George W. Hayes was arrested last Tuesday evening on a warrant sworn out of the justice court charging him with the crime of adultery. Wednesday morning he appeared before Recorder Biggs, ex-officio Justice of the peace and waived examination. He was held to wait the action of the circuit court, bonds being fixed at $1000. The bond was furnished with J. C. Welton, H. C. Levens and James Mahon as sureties.

WILL BE HERE MONDAY.

Letters received here last Thursday evening state that Congressman Moody and F. H. Newell, chief of the division of Hydrography of the Interior Department, will arrive in Burns next Monday, August 12. They desire to meet all our people who are interested in the matter of storage reservoirs, canals, ditches, etc. for the purpose of reclaiming arid land.

It is important that our people meet these officials and confer with them. Especially should we express ourselves to Congressman Moody on the range leasing question.

The itinerary, as planned, will give them but one day in this place but an effort will be made by our citizens to keep them several days in order that they may see the country and make a better inspection of our streams. It would be impossible for them to do this in one day.

We would urge our people to be in Burns on the above date as it may be impossible for them to remain longer.

Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Forestry of the Department of Agriculture, joins the party to Prineville, and will possibly come through here with them.

The article on land leasing by A. W. Gowan, which appears in another column, was written at our request. We hope others may contribute likewise and express their sentiments on this important question. Our columns are open to all and we wish the subject thoroughly discussed. The expression of the Harney County Stock Association is desired. Of course it is a matter not thoroughly understood, as the proposed bill has not yet been framed. Our people do not know exactly what the bill will provide, nor how it will effect the country in general. However, such a move is looked upon with more or less suspicion, as it has never been the policy of the big cattle kings to help develop any section where they wish to have full control.
