J. P. Gearhart was over from family on court business, this week. He informs us that L. C. Adfield had lost several valuable trees lately from what appeared to be a case of anthrax.

"Fashion! You may as well be of the world as out of fashion." Last week it was all the fashion to go on timber land and this week it is to go camping. Let us hope at the camping will be of more benefit to health than the timber land filing was to the conscience.

Editor Fogle, of the Prineville Journal, started for home Monday on his wheel. Mr. F. says he had a pleasant visit and was very favorably impressed with the possibilities of this section, provided, of course, if we can knock out the rest reserve.

Say, did you notice the window display of guns and fishing tackle ever seen in Burns. Double barreled shot guns, Winchester and Marlin repeaters, rifles, gattling guns, popguns and any old thing, these are being sold at reduced prices and the sportsman who don't like advantage of it is loser. Better snap in today.

DIED--At the residence of Perry Williams in this city, last Monday morning, Aug. 4, R. K. Lowe, from appendicitis. Dr. Marsden had operated on the young man last Saturday, but found his patient in a very bad condition and was not very hopeful for his recovery. The young man was 26 years old and was a native of Tennessee. He had but recently come from his native state in company with his brother, J. L. Lowe and family. He leaves besides these two brothers and three sisters and his parents, all in Tennessee, to mourn his untimely demise. The remains were laid to rest in the L. O. O. F. cemetery Tuesday forenoon.

TRACY!

The Last Chapter.

A telephone message, Wednesday about 6 o'clock, stated that Harry Tracy, the outlaw and murderer, had committed suicide on the border between Idaho and Washington. Later advices confirmed the report and that his body will be taken to that section of Arizona where soil properties and climatic conditions petrify the human bodies. After petrification it will be exhibited in all the countries of the globe and then sold to some institute or museum. Thus ends a vicious, but notable and daring career.

Miss Evelyn Geer arranged a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Geer, last Monday evening, the occasion being the 13th anniversary of their marriage. A large number of their friends were present and spent a very pleasant evening. We regret that space will not permit our giving a list of those present.

Inadvertently we failed to mention in our last issue the return of J. L. Warren from Alaska. Mr. Warren spent 4 years in that region and was quite successful in the gold fields. He had just visited Thunder Mountain, in Idaho, but was not favorably impressed with that camp. Jim expects now to engage in the stock business.

The University of Oregon will open its twenty-seventh session at Eugene, Wednesday, September 17th. The outlook for the year seems at present, very promising. A number of new men have been added to the faculty, all thoroughly fitted both by preparation and by experience, for their work. The University buildings are being repaired and improved during the summer, the dormitory, gymnasium, and Deady Hall receiving special attention. Students intending to enter this fall are invited to correspond with the president relative to their work. Catalogues
