As is usual each spring, Harney Lodge I. O. O. F. and Burns Lodge A. F. & A. M. are again agitating the proposition of building Halls. The Times-Herald hopes to see both of these excellent orders in new homes of their own before snow flies again.

J. E. Johnson, the surveyor and road contractor, arrived here last Thursday from Vale. Mr. Johnson came to meet with the county court to confer on some road matters. He left yesterday for Stenken Water canyon to do some surveying and make estimates on building a road grade on the opposite side of the stream, with a bridge lower down than the old one.

Our old friend, Wm Dunn was up from his home on Blitzen yesterday delivering cattle to W. D. Hauley. He informs us he had occasion to leave the ranch about three weeks ago and during his absence some one broke a pane of glass from the window and entered the house. They also used his guns and ammunition for their own pleasure and left the fire arms without cleaning them. He desires to inform the parties that in future he will leave a ladder so they can come down the chimney—as it will save the expense of buying glass—and hopes they will bring their own ammunition.

O. W. Porter returned Monday from Hagerman, Idaho, where he has been looking after his extensive sheep interests. Mr. Porter was compelled to ship corn in from Nebraska to carry his sheep through, but his loss was very small.—Huntington Herald.

Lou Marshall arrived in Burns this morning with the sad intelligence that Mrs. McKenzie, wife of A. McKenzie one of the old and respected citizens of Narrows, died last night at her home from apoplexy, aged 50 years. The lady retired feeling as well as usual, but later her husband noticed something wrong and found she could not speak. She became unconscious from which she never rallied. Dr. Marsden was summoned, but death had claimed her before his arrival. Mrs. McKenzie was born in Kentucky, and was the mother of seven children. The remains will be interred in the Burns cemetery Monday afternoon.

For liver trouble and constipation There's nothing better in creation Than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills.

They always effect cure and save doctor bills.

Little early Risers are different from all other pills. They do not weaken the system, but act as a tonic to the tissues by arousing the system and restoring the liver to the full performance of its functions naturally.—Burns Druggists

Hon. Henry W. Corbett, ex-U.S. Senator from Oregon, President of the First Nat. Bank of Portland, President of the Lewis and Clark Fair, and one of the leading financiers of the Pacific Coast, died at his home in Portland on March 31, after an illness of only a few hours. He Corbett was one of the wealthiest men in the state, and was connected with several of the largest business enterprises in Portland. His loss will be greatly felt in business and charitable circles; as he was a liberal donor to charitable institutions of all kinds.

Junior Entertainment.

On the evening of next Sunday April 5th, there is to be a program given by Junior Union at the Baptist Church. All are earnestly requested to be present as an interesting program has been prepared.

An offering will be taken for the purpose of aiding in the building of a church in Mexico. Clifford Reed, Secy.

Having applied for membership in the "Ladies' Afternoon Reading Club," which for the present is studying Oregon history, our better half requested us to bring up anything in the office relating to the early history of this state. Oregon authors, etc. After carefully looking over our extensive library we have found the following: One copy of Ayers & Sons newspaper annual, a recent History of Harney, Malheur and Baker counties, one Jones Cash Buyer's Guide, one copy Hill's Manual, (revised) a late report of the Oregon State Board of Horticulture, six copies of Olds, Wortman & King's spring catalogue, and one copy of Pearl Geer's Torch of Reason. Being a Missourian, we did not help make any of the early history of Oregon and must confess our ignorance. If friends have anything to loan that may be added to the above list we would appreciate it.

A Very Small Loss.

Dr. W. L. Marsden returned the first of the week from a visit to his cattle ranch in Bear Valley. He reports stock looking well and feed quite plentiful in that section. The exaggerated reports of great loss of stock in this section that are being circulated outside have no foundation whatever, as Dr. Marsden inquired in both Silvies and Bear Valleys, and learned that the loss the past winter has been even smaller than former years. Dr.

Marsden has some 250 acres of fine hay land in Bear Valley which is sparsely covered with sage brush and he has contracted with Indians to clear it. Nothing like knowing how to talk "Injun."

[Since the above was in type Ben Cozad arrived with a big team to convey, what he supposed, would be half of the Piute aggregation out to Bear Valley. The Doctor had arranged with quite a number of the noble red men and families to go, but at the last moment most of them got "cold feet" and only three were taken out. If the Dr. swore it was in the Piute language, for no one has ever heard him complain.]

EXECUTRIX' NOTICE.
