

The Times-Herald.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1902.

JULIAN BYRD - - - - - Manager

There are one or two persons in this section that know all about the political situation and can name the tickets now. In fact they know considerable more of each individual's aspirations and chances than the men themselves. Such nonsense makes one tired.

Space well used means profit to the advertiser. Space badly used means loss. If you want to get every possible value out of your space you must take every possible care in filling that space with the right kind of material and in saying the right things at the right time.—Ex.

Joe Sturtevant informs us he is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Averill, the electric light man. He has accepted the proposition of the city of Burns for an electric light plant, which provides that the plant must be in operation within six months. Mr. Sturtevant will immediately let the contract for the necessary poles. The power for the plant will be furnished by Mr. S. at his grist mill one mile north of Burns. We are glad to see the progress made in this direction.

While politics has begun to warm up, very few are avowed candidates for the various nominations and we consider it the best policy to not push any names out that are "mentioned" just a present there is such a thing as a fellow being mistaken. We could give a list of some length and comment on the different machinery that is being brought into play—that so and so would not be a candidate unless Mr. W. was. Men should consider well before making their announcements.

A Washington dispatch of Jan. 21, says: A meeting of senators and representatives from the arid and semi-arid states was held last night to consider the irrigation bill drafted by the subcommittee on irrigation. It was agreed unanimously to present the bill to congress. It provides that all money from the sale of land in Idaho and Nevada shall be used for irrigation. The ridiculous idea conveyed by the above makes people over here laugh long and loud. However, we are glad to know the laws are so fixed on the statute books that Multnomah is compelled to pay something. The taxpayers of the metropolitan county should see that some means are provided for procuring the trade of this county east of the mountains which in a measure would heal their wounded feelings.—Lakeview Examiner.

Captain Sam White of Baker City, is resting inside the gates of Portland. Captain White is chairman of the state democratic organization by appointment; District Attorney for Baker and Walla counties by election; lawyer by profession; Captain of Company A. O. N. G., by selection; and Georgian by divine grace.

This movement of Captain White from the highlands to the low grounds is the first important political step of the new year within the democratic ranks. It is part of a trip that the chairman has mapped out, through the Valley and Southern Oregon counties in order that he may ascertain at first hand just where he is at.

Captain White was closeted all day yesterday and a large part of the time today with Hon. George E. Chamberlain, to whom is universally conceded the democratic nomination for Governor. Whenever the Captain emerges from Mr. Chamberlain's office he is immediately surrounded with democratic small fry, and lots of big political battles were fought prospectively.

In answer to an inquiry, Captain White said:

"There is little to say just yet. We will not be likely to open headquarters and begin active work for several weeks. I will spend several days—a week or more—in the Valley counties, consulting with the party leaders and the officers of the county organizations. You may say that it is our intention to conduct the campaign on a high plane, according to simonpure democratic principles."

It is understood that the candidacy of Mr. Chamberlain for Governor was taken into consideration when Captain White was made chairman of the state committee, and that he was appointed as the personal representative of the gubernatorial aspirant. A prominent politician said today that this leader was selected because in this campaign the democrats desire clean politics, and it was known that is the brand that Sam White will deal out. Sam White is said to be easy the most popular man in Baker and Walla counties. He was twice elected District Attorney in the face of unfavorable circumstances. He is personally acquainted with every man, woman, child and dog in the two counties, and his office in Baker City is the stopping place of all the grangers for miles around. On Saturdays the farmers leave their produce, pumpkins, dried prunes, etc., there while they look around town, and at times Sam's office closely resembles the dream of Tom Watson, also of Georgia. The Captain's innate and inborn way of saying "Yes, sah," has something to do with this, because his voice is as low and soft as the music made by the gentle south winds through the leaves of the murmuring Georgia pines.

However, Captain White's state campaign may not be all sentiment.—Portland Telegram.

Drilling for oil has begun in Dry Gulch, Malheur county, by the Malheur oil company. The Gazette says it will take about two months to drill to the depth of the oil sand. We will not hold our breath during the time, but will watch with interest the result.

ASK FOR REHEARING.

Hon. Thomas H. Crawford, a prominent attorney of Union, is in Portland today. Mr. Crawford is of counsel for Union county in the suit with Baker county regarding the "Panhandle" case. He has just filed with the Supreme court an application for a rehearing. If the court grants this application the entire case will have to be gone over again. The recent decision of the Supreme court left some of the points of contention open. The court refused or failed to decide on the constitutionality of that part of the act of the legislature which is alleged to leave an unequal rate of taxation for state purposes in the two counties, giving in the opinion that the court rarely passed on the constitutionality of a collateral proceeding, leaving such issues to come up independently. Mr. Crawford said today that the application for a rehearing was made on these grounds. He stated that the property of Union county is assessed at $3,300,000, while that of Baker is assessed at $3,500,000, yet Union county is asked to pay a state tax of $23,000 while only $17,000 is expected of Baker county.

Mr. Crawford says the next fight over the "Panhandle" will be on this question.—Portland Telegram.

RESOLUTIONS.

Hall of Drewsey Lodge, No. 147.
I. O. O. F.
Drewsey Ore., Jan. 10, 1902.

We your committee appointed to draft resolutions of sympathy for Bro Jacob Wright on the death of his beloved sister, would say that we know that no words can make amends for the great loss he has sustained; that expressions of condolence fail wholly to restore the loved and lost one; yet we can not but hope that the heartfelt sympathy of his brothers will not be deemed an intrusion on his grief. We would ease his sorrow but we know not how. We can only acknowledge that the affliction is the will of God.

Over in the beautiful land to which his dear sister has been called we may not doubt she is free from pain so long endured here, and when gathered at the river, is it not a sweet consolation to think that among the loved and lost she will meet and greet him on the other side?

Resolved, That we hereby tender our sorrowing and bereaved brother our heartfelt sympathy in his hour of trial and sorrow.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, a copy thereof be published in The Times-Herald and a copy, under seal of the lodge, be sent to Brother Jacob Wright.
