C. H. Voegtly keeps a full and complete stock of extras for mowers. The only house that has a complete stock of extras for their machinery. You can get any part of the machine at any time. This is important.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Marsden and son George, arrived home Monday from Portland. They report a very pleasant time. Mrs. Marsden is receiving the warm congratulations of her friends, as Grand Matron of the O. E. S. since arriving.

Crane, Ore., Jan 24, 1901.
I purchased from C. H. Voegtly, a Jones Chain Mower and Adjustable Hay Rake and know that there is no machine that can come up to them. I have tried most every kind. I did better work with the Jones Mower than with any Mower I ever run. I cut 20 acres of wild meadow where a McCormick left the field and could not cut it. I cut over 100 acres and never broke a thing, and it was all wild meadow. W. H. Cren.

Celebrate in Burns.

Call and see our draw cut Champion Mower. The only machine that can be lined up with the cutter bar. I have two kinds of rakes, the Hollensworth and Mitchell all steel rake, with wood or iron wheels. A full and complete stock of extras from a section to a main frame. Give me a call before buying elsewhere. J. J. TUPKER, Agent.

We learn from James Donegan of the death of the old pioneer John Catlow in Catlow Valley on the 7th inst. Mr. Catlow came to the valley which bears his name in 1871, where he has since made his home. The deceased was born in England, but we could not find out his age. John Catlow was a man who had accustomed himself to pioneer life and was a very hospitable and genial man. He had many warm friends in this section.

The water cases which have been pending for some time are now being prepared for the U. S. circuit court. Wirt Miner is here looking after the interests of the P. L. S. Co. and all interested in the cases are preparing to take testimony. We are informed an agreement has been reached between the P. L. S. Co. and the Harney Valley Dam & Ditch Co., whereby a compromise will be made. We understand there is talk of a compromise in some of the other cases. They are now waiting for Wm. Hanley to arrive before proceeding with the cases.

Chas. Newell and family returned Thursday from Sumpter where they had gone to meet their daughter Laura who has been under the care of Dr. Dickson, the eye specialist of Portland, since last fall. The young lady did not meet them, as her eyes were in a bad condition, necessitating her stay in Portland. It was thought at one time that one eye would have to be removed in order to save the other, but a message received Thursday evening states she is much improved and it will perhaps not be necessary to remove the eye.
