BURNS, DO LIKEWISE.

Not long since the people of Newburg, a town in the Willamette, set apart a day on which to "clean up." At 8 o'clock in the morning the bells of the town were rung and whistles blown and everybody began raking and scraping which was kept up all day. This novel plan should be adopted by Burns. The city authorities have ordered the debris cleaned up from the premises and back alleys, but few have complied with the request. A plan like the above, we believe, would work to good advantage.

The State Irrigation Association meeting which was scheduled to be held in Baker City next month has been abandoned. Lack of interest is given as the cause.

The fact that the government engineers passed Baker county up when investigating proposed reservoir sites has something to do with the abandonment of the meeting no doubt. It appears that there was not enough vacant land to justify the government taking hold of any of the propositions.

Senator Hanna is opposed to a resolution in the coming Ohio state convention indorsing President Roosevelt. In this he claims he is not influenced by any personal desires or ambitions, as he is not a candidate for the presidency, but for re-election. Senator Foraker, of the same state, advocates a resolution indorsing the administration and re-election of the President. Unless Senator Hanna and his friends decide to accept the indorsement of President Roosevelt, there is going to be quite a lively row in the Ohio state convention, for Senator Foraker is determined.

The showing made by the Reliance recently stamps her as being the best defender ever built, in weather that suits her, says a press dispatch. As the Shamrock III is admitted the best challenger ever built, the forthcoming contest will in all probabilities be the most interesting of the series. Shamrock III, however, is by no means equal to the Reliance, taking a line through the former Shamrock and the Columbia.

A story is going the rounds to the effect that Mark Hanna once gave a banquet to 50 Ohio farmers. The dessert was to be 25 watermelons. On the day before the dinner Mark had them plucked and poured a pint of wine into each melon, then placed them on ice. After dinner each farmer was given half a melon. They all began tasting them, winked at each other, looked wise and jolly before the affair was over every farmer was slipping the seed into his vest pocket. It is not stated, however, what sort of watermelons Mark's guests raised the next year.
