S. A. D. and C. D. Porter returned last week from Montague, where they had taken 150 head of beef cattle to sell. They report the roads between Klamath Falls and the railroad to be something awful, and hay as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. They succeeded in disposing of their cattle at fair prices, securing 6 1/2 for steers and 5 1/2 for cows.—Central Oregonian.

A. P. Duncan "Tobe" was brought in last Monday by Claud Smith in a very serious condition and is now at the home of E. B. Reed under the care of a physician. His condition is considered quite serious.

In the "big talk" the Portland papers are making about the extension of the Columbia Southern to Bend, not a word is said about the road eventually coming to Lake county. However, it is hinted that the road may "turn tail" and go to Burns. Well, we have two alternatives left—the N. C. O., and the Klamath Lake roads. We expect to see these roads extended to the Lake County line within the next year or two.—Lakeview Examiner.

Did you ever attend a "half-and-half" dance? Take in the New Year's eve ball. After midnight it will be a leap year affair.

The Christmas ball last night was one of the most enjoyable ever given in Burns. There was a large crowd in attendance and the band boys conducted the affair in their usual satisfactory way. They deserve much credit.

After midnight the New Year's eve ball which will be given by the orchestra Thursday evening, the ladies will be given a chance to conduct matters to suit themselves and dance with whom they please.

DIED.—At the family home on Cow Creek, Dec. 20, 1903, Amy, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Poujade, after an illness of about ten days suffering from pneumonia. The funeral took place from the Presbyterian church at this place Monday afternoon, Rev. A. J. Irwin conducting the services. The remains were interred in the Burns cemetery. The bereaved parents and relatives have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

The Christmas festivities passed off in a very delightful manner and everyone seemed happy. The Christmas exercises at both churches were attended by large crowds and the children acquitted themselves with credit. Each little one was remembered by their respective Sunday Schools, there being a tree at each church. Many private trees were in evidence on that evening and Santa Claus was kept busy.

It has always been the custom of Rev and Mrs J. A. Irwin to remember the Indians on Christmas morning, there always being quite an amount of candy, nuts, pop corn etc., left from the Sunday school tree. The Times-Herald man saw him later carrying large bundles up with which to treat the Indians.
