Thos. O'Brien, who had been driving the stage to Venator, has disappeared with the mail, horse, rig and all. He left here Monday morning as usual, but instead of following the regular route which led by the home of Contractor Hancock he went via the Island ranch, arriving at Lawen at the right time. He had a passenger, one Ed Levison, a drunken, dissipated foreign nobleman, who had not been way-billed or paid his fare. The stage left Lawen but never turned up at Venator and nothing has been learned of the outfit since. Stage Agent Woldenberg started Sheriff Allen after the man Thursday upon learning the facts. The sheriff has a warrant charging O'Brien with stealing the team and rig. It is possible that when he is caught Uncle Sam will also have something to do with him. O'Brien was recently discharged from the county jail where he served a sentence for stealing a pair of spurs, and from his conduct since it appears he was trying to get back in jail again.

HARRY D. EGBERT SWINGS

PAID THE PENALTY FOR MURDERING J. G. SAXTON.

Keeps up His Nerve to the Last and Makes Statement That Downfall is Due to His Raising and Women.

The trap was sprung yesterday promptly on time which sent Harry Egbert, the slayer of John Saxton and Jack West into eternity. He kept up his nerve to the last and stated from the gallows that his downfall was due to his raising and women.

On Tuesday last he was interviewed by an Oregonian reporter to whom he talked. The article says in part:

Smoking cigarettes incessantly and trying to reconcile himself to the inevitable. Harry D. Egbert is passing the time in his prison cell awaiting the day of his execution, January 29. While there seems to be nothing of the bragadocio about him and no indication of a desire to pose as a "brave" man, in the sense the term was used by Murderer Armstrong, yet vanity is plainly one of his characteristics, and he will probably try to maintain his self-possession during the last act of his life. He is in the best of spirits, eats heartily, sleeps well and talks pleasantly. If he is sorry for his foul deed there is no intimation of it in his conversation.

During his conversation today Egbert said that he was aided in his escape, after killing Deputy Sheriff West and Saxton, by Sid Kurtz. This is information which the Sheriff of Harney County has much desired but has been unable to secure. Egbert secured Kurtz' horse with which to make his escape.

There has been doubt whether Kurtz knew that a crime had been committed when he let Egbert have the horse. Egbert said today that when Kurtz arrived at the place he saw the bodies of West and Saxton, and they talked of the killing. Egbert says Kurtz gave him his horse and what money he had with him, to help him out of the country.

J. H. Neal was in from his ranches this week.

Mrs W. W. Johnson is reported on the sick list.

Mrs A. Tupker has been suffering from lumbago this week.

Meals served day and night at the lunch counter in rear of "Windsor Bar."

Mrs. A. W. Howser was down from her home near Harney this week visiting her daughter Mrs J. E. Loggan.

To whom it may concern: Please take care of your dogs and keep them out of my chicken yard.

CHRIS LACKMAN.

The Ladies Auxiliary will serve lunch Friday evening at the hall on the occasion of the public dance for the benefit of fire department. The proceeds will be turned over to the department. This is certainly commendable and should be appreciated by all.
