However, The Times-Herald has it from good authority that one and possibly more wooden business houses will be removed and stone and brick take their place this season. That's the proper thing.

The recent wool sales at Shani ko has again shown that place to be the banner town for wool men. On an average the wool sold at Shaniko was more than 2 cents higher per pound than any other place in Eastern Oregon. The sheepmen of this county have received very flattering prices so far compared with former years, yet it does not compare with the Shaniko prices. We are told by men who know that our wool is just as good a class of stuff as any disposed of at Shaniko.

Now that election is over The Times-Herald would suggest that we do not fight it all over again, but turn our attention to future work for the interests of Harney county. A majority of the voters have expressed themselves as to their choice and while there are none of us whooly satisfied with the result, we must take it just the same. Harney county has a fine set of officers to look after the new big irrigating ditch in Jackvarious offices for the next two years' regardless of their political belief, so the people need have no misgivings.

The Times-Herald is thankful that the strife and battle of election is over. It has nothing to re- frost were, as such reports usually gret for the part it took in the are, greatly exaggerated.
