This issue of The Times-Herald is printed on its big power press. After a delay of about nine months we have succeeded in getting the gasoline engine fixtures and the machinery works well, although not thoroughly adjusted so as to work smooth.

Now that we have power we will, as soon as necessary supplies can be received, get the typesetting machine in order. The Times-Herald will then be the best and most modern equipped printing plant in the interior. It will come out in a complete new dress, the necessary type being already in the office.

The terrible calamity that visited our sister City of Heppner last Sunday evening is, indeed, appalling. The great loss of life and property at our very door, many of the victims being well known to our people, brings gloom to all who read of the frightful flood. Happily Burns is so situated as to insure it against such a disaster, but one never knows what is in store for the future.

Secretary of State Dunbar is sending out circular letters announcing that the Union Fire Insurance Co. of Chicago, is not authorized or licensed to transact business in Oregon. It is what is known as a "wild cat" insurance company and people are warned against it.

Bought Thoroughbred Cattle.

R. R. Sitz, of Lawen has bought the Carpenter & Shilling thoroughbred short-horned herd of cattle and they have just been delivered from Ontario. This herd consists of 60 head and are as fine as can be found in the state. Mr. Sitz is certainly doing the proper thing in improving his stock and his example should be followed by others.

The Times Herald is pleased to note such enterprise. Harney County stock will average up with any range cattle in the U. S., but there is room for improvement, therefore Mr. Sitz is to be commended.

A Harney County Hen.

Not long since the Oregonian printed a picture of a prize egg laid by an Oregon pullet that weighed over 3 ounces, was 3 1/2 inches long and measured 2 1/2-10 inches through the center. Harney county has a production that goes this one "better." It is now on display at this office and was laid by a fowl belonging to Mrs M. Fenwick. The pullet is a cross between a Brown Leghorn and Black Minorca. The egg weighs over 4 ounces measures 8 inches around oblong and 6 1/2 around the center. Oregonian please note that Harney county has the prize egg of the state.

A SPANIARD MURDERED.

Justice Miller and Dr. Geary arrived home yesterday evening from Andrews where they went the first of the week to hold an inquest over the body of a Spaniard by the name of Salvador Oliveros, who was found Sunday morning shot in the back.

Justice Edw. J. Catlow was on the scene holding the inquest upon their arrival. The body had been buried but was exhumed upon the arrival of the doctor for further examination.

Dr. Geary informs us the murdered man was about 25 years old and had been in that locality only about a month. He was herding horses for A. Marinda and the body was found near a corral at his camp on the mountain not far from Wildhorse. Very little information could be had, as there were no witnesses to the deed and the assassin is not known. The young man is reported to have been very steady, of good habits and for some reason unpopular with his countrymen in that locality.

From the position of the body when found it appears that the assassin was at the corral when his victim approached and when attacked had evidently turned to run away, as the bullet entered his back and was taken out just under the skin below the left nipple. The dead was done with a 44-caliber rifle.

The tracks of a shod horse were found leading up the mountain and had been tied to the corral.

When Judge Miller and Dr. Geary left the coroner's jury had not finished its work, as one man, 35 miles away was wanted to give evidence.

While there is no direct evidence to implicate anyone, we understand there is some very strong circumstantial and there will likely be some arrests made.

MEET DEATH IN A FLOOD

THE TOWN OF HEPPNER DESTROYED BY CLOUDBURST.

Loss of Life Will Reach Over Three Hundred—Relief Train is Wrecked and Four Lives Lost.

The town of Heppner, Morrow County, was almost completely swept away on last Sunday evening by a cloud burst which swept down the hillside in a wall 30 feet high and 200 yards wide. Reaching the bottom of the canyon, the liquid avalanche reared its mighty front over the doomed town, and carried to destruction nearly every building and human being that lay in its path, leaving a waste of desolation to mark its trail. The destroying torrent raced down the narrow gorge of Willow Creek, inundating as it reached them the settlements of Lexington, Ione and Douglas. Behind it lay nearly 200 dead, drowned like rats in a trap. The suddenness of the catastrophe gave the victims no warning, overwhelming them for the main part as they sat within their homes.

Leslie Matlock, a young man there, was the hero of the day. When the flood first came he mounted a horse and rode at break-neck speed down the canyon in front of the rushing waters to notify the people of Lexington, a small town nine miles below. He had to go over a rough and stony road. He arrived at Lexington just a few minutes ahead of the flood. The people were warned and immediately left for the hillsides, not having time to take anything with them. Every person escaped, but when the flood had passed only two houses were standing.

The daily papers have been filled with descriptions of the horror and reports vary. Many bodies have been recovered and buried, some of whom could not be identified—especially children—there being 20 babies among the list unidentified.

One relief train which left Pendleton for the terrible scene went through a bridge and four men lost their lives. The part of the train that had crossed the bridge proceeded on after the accident.

A letter to this office from J. H. Anderson, dated at Heppner the 16th states that it is not in the English language to describe the terrible scenes that confront the rescuers. Farming implements, cattle, horses and human beings are found buried together 15 and 20 feet under debris. One body was found 33 miles below Heppner.

Relief trains were immediately sent from Portland, The Dalles, Pendleton and Walla Walla. It will take many days to clear away the piles of wreckage and ascertain the exact number of the dead. At this time reports conflict and it is impossible to give a correct list.
