid $525,252; losses incurred, $487,026, and amount at risk, $20,360,168. The 19 life insurance companies did the following business: Insurance in force December 31 1899, total $23,715,516; insurance written $6,155,712; premiums received $962,311; losses incurred, $222,824; insurance in force December 31, 1900, $29,863,479.

Very respectfully,

SYLVESTER PENNOYER.

A gentleman who does not wish his name to be made public, and who is somewhat familiar with the affairs of Davis, the defaulting land clerk, said yesterday: "If the prosecution gets onto the right track, it might find out where that $31,000 of state money, or the greater part of it went, and might perhaps be able to trace it in such a way as to recover it. It is my opinion that Davis was in cahoots with a certain land speculator, and that he used the state money in his possession, as well as in an investment which he had made in a Yaquina stone quarry. That land speculator died suddenly two years ago, just after perfecting a land sale for which he was to receive $21,000, which sum was paid to the widow after his death, and which money I believe really belongs to the state of Oregon, if the real facts in the case could be established. If Davis had not fled, and had been so disposed, the connecting link between that money and the State Treasury could have been supplied. Whether it could be done without his aid is perhaps quite uncertain; but the prosecution would be fully justified in making an effort in that direction."
