A petition signed by a large number of property owners along Main St., asking the council to lower the crosswalks in that section of town, was presented at the regular meeting of the city dads last Wednesday evening. The petition was granted and by so doing the town saved several hundred dollars which would otherwise have been necessary to spend in order to fill in the square. This was also quite an accommodation to property owners.

In obedience to the call made by several of the republican central committee a primary election is being held in Burns precinct today for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention. The fact that the "official call" sets the 25th as the date for such elections does not seem to make any difference with those who desire a convention on that date for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention. They will not recognize the "official call." We understand other precincts will also elect delegates today—just how many we are unable to say—perhaps all. It is impossible at this time to forecast the out come of this controversy. Following is a list of delegates being voted for here this afternoon, designated as "Unpledged delegates to republican county convention to be held March 25": Joel Starrevant, J. C. Welcome Jr., H. Kelley, C. Dummies, W. D. Hanley, I. Schwartz, A. W. Gowan, J. W. Sevedge, J. J. Donegan, J. W. Buoy, M. FitzGerald, E. P. Smith, Gus Rembold, J. A. Sparrow.

The convention will consist of 65 delegates which have been apportioned among the several voting precincts, as follows:

Done by order of the democratic county central committee, March 1st 1902

Warren Curtis was shot and killed at his home near Narrows this (Saturday night) about 9 o'clock. Cas Hays, Geo Miller and James Colwell came to his place and there was a quarrel over a colt. It is reported Curtis ordered them off the place and as they did not go he went into the house and got a 22 caliber rifle. Upon his return he was shot about the left nipple and instantly killed. It is not known who fired the shot and we are unable to get further particulars.
